Kennedy Thwarts Wallace

House Unit Approves Tax Slash

Government Had To Raise Troop Ante

Wallace's Gambit Forces Alabama Strategy Revision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace's surprise gambit mustering about 250 Alabama National Guardsmen to block school integration forced the Pentagon to raise sharply the federal troop callup ante.

Informed sources said Tuesday the Kennedy administration's original hope was to keep the application of federal power in the newest Alabama crisis at the lowest possible level.

The original strategy drafted after long discussions between Justice Department and Army officials Monday called for use by the federal government of some 350 Alabama Guardsmen already on active duty near the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa.

Past Experience

These 350 men were all that remained in federal service from the callup of 17,000 Alabama Army and Air Guardsmen three months ago when Wallace sought to block admission of Negroes to the university.

About one-third of them have been present at any one time near the campus, while the rest of the federalized Guardsmen have been allowed to follow their normal civilian lives subject to recall on four hours notice.

Based on the experience with Wallace at the university last June, officials believed the presentation of token, symbolic federal power would be enough to cause the governor to give way after making the point that he had been forced to do so by the "central government" as he calls it.

At that time, Wallace stood away from the doorway of the university when asked to do so by an Alabama National Guard general backed by a small force of federalized Guardsmen.

Strategy Revamped

The administration's intention this time was to deploy about one-third of the 350 Guardsmen still on duty at Tuscaloosa to each of the cities where Wallace had forbidden admission of Negro children to public schools — Birmingham, Mobile and Tuskegee. None has been stationed at a school, however.

If that didn't work, the government was prepared to call up the full Alabama Guard—and, if necessary, to bring on regular Army troops.

But in the middle of the night, Wallace veered off in a direction that had not been anticipated.

The governor ordered some 250 Guardsmen in seven units to report for state duty—to bar school integration ordered by the federal courts.

That forced a swift revamping of administration strategy. It was decided to take the whole state Guard out of Wallace's control.

Married Men Draft Exempt

Executive Order Defers 340,000 Young Husbands

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy stopped the drafting of childless married men Tuesday. About 340,000 young men were freed of draft status immediately.

Married men with children have not been inducted into the military services since 1956, Selective Service officials said.

An order signed by Kennedy stipulates that married men may not be drafted while there are single men available between the ages of 19 and 26. But those who claim exemption as husbands must "have a wife with whom they maintain bona fide family relationship in their homes."

This will mean, among other things, that more single men younger than the present 23-year average will be tapped, the White House said.

Effective At Once

The President's order was effective immediately.

Selective Service authorities said state draft officials had been told to release married men due to be inducted Tuesday.

A service spokesman told a reporter the pool of single men classified 1A, and thus eligible to be drafted, is entirely adequate for foreseeable needs.

For some years now, draft quotas have been low. Through this month Selective Service will have summoned only 72,000 men during 1963. All are ticketed for the Army. The other services have not resorted to the draft for some time.

National draft headquarters said there are 1.7 million men in the 19-26 age bracket and classified 1A. This pool is expected to grow.

About Half Fail Exams

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service chief, told reporters after a conference with Kennedy that about one out of every five men in the 1A group is married and has no children.

Hershey's aide said surveys indicate about 340,000 fall into this childless married group.

It was noted that about half the inductees failed to pass preinduction physical or mental examinations.

But even at this high rate of rejection, officials said, the pool of available men is big enough to fill anticipated needs.

If there were a national emergency requiring a sharp boost in draft quotas, they said, married men then might be vulnerable.

JFK Prods For Prompt Enactment

Kennedy Describes Bill As Insurance Against Recession

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's $11-billion tax cut bill was approved by the House Ways and Means Committee on Tuesday, completing the first leg of a perilous journey in Congress.

Kennedy urged the legislators, many of whom doubt the bill can be enacted into law this year, not to tempt fate by delaying the measure, which he described as anti-recession insurance.

Speaking to a national conference of the Business Committee for Tax Reduction in 1963, Kennedy said the present period of good business has run about as long as the average for recent years.

Business Incentive

Without predicting a recession, he said, "I do know that the prompt enactment of this bill, making certain both immediate and prospective tax reductions, will improve business conditions" and "make the most of the anti-recession thrust."

The administration counts heavily on pumping more spendable income quickly into the economy by reducing income tax withholdings on Jan. 1. This can be done only if House and Senate agree on a tax cut bill before that date. If they let this year go by without acting, the Treasury has said no bigger pay envelopes can be expected before April at the earliest.

Treasury estimates indicate most wage-earning, tax-paying families might ultimately get some $2 to $4 a week more take-home pay from the tax reduction. Under administration plans, two-thirds of the cut would go into effect Jan. 1, 1964, the rest a year later.

Motion Defeated

Before approving it, the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee defeated 12-11, with two members voting present, a Republican move to make the second stage of the tax cut depend on control of expenditures.

The 1965 cut would not go into effect, this motion provided, if government operations for the year ending next June 30 resulted in more than an $8-billion deficit, or if the President proposed in his next budget spending more than this year's total of about $98 billion.

Under such circumstances, Kennedy said, businessmen would regard the promise of a second-stage cut as no promise at all and so would be likely to go slow on expansion.

Guardsmen Federalized By President

20 Negro Children Enter White Schools In Three Ala. Cities

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Twenty Negro children entered white schools in three Alabama cities Tuesday in a historic move that came only after another showdown between President Kennedy and Gov. George C. Wallace.

Kennedy put the 17,000 Alabama National Guardsmen into federal service, thereby removing them from the control of Wallace, who had ordered some units on active duty a few hours earlier.

And then the 20 Negroes came into the schools, with no agents of Wallace to stop them. Federal court orders had kept state troopers away and Kennedy's orders had kept Guardsmen from replacing troopers at the schools.

The Negro pupils quickly ran into a variety of receptions.

Hundreds of pupils stayed away from classes at West End High School in Birmingham to gather outside and jeer two Negro girls who entered the school. "Niggers, go home," they shouted.

Police Force Crowds Back

Adult spectators gathered. Scuffles broke out. Confederate flags flew. Hooting and jeering continued. Finally reinforced police moved the crowd back two blocks, punching with nightstick butts.

Nine white men were arrested at West End, most of them for refusing to move when police told them to get back. One of those taken to jail was identified as Barnie M. Carmack Jr., who listed himself as a member of the militant pro-segregation National States Rights party.

At Tuskegee, a city where Negroes far outnumber the whites, 13 Negroes entered school with white pupils without incident.

The reception was orderly—but not necessarily friendly—at Mobile and at two other Birmingham schools, Ramsay High and Graymont Elementary. Three arrests were made by stern Mobile police.

And four Negro pupils went to classes with white children at Huntsville for the second straight day.

Desegregation spread into Birmingham, Mobile and Tuskegee after a week of confusion and legal maneuvering. There has even bloodshed and death in Birmingham.

It all came to a climax Tuesday morning.

Wallace Withdraws Troopers

Before dawn, Wallace had ordered his state troopers to return to their home stations. Their commander, Col. Albert J. Lingo, had been served with a restraining order signed by the five U.S. District Court judges in Alabama ordering Wallace and all his agents to stop interfering with court-ordered school integration.

Instead, Wallace called up state Guardsmen to replace troopers at doors of the schools to be integrated.

Meantime, he himself successfully avoided being served with the restraining order. He had troopers and Guardsmen chase three marshals away from the Capitol steps after 1 a.m., so that he could leave the building.

Dawn came with Guardsmen rolling to their stations.

Then came the word from Washington. Kennedy had issued a proclamation ordering Wallace to cease and desist from obstructing

Show Of Force Wilts Saigon's Student Revolt

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Saigon student campaign against President Ngo Dinh Diem's administration faltered Tuesday under a show of military force at high schools of the capital.

Troops occupied some schools before dawn and ringed others, quietly blocking plans for the biggest in a series of antigovernment demonstrations that Saigon University students launched Aug. 25.

So far as newsmen could see there were no arrests.

But the young rebels slacked off quickly after some preliminary jeering and desk banging. More than 1,000 teen-agers had been rounded up during outbreaks Saturday and Monday.

The government, which contends Communists have infiltrated both student ranks and the Buddhists opposing Diem, presented two Vietnamese high school girls in support of that theory.

The girls—Hoang Thi Kim Ngan, 16, and Giang Thi Hong, 17—told a news conference at the government information office they have been part of a Communist Viet Cong network operating in the Saigon school system.

President Kennedy's administration, committed to a policy of patience in South Viet Nam, summoned two high American officials from Saigon for urgent consultations in Washington.

They are John Macklin, director of the U.S. Information Agency here, and Rufus Phillips, director of the rural affairs section of the U.S. aid mission.

Quints' Survival Chances Mount

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) —Nurses carefully fed nourishment to the Prieto quintuplet boys Tuesday to bolster their well-regarded chances of survival. Each gram was considered important.

The babies' weights ranged from 3 pounds, 1.4 ounces to 4 pounds, 3 ounces at birth Saturday, but all lost some weight because they could not be fed in their first 24 hours in incubators.

"The smallest one, Otto, worries us the most but he has already improved," reported Dr. Reguloa Panchano Anez, chief of pediatrics at Maracaibo's University Hospital and a member of the six-man medical team supervising the quintuplets' care.

Doctors said the quintuplets will remain in incubators until they each weigh about 4.5 pounds. Robinson, the first-born, and Mario, the last, were already at about 4 pounds.

Prosecutor's Clock Stolen

BALTIMORE (AP) — On Monday, State's Atty. William J. O'Donnell of Baltimore reminded members of his staff that courts are now in full swing. Be on time for work, he urged.

When he reported to the office Tuesday, the prosecutor discovered that an electric clock was missing from his desk. A practical joke, he thought.

It wasn't. A daring thief had made off with the clock after telling a watchman he had a package of magazines to deliver to the state's attorney's office. O'Donnell said the office door probably was ajar because the rooms were being cleaned at the time of the 7 a.m. robbery.

Pastore Makes Fervent Pact Ratification Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., told the Senate Tuesday that if opponents of the limited nuclear test ban pact "have the votes to destroy this treaty, then God help the United States."

Pastore, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, declared:

"If anyone in this room thinks that John F. Kennedy is selling out to the enemy then he should vote against this treaty."

Pastore took sharp issue with Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, breaking the somewhat leisurely pace of the second day of debate on ratification of the pact.

Miller replied that partisan politics are not involved in the debate.

The drive toward a vote on ratification, possibly next week, was slowed a bit by a roadblock — seemingly not a serious one — thrown up by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, an opponent of the treaty.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Dirksen had asked unanimous consent that the treaty be considered as having passed the various parliamentary stages to bring up the resolution of ratification. This would bar offering amendments to the treaty itself but would permit reservations to be offered to the resolution of ratification.

Russell objected that too many senators were absent and although he had no reservations to offer he wanted other senators to hear the motion. Mansfield agreed to renew the request Wednesday.

Brush Blazes Flare In Calif.

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif., (UPI) — Two major brush fires crackled through the tinder dry Santa Monica mountains in 100-degree heat Tuesday, burning at least three homes before firemen could contain them.

It was the hottest day of the year in the Los Angeles area, and veteran firefighters said only the absence of high winds prevented disasters comparable to the 1959 Laurel Canyon blaze and the 1961 Bel Air-Brentwood conflagration.

At least one other fire broke out west of the two major fires, and fire units hustled from one hot spot to another to battle each outbreak in extremely hazardous conditions.

The most destructive burn was a 60-acre fire east of Laurel Canyon Boulevard on the San Fernando Valley side of the mountains, with three homes reported burned or destroyed. A dozen others were evacuated. One $50,000 home, that of Tom De Paolo, was virtually destroyed, witnesses said.

The second fire two miles to the west near Mulholland and Beverly Glen was contained within 90 minutes.

New Tunnel Soon

CUNEO, Italy (UPI)—French and Italian delegations have announced that a new tunnel—possibly the world's longest underground roadway—will be ready for traffic by next Easter.

The two delegations met in the tunnel, which will connect Cuneo with Nice, France, through Ciriegia Hill. It was bored through in March, 1962, and currently is being prepared for traffic.

Rusk Forecasts 'Grave' Results If Pact Rejected

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Tuesday rejection of the limited nuclear test ban treaty would have "extremely grave" consequences upon the U.S. world position and prospects for peace.

Rusk also outlined nine areas in which the United States is prepared to seek understandings with the Soviet Union, including disarmament.

Rusk spoke in remarks prepared for the American Legion Convention while the U.S. Senate continued debate on whether to ratify the pact, negotiated by the United States, Britain and Soviet Union.

I bans all except underground atomic tests.

The U.S. foreign affairs chief voiced confidence America's overall superiority in nuclear weapons could deter a Russian attack.

A U.S. turndown, he said, would add weight to Red China's contention that peaceful coexistence with the West is impossible.

This would cost America the confidence of many nations, Rusk said, would poison the atmosphere with more nuclear tests, intensify the arms race, increase tension and enhance prospects of war.

Rusk expressed hope it will be possible to reach agreements with the Soviets providing for:

—Safeguards against war by accident, miscalculation or surprise attack.

—A slowdown of arms production and reductions in arms levels, accompanied by inspection.

—Easing the crisis potential of Berlin and other cold war friction points.

—Strengthening the peacemaking power of the United Nations.

—A freer flow of both information and peoples between the Soviet Union, and the Eastern European countries generally, and the United States.

— Expansion of existing exchange agreements.

Crop Production May Equal Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said in an early harvest report Tuesday that crop production appears to be headed toward a level equaling the record set in 1960 and matched in 1962.

It said August weather brought increases to most major crops and pushed corn, soybeans and some other crops to record production levels.

The corn crop was put at a record high level despite the fact that farmers held a considerable part of their corn land out of production under a government payment program.

35 Persons Hurt In Train Wreck

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) — The crash of a New York Central Railroad passenger train Tuesday night into a halted work train near here hurled five cars and the two-unit diesel locomotive off the rails.

Thirty-five persons were reported injured, none seriously.

A spokesman at Columbia County Hospital said all but five of 24 persons brought there were released after treatment. A railroad spokesman said 11 other persons were treated at the scene.

Three passenger cars, a diner and a baggage car were knocked from the track. Three hundred yards of track were ripped up and twisted a mile south of this Hudson River community. None of the cars tipped over.

Body Of Missing Student Found

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A body tentatively identified as that of Hickman Price III was recovered Tuesday from a moat at the south tower of the Golden Gate Bridge. It had been in the water about a week.

A week-long search had begun Sept. 3 when the expensive sports car of the 20-year-old Stanford student was abandoned in the bridge parking lot. The Coast Guard recovered the body.

Young Price was the son of Hickman Price Jr., former assistant secretary of commerce and presently a high official in the Democratic party, and Mrs. Margaret Price, Democratic national committee vice chairman. The mother's home is Washington, D.C.

Six Companies To Participate In Jet Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three airplane companies and three engine manufacturing firms will submit designs for the proposed supersonic transport, the Federal Aviation Agency announced Tuesday.

The announcement said deadline for submission of proposals for developing the transport — with substantial federal financial aid—is Jan. 15, 1946.

The plane manufacturers which FAA said had signified an intent to take part in the program are the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Lockheed Aircraft Corp. of Burbank, Calif., and North American Aviation of Palmdale, Calif.

The engine companies are Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Division of United Aircraft Corp., East Hartford, Conn.; the Flight Propulsion Division of General Electric Co., Cincinnati, and Curtiss-Wright Co., Woodridge, N.J.

In announcing that the United States would enter the race to develop a supersonic jet air transport, President Kennedy earlier this year recommended that the federal government pay 75 per cent of the estimated $1-billion development cost, up to a maximum of $750 million. The manufacturers later would repay the government on a royalty basis.

Border Gunfire

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Israel charged Tuesday that Syrian heavy machinegun positions fired on Israel at Khorazin, north of the Sea of Galilee early Monday.

An army spokesman said there were no casualties.

Machinists Threaten To Strike Seven Airlines

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A United Air Lines spokesman said Tuesday night the company understood that the International Association of Machinists (IAM) had set a strike date of Oct. 10 for walkouts against United, Trans World, Eastern, National, Northwest, Continental and Braniff Airlines.

The spokesman, who declined to be identified, made the statement shortly after the president of District 141 of the IAM, representing 13,000 United employes, had confirmed the IAM would strike against United on Oct. 10.

J. L. Reeves, president of District 141, said notices announcing the strike were going up all around United's 38-station system.

Asked if the Oct. 10 date could be a possible one for a general industrywide walkout, Reeves said, "It's possible."

The United spokesman said it was his understanding that all major carriers still negotiating with the IAM would be affected by the walkout, if one comes. He said District 141 represents all United employes and a strike would affect all of them.

Contract talks covering 13,000 United employes throughout the carrier's system have been going on since May 1962. Last Friday it was announced in Washington by federal mediators that a deadlock had been reached. Reeves said Tuesday talks had been broken off completely.

Reeves said wages are the biggest issue but that fringe benefits such as group insurance, health and welfare and severance pay also had not been settled.

House Passes Mental Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $238-million federal aid program to help combat mental illness and retardation won House approval Tuesday.

The House passed the authorization measure by a roll-call vote of 335-18.

The bill would authorize use of federal funds to pay part of the cost of building research centers, facilities for care of the mentally retarded, construction of community mental health centers, and some other aids.

But the measure, originally asked by President Kennedy, would provide $612 million less than the $850 million the Senate had voted.

The Senate voted to authorize a five-year program of construction grants; the House bill is for three years. The Senate version also included $427 million in grants for initial staffing of community mental health centers, a relatively new concept in treatment of the mentally ill. This was cut from the House bill.

The House and Senate now will have to work out a compromise if the bill is to become law.

Prosecutor's Clock Stolen

BALTIMORE (AP) — On Monday, State's Atty. William J. O'Donnell of Baltimore reminded members of his staff that courts are now in full swing. Be on time for work, he urged.

When he reported to the office Tuesday, the prosecutor discovered that an electric clock was missing from his desk. A practical joke, he thought.

It wasn't. A daring thief had made off with the clock after telling a watchman he had a package of magazines to deliver to the state's attorney's office. O'Donnell said the office door probably was ajar because the rooms were being cleaned at the time of the 7 a.m. robbery.

Brush Blazes Flare In Calif.

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Two major brush fires crackled through the tinder dry Santa Monica mountains in 100-degree heat Tuesday, burning at least three homes before firemen could contain them.

It was the hottest day of the year in the Los Angeles area, and veteran firefighters said only the absence of high winds prevented disasters comparable to the 1959 Laurel Canyon blaze and the 1961 Bel Air-Brentwood conflagration.

At least one other fire broke out west of the two major fires, and fire units hustled from one hot spot to another to battle each outbreak in extremely hazardous conditions.

The most destructive burn was a 60-acre fire east of Laurel Canyon Boulevard on the San Fernando Valley side of the mountains, with three homes reported burned or destroyed. A dozen others were evacuated. One $50,000 home, that of Tom De Paolo, was virtually destroyed, witnesses said.

The second fire two miles to the west near Mulholland and Beverly Glen was contained within 90 minutes.

New Tunnel Soon

CUNEO, Italy (UPI)—French and Italian delegations have announced that a new tunnel—possibly the world's longest underground roadway—will be ready for traffic by next Easter.

The two delegations met in the tunnel, which will connect Cuneo with Nice, France, through Ciriegia Hill. It was bored through in March, 1962, and currently is being prepared for traffic.

Rusk Forecasts 'Grave' Results If Pact Rejected

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Tuesday rejection of the limited nuclear test ban treaty would have "extremely grave" consequences upon the U.S. world position and prospects for peace.

Rusk also outlined nine areas in which the United States is prepared to seek understandings with the Soviet Union, including disarmament.

Rusk spoke in remarks prepared for the American Legion Convention while the U.S. Senate continued debate on whether to ratify the pact, negotiated by the United States, Britain and Soviet Union.

I bans all except underground atomic tests.

The U.S. foreign affairs chief voiced confidence America's overall superiority in nuclear weapons could deter a Russian attack.

A U.S. turndown, he said, would add weight to Red China's contention that peaceful coexistence with the West is impossible.

This would cost America the confidence of many nations, Rusk said, would poison the atmosphere with more nuclear tests, intensify the arms race, increase tension and enhance prospects of war.

Rusk expressed hope it will be possible to reach agreements with the Soviets providing for:

—Safeguards against war by accident, miscalculation or surprise attack.

—A slowdown of arms production and reductions in arms levels, accompanied by inspection.

—Easing the crisis potential of Berlin and other cold war friction points.

—Strengthening the peacemaking power of the United Nations.

—A freer flow of both information and peoples between the Soviet Union, and the Eastern European countries generally, and the United States.

— Expansion of existing exchange agreements.

Crop Production May Equal Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said in an early harvest report Tuesday that crop production appears to be headed toward a level equaling the record set in 1960 and matched in 1962.

It said August weather brought increases to most major crops and pushed corn, soybeans and some other crops to record production levels.

The corn crop was put at a record high level despite the fact that farmers held a considerable part of their corn land out of production under a government payment program.

35 Persons Hurt In Train Wreck

HUDSON, N.Y. (AP) — The crash of a New York Central Railroad passenger train Tuesday night into a halted work train near here hurled five cars and the two-unit diesel locomotive off the rails.

Thirty-five persons were reported injured, none seriously.

A spokesman at Columbia County Hospital said all but five of 24 persons brought there were released after treatment. A railroad spokesman said 11 other persons were treated at the scene.

Three passenger cars, a diner and a baggage car were knocked from the track. Three hundred yards of track were ripped up and twisted a mile south of this Hudson River community. None of the cars tipped over.

Body Of Missing Student Found

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A body tentatively identified as that of Hickman Price III was recovered Tuesday from a moat at the south tower of the Golden Gate Bridge. It had been in the water about a week.

A week-long search had begun Sept. 3 when the expensive sports car of the 20-year-old Stanford student was abandoned in the bridge parking lot. The Coast Guard recovered the body.

Young Price was the son of Hickman Price Jr., former assistant secretary of commerce and presently a high official in the Democratic party, and Mrs. Margaret Price, Democratic national committee vice chairman. The mother's home is Washington, D.C.

Six Companies To Participate In Jet Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three airplane companies and three engine manufacturing firms will submit designs for the proposed supersonic transport, the Federal Aviation Agency announced Tuesday.

The announcement said deadline for submission of proposals for developing the transport — with substantial federal financial aid—is Jan. 15, 1946.

The plane manufacturers which FAA said had signified an intent to take part in the program are the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Lockheed Aircraft Corp. of Burbank, Calif., and North American Aviation of Palmdale, Calif.

The engine companies are Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Division of United Aircraft Corp., East Hartford, Conn.; the Flight Propulsion Division of General Electric Co., Cincinnati, and Curtiss-Wright Co., Woodridge, N.J.

In announcing that the United States would enter the race to develop a supersonic jet air transport, President Kennedy earlier this year recommended that the federal government pay 75 per cent of the estimated $1-billion development cost, up to a maximum of $750 million. The manufacturers later would repay the government on a royalty basis.

Border Gunfire

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Israel charged Tuesday that Syrian heavy machinegun positions fired on Israel at Khorazin, north of the Sea of Galilee early Monday.

An army spokesman said there were no casualties.

Quints' Survival Chances Mount

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) —Nurses carefully fed nourishment to the Prieto quintuplet boys Tuesday to bolster their well-regarded chances of survival. Each gram was considered important.

The babies' weights ranged from 3 pounds, 1.4 ounces to 4 pounds, 3 ounces at birth Saturday, but all lost some weight because they could not be fed in their first 24 hours in incubators.

"The smallest one, Otto, worries us the most but he has already improved," reported Dr. Reguloa Panchano Anez, chief of pediatrics at Maracaibo's University Hospital and a member of the six-man medical team supervising the quintuplets' care.

Doctors said the quintuplets will remain in incubators until they each weigh about 4.5 pounds. Robinson, the first-born, and Mario, the last, were already at about 4 pounds.

Pastore Makes Fervent Pact Ratification Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., told the Senate Tuesday that if opponents of the limited nuclear test ban pact "have the votes to destroy this treaty, then God help the United States."

Pastore, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, declared:

"If anyone in this room thinks that John F. Kennedy is selling out to the enemy then he should vote against this treaty."

Pastore took sharp issue with Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, breaking the somewhat leisurely pace of the second day of debate on ratification of the pact.

Miller replied that partisan politics are not involved in the debate.

The drive toward a vote on ratification, possibly next week, was slowed a bit by a roadblock — seemingly not a serious one — thrown up by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, an opponent of the treaty.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Dirksen had asked unanimous consent that the treaty be considered as having passed the various parliamentary stages to bring up the resolution of ratification. This would bar offering amendments to the treaty itself but would permit reservations to be offered to the resolution of ratification.

Russell objected that too many senators were absent and although he had no reservations to offer he wanted other senators to hear the motion. Mansfield agreed to renew the request Wednesday.

Machinists Threaten To Strike Seven Airlines

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A United Air Lines spokesman said Tuesday night the company understood that the International Association of Machinists (IAM) had set a strike date of Oct. 10 for walkouts against United, Trans World, Eastern, National, Northwest, Continental and Braniff Airlines.

The spokesman, who declined to be identified, made the statement shortly after the president of District 141 of the IAM, representing 13,000 United employes, had confirmed the IAM would strike against United on Oct. 10.

J. L. Reeves, president of District 141, said notices announcing the strike were going up all around United's 38-station system.

Asked if the Oct. 10 date could be a possible one for a general industrywide walkout, Reeves said, "It's possible."

The United spokesman said it was his understanding that all major carriers still negotiating with the IAM would be affected by the walkout, if one comes. He said District 141 represents all United employes and a strike would affect all of them.

Contract talks covering 13,000 United employes throughout the carrier's system have been going on since May 1962. Last Friday it was announced in Washington by federal mediators that a deadlock had been reached. Reeves said Tuesday talks had been broken off completely.

Reeves said wages are the biggest issue but that fringe benefits such as group insurance, health and welfare and severance pay also had not been settled.

House Passes Mental Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $238-million federal aid program to help combat mental illness and retardation won House approval Tuesday.

The House passed the authorization measure by a roll-call vote of 335-18.

The bill would authorize use of federal funds to pay part of the cost of building research centers, facilities for care of the mentally retarded, construction of community mental health centers, and some other aids.

But the measure, originally asked by President Kennedy, would provide $612 million less than the $850 million the Senate had voted.

The Senate voted to authorize a five-year program of construction grants; the House bill is for three years. The Senate version also included $427 million in grants for initial staffing of community mental health centers, a relatively new concept in treatment of the mentally ill. This was cut from the House bill.

The House and Senate now will have to work out a compromise if the bill is to become law.

Cambridge Amendment Approval Seen By Tawes

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gov. Tawes predicted Tuesday that the equal public accommodations amendment to the Cambridge town charter would pass next month by a narrow margin.

"From the reports I have from persons in favor of the charter," the governor said at a news conference, "they are more hopeful for success than they were two or three weeks ago.

"I hope it will pass, and I believe it will — although it will be very close, a narrow fight."

Tawes said he had no comment on a request by the Cambridge Businessmen's and Citizens' Association that National Guard troops be removed from the racially troubled Eastern Shore town.

"I have had no communication with that committee," he said.

The governor said state officials have discussed what action "we would be called upon to take in event the amendment lost, but we don't want to talk about that now."

On another Cambridge subject, Tawes said the town was not excluded as a possible site for a University of Maryland branch because of the racial strife.

An estate on the Choptank River, just outside Cambridge, has been offered as an Eastern Shore site for a university branch, along with three locations in Talbot County. Tawes said university officials will inspect all of them.

Tawes hinted that the proposed Baltimore County site for another university branch, authorized by the legislature, could yet be switched elsewhere.

"I have received two letters from Mayor (Theodore) McKeldin, suggesting a Baltimore City campus and also that the advisory council take a look at the matter," Tawes said.

"Both suggestions merit consideration," he said. "The issue is not closed by any means. A lot of discussion will take place before that issue is a closed subject."

On other questions, the governor:

1. Said he had discussed the possible candidacy of Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein for U.S. Senate, but did not urge him to run.

"I told him it would have to be his decision," Tawes said.

2. Declared it was too early to do anything, except speculate, about the possibility of an increase in state taxes next year.

3. Said he would "naturally resist" any proposal to extend the phase out period for slot machines in the four Southern Maryland counties.

4. Said he had no special plans to welcome Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, other than extending the usual greetings, when the southern governor arrives in Maryland later this month for a panel discussion.

Assateague Bill Given Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bills to preserve Assateague Island in Maryland and Virginia as a federal seashore area were introduced Tuesday in the Senate and House.

The bill was sponsored in the Senate by Sens. J. Glenn Beall and Daniel B. Brewster and in the House by Rep. Clarence D. Long, all of Maryland.

A separate bill is scheduled to be sent to Congress Wednesday by the Interior Department. It differs somewhat from the measures introduced Tuesday but a compromise is expected to be worked out.

The Maryland congressional delegation indicated bipartisan support for an Assateague bill. Beall is a Republican and Brewster and Long are Democrats. Other members of the Maryland House delegation are expected to back the measures.

Beall and Brewster said their bill represents substantial agreement between Maryland and the federal government on development of the Atlantic Ocean island just off the Maryland and Virginia shore.

The Maryland Board of Public Works cleared plans Monday for federal development of the island.

justice by barring desegregation of schools.

The President then ordered Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to put the Alabama National Guard into federal service.

A few Guardsmen had showed up at a couple of schools, but they quickly moved away. As federal troops, they now were no longer agents of Wallace.

School time arrived, and the Negro pupils went in. So did white pupils, in diminished numbers at Birmingham and Tuskegee. Attendance at Mobile was near normal.

Later, Wallace issued a public statement accusing the President of laying the groundwork for jailing him by federalizing the National Guard.

He asked: "Is this being done because it has been announced that I might participate in some of the presidential primaries?

"When we get around to jailing political opponents, we will have taken another long step toward a military dictatorship."

Wallace said, "The Kennedys have now taken personal command of their Alabama garrison."

He said those state troopers he had sent to the schools due to be integrated had been dispatched only to keep the peace.

Diem's Brother Fails To Meet With Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)— A private audience Pope Paul VI had been scheduled to give to the archbishop brother of President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam was called off Tuesday.

The archbishop, the Most. Rev. Pierre Martin Ngo Dinh Thuc, failed to appear for the audience at the summer papal residence of Castel Gandolfo, near Rome, and Vatican sources said the meeting was canceled.

Russia, China Near Breaking Point In Feud

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist China and the Soviet Union are moving away from their strictly theoretical arguments of a year ago into an increasingly harsh clash of national interests along their common border in central Asia, U.S. officials said Tuesday.

This appraisal was made after the latest incident between Peking and Moscow involving the expulsion of a group of Chinese who were caught trying to transport anti-Soviet publications into Russia.

The publications were found during a routine customs examination on the Soviet-Mongolian border.

Whether the incident would push Peking into an open split with Moscow remained to be seen. Last week, Chinese Red authorities said that the brink already had been reached.

Whatever the consequences of the latest incident, American analysts of Chinese-Soviet affairs are now calling the central Asian frontier between the two Communist nations an area of uncertainty.

In this connection, Soviet diplomatic sources are letting it be known that Moscow is preparing a formal rejection of Chinese charges that tens of thousands of Chinese Moslems were lured or forced into Soviet territory in 1962.

Informed sources said the Soviet Union will admit that an estimated 50,000 to 70,000 Chinese fled across the borders of remote Sinkiang Province last year at about the same time 30,000 to 40,000 other Chinese took part in a mass exodus to Hong Kong.

But the informants said the Soviets will contend that Moscow offered to send the refugees back to Sinkiang only to have Peking reject the offer.

Mushroom Poisoning Fatal To Boy; 3 Ill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 10-year-old son of a French chef is dead and three other members of the family are hospitalized after eating what they thought were mushrooms.

The family had picked the mushrooms, or toadstools, in the city's Rock Creek Park.

The boy, Bernard Batisse, died Saturday in Suburban Hospital in nearby Bethesda, Md., six days after the family was stricken.

Reported in satisfactory condition in the same hospital are the father, Eugene Batisse, 53, a native of France; his wife, Martha, 51, and a daughter, Frances, 13.

Prof Gets 3-Month Term

BALTIMORE (AP) — James C. Clees, an assistant English professor at American University, was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction Tuesday for assaulting a policeman.

Gerald Siegel, his lawyer, said Clees "obviously was so drunk to be totally unaware" of what he was doing last July 28.

"I don't remember the details of it at all," the 42-year-old professor testified before Judge Anselm Sodaro.

Patrolman Robert T. Kirby testified he tried to help Clees when he parked on the headquarters lot for impounding cars. Kirby said he tried to talk Clees into going for coffee instead of an alcoholic drink.

Kirby said when he reached for the car keys, Clees drove off and he was dragged 45 feet. Kirby said he still is being treated for back injuries.

Montgomery's Accommodation Law Is Upheld

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — The Republican - controlled Montgomery County Council rejected Tuesday a motion to repeal the county's 19-months old public accommodations law.

But the vote revealed a sharp split among the five members of the GOP majority and left their party position a question mark.

Republican members Thomas M. Wilson and John H. Hiser voted to repeal the law. Republicans Kathryn E. Diggs and Mary A. Hepburn voted against the motion as did the two Democratic members, Glover K. Walker and Jerry P. Williams.

The fifth Republican, Council President John A. Floyd, abstrained. He said he was against repealing the measure outright but was opposed to the criminal penalties it contained.

A similar state law contains no criminal penalties, he noted. In Montgomery, the violators may be fined up to $1,000 and jailed for six months. No penalties have been imposed since the law was passed.

The vote came five months after more than 1,000 citizens turned out for a public hearing and expressed overwhelming disapproval of a motion by Hiser that the ordnance be junked.

Suit Challenges State Aid To Church Colleges

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A suit filed in circuit court charges that state aid to church -affiliated colleges violates both the United States and Maryland constitutions.

The suit, filed in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court Tuesday, challenges legislative acts which authorize state debts to provide financial assistance for building programs at four Maryland colleges. Under the four acts named, passed in 1962 and 1963, the schools must match the aid to be eligible to receive it.

Defendants are the colleges and the State Board of Public Works. The schools are College of Notre Dame of Maryland, Baltimore; Western Maryland College, Westminster; St. Joseph's College of the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, Emmitsburgh, and Hood College, Frederick.

Plaintiffs are listed as the Horace Mann League of the United States of America and 10 individuals. The league was described as being nonprofit and designed to strengthen the American public school system.

The suit contends that the legislative acts violate the United States Constitution "in that they constitute in each case a law respecting the establishment of religion and prohibiting the free exercise thereof, by the State of Maryland."

It is also charged that taxpayers are deprived of property without due process of law.

The complaint also says that the Maryland Constitution is violated by state aid to the schools in that:

1. It compels taxpayers to contribute to a place of worship and a ministry.

2. Tax money is used for a purpose which is not in support of the State of Maryland, any of its counties or the city of Baltimore, "namely a religious and therefore a non-public purpose."

Total of the aid involved is $2.5 million, the suit said.

The State Capitol of Texas has more than 400 rooms and 18 acres of space.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Get BRONITIN—available at all drug stores without prescription.

Prof Gets 3-Month Term

BALTIMORE (AP) — James C. Clees, an assistant English professor at American University, was sentenced to three months in the House of Correction Tuesday for assaulting a policeman.

Gerald Siegel, his lawyer, said Clees "obviously was so drunk to be totally unaware" of what he was doing last July 28.

"I don't remember the details of it at all," the 42-year-old professor testified before Judge Anselm Sodaro.

Patrolman Robert T. Kirby testified he tried to help Clees when he parked on the headquarters lot for impounding cars. Kirby said he tried to talk Clees into going for coffee instead of an alcoholic drink.

Kirby said when he reached for the car keys, Clees drove off and he was dragged 45 feet. Kirby said he still is being treated for back injuries.

Montgomery's Accommodation Law Is Upheld

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — The Republican - controlled Montgomery County Council rejected Tuesday a motion to repeal the county's 19-months old public accommodations law.

But the vote revealed a sharp split among the five members of the GOP majority and left their party position a question mark.

Republican members Thomas M. Wilson and John H. Hiser voted to repeal the law. Republicans Kathryn E. Diggs and Mary A. Hepburn voted against the motion as did the two Democratic members, Glover K. Walker and Jerry P. Williams.

The fifth Republican, Council President John A. Floyd, abstrained. He said he was against repealing the measure outright but was opposed to the criminal penalties it contained.

A similar state law contains no criminal penalties, he noted. In Montgomery, the violators may be fined up to $1,000 and jailed for six months. No penalties have been imposed since the law was passed.

The vote came five months after more than 1,000 citizens turned out for a public hearing and expressed overwhelming disapproval of a motion by Hiser that the ordnance be junked.

Saboteurs Blamed

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI)—Leaders of the opposition Socialist Falange (FSB) charged Tuesday that the plant that prints the party newspaper Antorcha was wrecked by pro-government saboteurs.

Suit Challenges State Aid To Church Colleges

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A suit filed in circuit court charges that state aid to church -affiliated colleges violates both the United States and Maryland constitutions.

The suit, filed in Anne Arundel County Circuit Court Tuesday, challenges legislative acts which authorize state debts to provide financial assistance for building programs at four Maryland colleges. Under the four acts named, passed in 1962 and 1963, the schools must match the aid to be eligible to receive it.

Defendants are the colleges and the State Board of Public Works. The schools are College of Notre Dame of Maryland, Baltimore; Western Maryland College, Westminster; St. Joseph's College of the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, Emmitsburgh, and Hood College, Frederick.

Plaintiffs are listed as the Horace Mann League of the United States of America and 10 individuals. The league was described as being nonprofit and designed to strengthen the American public school system.

The suit contends that the legislative acts violate the United States Constitution "in that they constitute in each case a law respecting the establishment of religion and prohibiting the free exercise thereof, by the State of Maryland."

It is also charged that taxpayers are deprived of property without due process of law.

The complaint also says that the Maryland Constitution is violated by state aid to the schools in that:

1. It compels taxpayers to contribute to a place of worship and a ministry.

2. Tax money is used for a purpose which is not in support of the State of Maryland, any of its counties or the city of Baltimore, "namely a religious and therefore a non-public purpose."

Total of the aid involved is $2.5 million, the suit said.

The State Capitol of Texas has more than 400 rooms and 18 acres of space.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special)—A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma—the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is: free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. Sufferers can now look forward to restful sleep.

Get BRONITIN—available at all drug stores without prescription.

Eleven 1963 Graduates From Cumberland Area To Enter Religious Life

Cumberland's three Catholic high schools are sending an unusually large number of 1963 graduates into the religious life, including a set of twins.

While there normally are several religious vocations each year, the 1963 classes are represented by 11 boys and girls who either have left, or will leave in the near future, for their preliminary studies in religious orders.

Five members of LaSalle High School's 46-member graduating class have announced intentions of becoming either priests or religious brothers.

Two of them, Edward Sheehy and Thomas Armbruster, already have received the habit of the Christian Brothers order, whose members comprise the faculty of LaSalle High.

Sheehy and Armbruster received their habits in recent ceremonies at the order's Ammendale (Md.) Normal Institute. Each an honor graduate, the former was valedictorian of this year's class and the recipient of six awards at graduation.

Sheehy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sheehy, now of Wilmington, Del., and Armbruster is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Armbruster, 1303 Michigan Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Armbruster have the unusual distinction of having another member of the family entering a religious order this year. She is Monica Armbruster, twin sister of Thomas, who has joined the Benedictine Sisters and is studying at Latrobe, Pa.

Frank DeLuca, son of Mrs. John Yeager, Frostburg, and Samuel DeLuca, Greensboro, N. C., left yesterday for Baltimore where he will start studying for the priesthood at St. Charles College. A regular on LaSalle's basketball team last year, DeLuca was awarded two honors at graduation.

William Gillum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. Gillum, LaVale, already has started his training at SS. Peter and Paul Monastery to become a member of the Capuchin Brothers, OFM, Cap.

The fifth member of the LSH class to indicate a desire for the religious life is Lawrence Fair, another honor graduate, who will leave later this month for studies at a Benedictine monastery.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Fair, Frostburg, he spent part of this summer at the monastery taking an advanced course in Latin. Although he will study at the Benedictine monastery, his family reports he has expressed a desire to become a Trappist priest.

Catholic Girls Central High has one aspirant for the religious life. She is Miss Yvonne Winner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verner J. Winner, 713 Glenmore Street, who is entering the order of the School Sisters of Notre Dame. Members of that order teach at Girls Central.

Ursuline Academy has sent five 1963 graduates to become nuns. Besides Miss Armbruster, they are Mary Rita Firlie, Regina Jolley and Mary Jane Michaels, all of whom have entered the Ursuline Order, and Martha Neely, who joined the order of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd.

The Ursuline order staffs the academy, SS. Peter and Paul School and St. Mary's School here.

Firm Exhibits In Chicago

Allegany Instrument Company, Division of Textron Electronics, Inc., is participating as an exhibitor at the 18th annual Instrument Society of America's Instrument - Automation Conference and Exhibit in Chicago through Thursday.

Traditionally, the ISA Exhibit serves as the international showcase of the Instrument and Control industry.

In keeping with the exhibition theme, "New Frontiers In Instrumentation," the Alinco display features the latest additions to its major product lines including pressure cells, load cells, amplifiers, null detectors, transducer indicators and signal conditioning systems. Live demonstrations designed to show the accuracy and reliability of Alinco instruments also are featured.

Representing the local company at the show are G. William Harrison, president; Walter M. Sherwood, marketing manager; and John D. Landers, advertising manager.

The colorful 10-foot display was designed by the company's Advertising Department and constructed by William Burkey, Bedford Road.

Keyser Firm Low Bidder

The Carl D. Stickley contracting firm of Keyser, has submitted a successful bid for the resurfacing of seven local streets.

The Mayor and Council accepted the Stickley bid of $44,608.50 at a special meeting which was called to act on the Memorial Hospital bond issue yesterday.

The seven streets are Seymour, Dilley, Riehl, Mary, East Elder, Race and Greene.

Council also authorized Comptroller Paul E. Rodecap to pay $932 to Hout Construction Company as final payment involved in construction of a 24 inch concrete storm sewer on Utah Avenue. The money is to be charged to "Special Projects."

The cat is by nature fastidious—therefore, requires little or no care or attention, beyond proper feeding and the providing of the necessary sanitary facilities.

ASSUME DUTIES—Mrs. John A. Jacobsen, seated, assumed her duties as president of Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women at the opening fall meeting Saturday at the Cumberland Country Club. Serving with her are Miss Kathryn Laughlin, treasurer; Mrs. J. M. Lutton, vice president; and Miss Nan Livingstone, corresponding secretary. Dr. Alice Manicur, dean at Frostburg State College, and member of the Frostburg AAUW, was guest speaker. She outlined the four study topics announced at the national convention in Denver. Mrs. Lutton announced the Cumberland Branch will study "Quality Education in Our Community," this year. Mrs. Leland Jones, Mrs. John Dearth Jr. and Mrs. Frederick Weimer were introduced as new members.

Mothers Club Discusses Christmas Dance Plans

A Christmas dance was discussed and a program presented at the first meeting of the season of the Mothers Club, which was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Eric Gibbs, Washington Street. The usual business was transacted and reports were given.

The Christmas dance will be held at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club. The social committee will select the date and be in charge of arrangements. It consists of Mrs. Richard Bruce, Mrs. E. R. Kellough Jr., and Mrs. Richard Kirsch.

Poison plants were the subject of the program by Mrs. Ronald Rosher. She warned that lily of the valley, jonquils and violets are poisonous if eaten by children. The speaker also used poisonous pokeberries, yew berries, hawthorn and different pines to make a bouquet.

The next meeting will be October 14 at the home of Mrs. Seldon Harris Jr., LaVale.

Others present were Mrs. Theos Angelus, Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Gorman Getty, Mrs. William Holbrook, Mrs. Charles Irby, Mrs. Kellough, Mrs. Edgar Kendall, Mrs. Kirsch, Mrs. C. A. List, Mrs. Frank Martin, Mrs. Robert Poling, Mrs. Leland Ransom, Mrs. Edward Solomon and Mrs. Albert Tosh.

Missionaries Will Speak

Mr. and Mrs. George Sturgen, returned missionaries from Ghana, will be the guest speakers at an open meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Matthew's United Church of Christ, Bowling Green, tonight. It will be at the church at 7:30.

Career missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. Sturgen are stationed at the Worawora Hospital, where he is hospital administrator. His duties include supervising laborers at the hospital, serving as bookkeeper and handling the other details of hospital administration.

A rummage sale will be held today from 9 a.m. until noon in the old Melvin Methodist Church, Reynolds Street, sponsored by the Jean Rowland Circle.

Society To Hold Supper

Plans for a supper and a fall bazaar were discussed at the meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Oldtown Church, conducted by Mrs. James Cook in the social hall. A ham and chicken supper will be held September 21 from 3 until 8 p.m. in the social hall. Everyone is welcome. The bazaar also will be held at the church.

Routine reports were given by Mrs. Leo Keyser and Mrs. Wayne Twigg. The group voted to sell paring knives for a project. It was agreed to send $25 to the supply work asking.

A devotional program entitled "Recruitment Concern of the Whole World and the Whole Church" was under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Twigg. There also was Scripture reading and prayer by the chairman and a closing prayer by Mrs. Evelyn Twigg.

A Day of Quiet, Prayer and Self-Denial will be observed at the next meeting October 1 at 7 p.m. Mrs. Ethel Schaidt and Mrs. Evelyn Twigg will be hostesses. Every member is asked to attend.

Concluding the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Marian Kinser and Mrs. Grace Crabtree. There were 13 members and a guest, Miss Susan Fishel attending.

BPW Club Program Theme To Be Presented Tuesday

The program theme, "Change, Today's Challenge," will be the topic for the monthly dinner meeting of the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club, which will resume activities after the summer recess. It will be held at 5:45 p. m. September 17 at Central YMCA. Miss Margaret King, first vice president and program chairman, will be in charge. She will speak briefly on the theme. Miss Nell Hawkins, scholarship chairman, is to stress "The Challenge of Change in Education." Miss Mary Robb, music teacher at Allegany High School, will demonstrate the musical challenge of today's changes.

Miss Rita Keller and Miss Janice White, the 1962 winners of the club's scholarships to Frostburg State College and Allegany Community College, will be honor guests.

Mrs. Frieda Massara will conduct the business session. The state board meeting and kickoff dinner for National Business Women's Week October 5; the motorcade October 6, and card party October 10 will be discussed. The club program, outlined by the board will be presented for approval.

Anniversary Party Thursday

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen Lodge 47 will celebrate its seventh anniversary at a dinner tomorrow. It will be held at Johnson's Restaurant, Route 28, beginning at 6 p. m.

Following the dinner, the regular business session will be held at 7:30 at the Dames of Malta Hall, Prospect Square. At which time the auxiliary will prepare for the state union meeting to be held at the YMCA in October.

Dinner reservations are to be made by calling Mrs. Mary Susan Ross, 729-1609, today.

CDA Court Card Party October 8

Announcements were made and a special election was held at the opening fall meeting of Court Cardinal Gibbons, Catholic Daughters of America, conducted by Mrs. Shirley Norris, following a covered dish supper Monday evening at St. Patrick's social center.

Committee reports included cards sent by Mrs. Margaret Miller; world missions, Mrs. Elizabeth McLean; and the bakeless bake sale, Mrs. Anna McCleary.

Mrs. Julia Newman, ways and means chairman, announced that there will be a card party October 8 in SS. Peter and Paul parish hall. Mrs. Norris reminded the group of the fall conference of the Catholic Daughters, to be held at the Cadoa, Baltimore, on October 26. The next meeting of the court will be October 7 at the center.

The court recited the rosary for Mrs. Leona Keating, lecturer, who died August 9. Because of her death and the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Miller, a special election was held by Mrs. Anna McCleary, district deputy, and Mrs. Norris. Miss Mary Doll was named lecturer and Mrs. McCleary, financial secretary.

Prizes of the evening were won by Mrs. Marian Van Scoy and Miss Doll. Approximately 50 members, husbands and friends of the court attended the supper. Mrs. Hazel Soethe and Mrs. May Norris were cochairmen of arrangements. They were assisted by Mrs. McLean, Mrs. McCleary, Mrs. Newman and Mrs. Mary Fabbri.

Algonquin Chapter, NSA Announces Committees

Standing committees were announced at the first dinner meeting of the season of Algonquin Chapter, National Secretaries Association, which was held Monday evening at Central YMCA. Routine reports were given and the auditing committee report was distributed.

It was decided to hold the October 7 dinner meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club. Miss Dorothy Lee Campbell, as chapter delegate to the 18th international convention, gave her report. The convention was held at the Denver Hilton Hotel, Denver, Colo., in July.

The 1963-1964 committees are ways and means, Joan Wright, chairman, Dorothy Campbell, Vivian Collins, Wanda Lee Hanks, Ann Hartung, Mary Frances Lewis, Virginia Muir, Henrietta Rice, Grace Scaletta, Ruth Shaw, May Richardson, Martha Rogan; publicity, Jean Burke, chairman, Virginia Hoffa and Shirley Lutman; bulletin, Mary Kathryn Reed, Rebecca Jones, cochairmen; Marianne Aaron, Charlotte Burns, Virginia Muir, Mary Jo Prendergast, Grace Scaletta, Ruth Shaw.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1 ♡	Double
2 ♡	2 ♠	Pass	4 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Deuce of ♡

The key to victory in today's hand was a simple matter of timing and, because the defenders were quick to seize the initiative, they emerged with the laurels on the deal.

West stretched his values to the utmost to eke out a third seat opening bid of one heart. North was too strong for a mere one spade overcall, so he made a take-out double. East's raise to two hearts was primarily a preëmptive effort; South was unwilling to be shut out of the auction and he competed with a free bid of two spades. North took any further pressure off of his partner by jumping to game.

West opened his fourth best heart and, when the dummy was spread, declarer saw that he was confronted with four prospective losers, two in clubs and one each in diamonds and hearts. His sole hope for eliminating one of these losers lay in the diamond suit [if West held the king of diamonds as appeared likely from his bid, a sluff could be established by leading toward the diamond queen].

In order to be successful, South realized that it was necessary to throw his opponents off of the track, for the initial advantage of timing was in their hands. The only immediate entry to his hand was the king of spades and, if he made his diamond play prematurely, the enemy would become alerted to the necessity for a club shift, and declarer would be unable to gain access to his hand in time to obtain the needed club discard.

At trick one, South played a low heart from dummy permitting East to win the trick with his queen. If the latter did not shift immediately to a club, declarer planned to enter his hand via a third round heart ruff, and lead a diamond toward the queen, forcing West to go up with the king.

Dummy's queen of diamonds would be cashed subsequently, the closed hand would be reentered via the king of spades, and the necessary club discard would be taken on the ace of diamonds.

East was fully aware of the delicate timing advantage possessed by his side, however, and at trick two he returned the five of clubs. West's ten forced the dummy's ace and, when South subsequently led a small diamond from his hand, West put up the king and the defenders quickly cashed out two club tricks to set the contract.

ASSUME DUTIES—Mrs. John A. Jacobsen, seated, assumed her duties as president of Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women at the opening fall meeting Saturday at the Cumberland Country Club. Serving with her are Miss Kathryn Laughlin, treasurer; Mrs. J. M. Lutton, vice president; and Miss Nan Livingstone, corresponding secretary. Dr. Alice Manicur, dean at Frostburg State College, and member of the Frostburg AAUW, was guest speaker. She outlined the four study topics announced at the national convention in Denver. Mrs. Lutton announced the Cumberland Branch will study "Quality Education in Our Community," this year. Mrs. Leland Jones, Mrs. John Dearth Jr. and Mrs. Frederick Weimer were introduced as new members.

Mothers Club Discusses Christmas Dance Plans

A Christmas dance was discussed and a program presented at the first meeting of the season of the Mothers Club, which was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Eric Gibbs, Washington Street. The usual business was transacted and reports were given.

The Christmas dance will be held at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club. The social committee will select the date and be in charge of arrangements. It consists of Mrs. Richard Bruce, Mrs. E. R. Kellough Jr., and Mrs. Richard Kirsch.

Poison plants were the subject of the program by Mrs. Ronald Rosher. She warned that lily of the valley, jonquils and violets are poisonous if eaten by children. The speaker also used poisonous pokeberries, yew berries, hawthorn and different pines to make a bouquet.

The next meeting will be October 14 at the home of Mrs. Seldon Harris Jr., LaVale.

Others present were Mrs. Theos Angelus, Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Gorman Getty, Mrs. William Holbrook, Mrs. Charles Irby, Mrs. Kellough, Mrs. Edgar Kendall, Mrs. Kirsch, Mrs. C. A. List, Mrs. Frank Martin, Mrs. Robert Poling, Mrs. Leland Ransom, Mrs. Edward Solomon and Mrs. Albert Tosh.

Missionaries Will Speak

Mr. and Mrs. George Sturgen, returned missionaries from Ghana, will be the guest speakers at an open meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Matthew's United Church of Christ, Bowling Green, tonight. It will be at the church at 7:30.

Career missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. Sturgen are stationed at the Worawora Hospital, where he is hospital administrator. His duties include supervising laborers at the hospital, serving as bookkeeper and handling the other details of hospital administration.

A rummage sale will be held today from 9 a.m. until noon in the old Melvin Methodist Church, Reynolds Street, sponsored by the Jean Rowland Circle.

Society To Hold Supper

Plans for a supper and a fall bazaar were discussed at the meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Oldtown Church, conducted by Mrs. James Cook in the social hall. A ham and chicken supper will be held September 21 from 3 until 8 p.m. in the social hall. Everyone is welcome. The bazaar also will be held at the church.

Routine reports were given by Mrs. Leo Keyser and Mrs. Wayne Twigg. The group voted to sell paring knives for a project. It was agreed to send $25 to the supply work asking.

A devotional program entitled "Recruitment Concern of the Whole World and the Whole Church" was under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Twigg. There also was Scripture reading and prayer by the chairman and a closing prayer by Mrs. Evelyn Twigg.

A Day of Quiet, Prayer and Self-Denial will be observed at the next meeting October 1 at 7 p.m. Mrs. Ethel Schaidt and Mrs. Evelyn Twigg will be hostesses. Every member is asked to attend.

Concluding the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Marian Kinser and Mrs. Grace Crabtree. There were 13 members and a guest, Miss Susan Fishel attending.

BPW Club Program Theme To Be Presented Tuesday

The program theme, "Change, Today's Challenge," will be the topic for the monthly dinner meeting of the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club, which will resume activities after the summer recess. It will be held at 5:45 p. m. September 17 at Central YMCA. Miss Margaret King, first vice president and program chairman, will be in charge. She will speak briefly on the theme. Miss Nell Hawkins, scholarship chairman, is to stress "The Challenge of Change in Education." Miss Mary Robb, music teacher at Allegany High School, will demonstrate the musical challenge of today's changes.

Miss Rita Keller and Miss Janice White, the 1962 winners of the club's scholarships to Frostburg State College and Allegany Community College, will be honor guests.

Mrs. Frieda Massara will conduct the business session. The state board meeting and kickoff dinner for National Business Women's Week October 5; the motorcade October 6, and card party October 10 will be discussed. The club program, outlined by the board will be presented for approval.

Anniversary Party Thursday

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen Lodge 47 will celebrate its seventh anniversary at a dinner tomorrow. It will be held at Johnson's Restaurant, Route 28, beginning at 6 p. m.

Following the dinner, the regular business session will be held at 7:30 at the Dames of Malta Hall, Prospect Square. At which time the auxiliary will prepare for the state union meeting to be held at the YMCA in October.

Dinner reservations are to be made by calling Mrs. Mary Susan Ross, 729-1609, today.

CDA Court Card Party October 8

Announcements were made and a special election was held at the opening fall meeting of Court Cardinal Gibbons, Catholic Daughters of America, conducted by Mrs. Shirley Norris, following a covered dish supper Monday evening at St. Patrick's social center.

Committee reports included cards sent by Mrs. Margaret Miller; world missions, Mrs. Elizabeth McLean; and the bakeless bake sale, Mrs. Anna McCleary.

Mrs. Julia Newman, ways and means chairman, announced that there will be a card party October 8 in SS. Peter and Paul parish hall. Mrs. Norris reminded the group of the fall conference of the Catholic Daughters, to be held at the Cadoa, Baltimore, on October 26. The next meeting of the court will be October 7 at the center.

The court recited the rosary for Mrs. Leona Keating, lecturer, who died August 9. Because of her death and the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Miller, a special election was held by Mrs. Anna McCleary, district deputy, and Mrs. Norris. Miss Mary Doll was named lecturer and Mrs. McCleary, financial secretary.

Prizes of the evening were won by Mrs. Marian Van Scoy and Miss Doll. Approximately 50 members, husbands and friends of the court attended the supper. Mrs. Hazel Soethe and Mrs. May Norris were cochairmen of arrangements. They were assisted by Mrs. McLean, Mrs. McCleary, Mrs. Newman and Mrs. Mary Fabbri.

Need For More Physicians At Miners Hospital In Frostburg Discussed

The board of directors of Miners Hospital in Frostburg met Monday night with the town's four councilmen to discuss the shortage of doctors in Frostburg.

The hospital board, of which Frostburg Mayor Joseph James is a member, agreed to meet with city council to present difficulties faced by the hospital in providing desired medical service.

Council members spoke of complaints by the public as the reason for requesting the meeting.

A principal party at the meeting, also, was Dr. Martin Rothstein, chief of the hospital's medical staff who clearly indicated the community's need for more practicing physicians.

Discussion revealed that the medical staff of the hospital has had trouble in securing additional qualified physicians for the community, and, in effect, the hospital.

Dr. Rothstein said that city council "has the medical staff's blessings" if it can bring qualified physicians to Frostburg and the hospital.

"We would welcome two or three more doctors," the chief of staff offered. "We've placed advertisements in the Medical Journal and many efforts have been made over a period of years. It's not the town; I don't know what it is," Dr. Rothstein remarked.

James E. Bangerd, hospital administrator, commented, "We've contacted several for a position of house physician, and two men came to look over the situation." For their own personal reasons, Bangerd stated, both decided to practice in two other nearby communities.

William S. Jenkins, chairman of the board of directors, said there exists a "general misunderstanding by the public" concerning the board's function. "People come to the hospital and can't get a doctor. We can't control that."

He pointed out that the board follows the recommendations of the medical staff in admitting and suspending physicians. "As laymen," Jenkins remarked, "what do we know about the medical qualifications of a physician?"

Dr. Rothstein pointed up the present shortage of physicians by saying that of the seven who practice in Frostburg, only three are carrying the hospital load because of the others' health and personal reasons.

Street Commissioner T. William Preston asked Dr. Rothstein, "What is being done to have a doctor available for hospital duty?"

The chief of staff replied, "We work on a rotation basis, taking turns two weeks at a time. One person just can't be in two places at one time."

Dr. Rothstein injected an interesting point by commenting that Frostburg, with a population of 7,000, has more general practictioners on a proportionate basis than Cumberland. "Twice as many," he said.

Members of the board seemed agreed that obtaining a resident physician was out of the question and it was stated that even the larger hospitals in Cumberland could not obtain resident physicians.

Dr. Rothstein asserted that possibly some of the fault with the physician shortage lies with the medical colleges in that "young fellows are being led to specialization before they get general practice experience."

Water commissioner James P. Kenney proposed that legislators be contacted as to the feasibility of a bill requiring medical school graduates to practice in outlying areas for a period of time.

Dr. Rothstein praised the idea and said it could be worked similar to the requirement governing teacher education students whose tuition is paid by the state. "It could require medical students on state scholarships," he said, "to agree to practice in a particular area" as a contingency in their scholarship.

Finance Commissioner Herbert E. Loar injected that because of the growth of Frostburg State College, "things are going to get worse," whereupon Jenkins said, "we can't think of anything more to do.

"I know the tremendous job the medical staff is doing. If you can come up with any suggestion, suggestions from anybody, we welcome them," the board chairman remarked.

"We've exhausted every avenue," Jenkins declared, "even agreeing to pay a doctor a monthly salary as a house physician; we just can't get one."

Dr. Rothstein, asked by Commissioner Preston how he was approached to practice in Frostburg, said "It was an accident; I was just driving through town." The best way to approach a physician, he said, is by personal contact."

Preston asked if the armed forces would be an approach to securing doctors when they finish their service obligations. Jenkins agreed that it was a possibility and suggested Preston write to the U. S. surgeon general to explore the possibility.

Discussion closed with Police Commissioner George G. Kennedy expressing thanks to the board for their explanation of the prevailing situation.

Mayor James and Jenkins expressed thanks to the councilmen for their attendance at the meeting. Others in attendance were board members, Frank E. Hines, Francis X. Carrington, William H. Lemmert, D. Varner Carpenter, and Russell H. Carder, and city clerk William R. Vogtman.

Man Jailed In Assault

A Cumberland man was sentenced to 90 days in the Allegany County Jail and fined $300 yesterday after being found guilty of an assault charge.

Magistrate Leslie Clark sentenced and fined the man, William Bowman, of 216 Greene Street, after he entered a plea of guilty to assaulting his wife early last Saturday morning.

Magistrate Clark said testimony in the case revealed Mrs. Bowman sustained two fractures of her nose and two black eyes.

The local magistrate, in passing sentence, said: "This was a vicious, uncalled for assault and would be an appropriate case for the whipping post. It's too bad there is not a whipping post law in Maryland."

The man has 10 days in which to appeal the decision.

Band To Perform At Shopping Center

The Arion Band of Frostburg will present a concert today at 7 p. m. at the LaVale Plaza Shopping Center.

The concert, being sponsored by Local 787, American Federation of Musicians, is being held for the benefit of the Allegany-Garrett Counties Firemen's Association.

To Observe Holiday

The Allegany County Court House and other county offices, including trial magistrates' courts will be closed Thursday, on Old Defenders Day, a legal holiday.

Need For More Physicians At Miners Hospital In Frostburg Discussed

The board of directors of Miners Hospital in Frostburg met Monday night with the town's four councilmen to discuss the shortage of doctors in Frostburg.

The hospital board, of which Frostburg Mayor Joseph James is a member, agreed to meet with city council to present difficulties faced by the hospital in providing desired medical service.

Council members spoke of complaints by the public as the reason for requesting the meeting.

A principal party at the meeting, also, was Dr. Martin Rothstein, chief of the hospital's medical staff who clearly indicated the community's need for more practicing physicians.

Discussion revealed that the medical staff of the hospital has had trouble in securing additional qualified physicians for the community, and, in effect, the hospital.

Dr. Rothstein said that city council "has the medical staff's blessings" if it can bring qualified physicians to Frostburg and the hospital.

"We would welcome two or three more doctors," the chief of staff offered. "We've placed advertisements in the Medical Journal and many efforts have been made over a period of years. It's not the town; I don't know what it is," Dr. Rothstein remarked.

James E. Bangerd, hospital administrator, commented, "We've contacted several for a position of house physician, and two men came to look over the situation." For their own personal reasons, Bangerd stated, both decided to practice in two other nearby communities.

William S. Jenkins, chairman of the board of directors, said there exists a "general misunderstanding by the public" concerning the board's function. "People come to the hospital and can't get a doctor. We can't control that."

He pointed out that the board follows the recommendations of the medical staff in admitting and suspending physicians. "As laymen," Jenkins remarked, "what do we know about the medical qualifications of a physician?"

Dr. Rothstein pointed up the present shortage of physicians by saying that of the seven who practice in Frostburg, only three are carrying the hospital load because of the others' health and personal reasons.

Street Commissioner T. William Preston asked Dr. Rothstein, "What is being done to have a doctor available for hospital duty?"

The chief of staff replied, "We work on a rotation basis, taking turns two weeks at a time. One person just can't be in two places at one time."

Dr. Rothstein injected an interesting point by commenting that Frostburg, with a population of 7,000, has more general practictioners on a proportionate basis than Cumberland. "Twice as many," he said.

Members of the board seemed agreed that obtaining a resident physician was out of the question and it was stated that even the larger hospitals in Cumberland could not obtain resident physicians.

Dr. Rothstein asserted that possibly some of the fault with the physician shortage lies with the medical colleges in that "young fellows are being led to specialization before they get general practice experience."

Water commissioner James P. Kenney proposed that legislators be contacted as to the feasibility of a bill requiring medical school graduates to practice in outlying areas for a period of time.

Dr. Rothstein praised the idea and said it could be worked similar to the requirement governing teacher education students whose tuition is paid by the state. "It could require medical students on state scholarships," he said, "to agree to practice in a particular area" as a contingency in their scholarship.

Finance Commissioner Herbert E. Loar injected that because of the growth of Frostburg State College, "things are going to get worse," whereupon Jenkins said, "we can't think of anything more to do.

"I know the tremendous job the medical staff is doing. If you can come up with any suggestion, suggestions from anybody, we welcome them," the board chairman remarked.

"We've exhausted every avenue," Jenkins declared, "even agreeing to pay a doctor a monthly salary as a house physician; we just can't get one."

Dr. Rothstein, asked by Commissioner Preston how he was approached to practice in Frostburg, said "It was an accident; I was just driving through town." The best way to approach a physician, he said, is by personal contact."

Preston asked if the armed forces would be an approach to securing doctors when they finish their service obligations. Jenkins agreed that it was a possibility and suggested Preston write to the U. S. surgeon general to explore the possibility.

Discussion closed with Police Commissioner George G. Kennedy expressing thanks to the board for their explanation of the prevailing situation.

Mayor James and Jenkins expressed thanks to the councilmen for their attendance at the meeting. Others in attendance were board members, Frank E. Hines, Francis X. Carrington, William H. Lemmert, D. Varner Carpenter, and Russell H. Carder, and city clerk William R. Vogtman.

Man Jailed In Assault

A Cumberland man was sentenced to 90 days in the Allegany County Jail and fined $300 yesterday after being found guilty of an assault charge.

Magistrate Leslie Clark sentenced and fined the man, William Bowman, of 216 Greene Street, after he entered a plea of guilty to assaulting his wife early last Saturday morning.

Magistrate Clark said testimony in the case revealed Mrs. Bowman sustained two fractures of her nose and two black eyes.

The local magistrate, in passing sentence, said: "This was a vicious, uncalled for assault and would be an appropriate case for the whipping post. It's too bad there is not a whipping post law in Maryland."

The man has 10 days in which to appeal the decision.

Band To Perform At Shopping Center

The Arion Band of Frostburg will present a concert today at 7 p. m. at the LaVale Plaza Shopping Center.

The concert, being sponsored by Local 787, American Federation of Musicians, is being held for the benefit of the Allegany-Garrett Counties Firemen's Association.

To Observe Holiday

The Allegany County Court House and other county offices, including trial magistrates' courts will be closed Thursday, on Old Defenders Day, a legal holiday.

Even a little slip in table manners can cause a big slip in charm! Read this man's letter.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Is Your Charm Slipping?

Coming from a man, the following letter contains enough of a message to stand alone as a lesson in charm.

"My girl (I hope some day to make her my wife) is a real charmer in all respects but one—table manners. Naturally, it is too delicate a subject for me to mention. But just a few words from you and I think she would realize that her habits in eating might be improved.

"Actually, she is a very intelligent and highly cultured person. She knows which fork to use, etc. But, she eats with just oo much gusto, if you know what I mean. There's no delicacy. And everyone at the table is aware of how very, very much she is enjoying her food.

"When she stirs her coffee, you'd think she was beating egg whites. She spoons her soup toward her instead of away . . . and even ducks her head a bit toward her spoon. She breaks her bread and rolls it into large bites. Altogether, she gives an impression of real hunger.

"Perhaps these critcisms seem a bit superficial, but we frequently are asked to dine with people who are very important to my vocational success. As my wife, it could make quite a bit of difference to our future whether she gives an impression of culture and finesse — or fluffs it.

"There's another thing, too. When I think of 365 days a year and the possibility of living to celebrate a golden wedding anniversary and all the meals that we might share in between, it seems to me that watching someone 'gulp' food instead of gracefully dining in a relaxed manner could become quite an ordeal.

"I'm sure you'd be doing a lot of people a favor by pointing out the importance of learning how to eat nicely, noislessly and without offending the sensibilities of others at the table."

(Name withheld.)

How about it, charmers? How long has it been since you reviewed an etiquette book? Have you slipped into any bad habits?

Celanese Firm To Build Big Plant In Belgium

Celanese Corporation of America announced plans for the immediate construction of a $12,000,000 plant in Belgium to produce Arnel triacetate, a fiber developed at Amcelle Plant.

Plant manager will be a former Cumberland man who was on the staff of Amcelle Plant of Celanese Fibers Company, Noal Folsom. Until recently he has been in the main office in Charlotte, N. C. He is residing in Belgium.

The plant will be built by a Celanese subsidiary, Amcel Europe, S. A., on a site bordering a branch of the Albert Canal near the town of Lanaken about 22 miles from Liege. It will bring a major industry to an agricultural area of eastern Belgium.

Strategically located to serve all major markets, the plant will be adjacent to the Inter-European Railroad and the Antwerp-Liege Superhighway and near the Netherlands and West German borders.

Construction plans call for a plant and equipment providing a projected yarn capacity of 20,000,000 pounds a year. The plant will begin production in late 1964 to serve western Europe with Arnel filiament yarn and eventually with other Celanese fibers.

Arnel is popular in many fabrics and types of apparel including dresses, blouses and sportswear, to which it impâres ease-of-care characteristics. Backed by Celanese concept of "total-marketing," it has found rapid and wide acceptance.

The Arnel project will be the first Celanese wholly-owned full-scale production and marketing operation within the European Common Market.

Even a little slip in table manners can cause a big slip in charm! Read this man's letter.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Is Your Charm Slipping?

Coming from a man, the following letter contains enough of a message to stand alone as a lesson in charm.

"My girl (I hope some day to make her my wife) is a real charmer in all respects but one—table manners. Naturally, it is too delicate a subject for me to mention. But just a few words from you and I think she would realize that her habits in eating might be improved.

"Actually, she is a very intelligent and highly cultured person. She knows which fork to use, etc. But, she eats with just oo much gusto, if you know what I mean. There's no delicacy. And everyone at the table is aware of how very, very much she is enjoying her food.

"When she stirs her coffee, you'd think she was beating egg whites. She spoons her soup toward her instead of away . . . and even ducks her head a bit toward her spoon. She breaks her bread and rolls it into large bites. Altogether, she gives an impression of real hunger.

"Perhaps these criticisms seem a bit superficial, but we frequently are asked to dine with people who are very important to my vocational success. As my wife, it could make quite a bit of difference to our future whether she gives an impression of culture and finesse — or fluffs it.

"There's another thing, too. When I think of 365 days a year and the possibility of living to celebrate a golden wedding anniversary and all the meals that we might share in between, it seems to me that watching someone 'gulp' food instead of gracefully dining in a relaxed manner could become quite an ordeal.

"I'm sure you'd be doing a lot of people a favor by pointing out the importance of learning how to eat nicely, noislessly and without offending the sensibilities of others at the table."

(Name withheld.)

How about it, charmers? How long has it been since you reviewed an etiquette book? Have you slipped into any bad habits?

Celanese Firm To Build Big Plant In Belgium

Celanese Corporation of America announced plans for the immediate construction of a $12,000,000 plant in Belgium to produce Arnel triacetate, a fiber developed at Amcelle Plant.

Plant manager will be a former Cumberland man who was on the staff of Amcelle Plant of Celanese Fibers Company, Noal Folsom. Until recently he has been in the main office in Charlotte, N. C. He is residing in Belgium.

The plant will be built by a Celanese subsidiary, Amcel Europe, S. A., on a site bordering a branch of the Albert Canal near the town of Lanaken about 22 miles from Liege. It will bring a major industry to an agricultural area of eastern Belgium.

Strategically located to serve all major markets, the plant will be adjacent to the Inter-European Railroad and the Antwerp-Liege Superhighway and near the Netherlands and West German borders.

Construction plans call for a plant and equipment providing a projected yarn capacity of 20,000,000 pounds a year. The plant will begin production in late 1964 to serve western Europe with Arnel filiament yarn and eventually with other Celanese fibers.

Arnel is popular in many fabrics and types of apparel including dresses, blouses and sportswear, to which it imparts ease-of-care characteristics. Backed by Celanese concept of "total-marketing," it has found rapid and wide acceptance.

The Arnel project will be the first Celanese wholly-owned full-scale production and marketing operation within the European Common Market.

VFW Auxiliary Meeting Sunday At Lonaconing

LONACONING — Mrs. Garnet Gamber of Baltimore, president of the Department of Maryland Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary Units, will make her official visitation during the District Three meeting which will be held here on Sunday at 2 p.m.

Members of auxiliary units from Hagerstown, Cumberland, McCoole, Mt. Savage and Lonaconing will convene at the home of Alvin C. Neat Post 5280, VFW, for the meeting.

Mrs. Gamber will be accompanied by other state officers, according to Mrs. Flora Jane Goodwin, president of the local unit, who said members of the auxiliary unit here are to bring a handkerchief for a gift.

During a meeting of the local auxiliary unit, it was decided to go to the Ice Capades in Pittsburgh on September 17. Mrs. Goodwin said the bus will leave at 2 p.m. from "Love's Corner."

Those interested in going are to call HO 3-5169 or HO 3-4972. All reservation money must be in by Saturday.

Teresa Merrbaugh and Naomi Gentry were accepted as new members of the auxiliary. Gertrude Cave gave a report on the kitchen and Jennie Smith reported on cards sent to shut-ins. A prize, brought by Nina Rowan, was won by Flora J. Goodwin.

Homemakers Plan Meeting Tonight

MIDLAND—The Midland Homemakers Club will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the Red Men's Hall and will continue to hold meetings there during the winter months.

Demonstrations featured the recent meeting of the club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller, Vale Summit Road.

It was announced that a meeting of the executive board of the Allegany County Homemakers Clubs will be held tomorrow at the Court House.

Elizabeth Miller gave the treasurer's report and said that the club received $15 for their demonstration at the Cumberland Fair and $80 for serving a supper.

Pearl Blair won prizes at the fair for her angel food cake and raisin bread. Pansy Thrasher, Elizabeth Miller, Anna Wilson and Mary Manley demonstrated Italian bread, raisin bread and pineapple rolls at the fair.

Annual Pilgrimage Planned By WSCS

LONACONING—The annual pilgrimage of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church to the Ashbury Methodist Home will be held September 25 beginning at 11 a. m.

It was reported that $262.32 was netted in a recent bazar. The society forwarded $133.20 to the Baltimore Conference and $30 to the missions.

The society also decided to purchase and sell books entitled, "The Bible In Pictures," as a fund raising project. Mrs. Ada Gardener will have charge of the sale of Christmas cards for the society.

Mrs. Pearl Grove was welcomed as a new member. Routine reports were given and refreshments were served.

Blue Law Thrown Out By Court

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — The Supreme Court unanimously threw out Tuesday the 1963 West Virginia Sunday closing law because it was passed after the constitutional adjournment date of the legislature at midnight March 9.

The effect of the ruling was to leave on the books a somewhat less stringent Sunday closing law in effect for several years.

Ths court said the 1963 session of the legislature expired at midnight on its 60th day, last March 9.

From that date, the court ruled, it ceased to have legislative power. The opinions said the Blue Law was finally voted on in the house after the midnight deadline, and thus never actually became law.

The question reached the court on a petition by Heck's Discount Centers, Inc. and Pic-Way Shoes of West Virginia, Inc., after they were indicted in Cabell County June 10 for opening for business on Sunday.

The old Blue Law, among other things, has contained much smaller penalties for Sunday closing law violations. The fine under that statute has been $15.

The old law has been termed ambiguous and antiquated by some legislators, and dates back to 1849, when the state still was part of Virginia.

Coal Production Is Up In W.Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Coal production in West Virginia during the first seven months of 1963 was up nearly 8 million tons over the total for the same period a year ago, the State Mines Department reported Tuesday.

The report showed that output from January through July totaled 70,253,183 tons compared with 62,415,649 during the same period in 1962.

Employment in the mining industry increased more than 1,000 from year-ago levels, averaging 33,302 this year and 31,769 last year.

However, the average time each miner worked was down slightly, from 122 to 119 days.

During July production totaled 7,526,383 tons, with employment 32,882 and work days 15. In July of 1962 the figures were 5,413, 201 tons, employment 29,265 and work days 14.

Emergency Loans Of FHA Cited

The office of the Farmers Home Administration serving Somerset County, Pa. has been authorized to process applications for emergency loans to eligible farmers whose crops have been effected by drought conditions this growing season.

The FHA supervisor said that loan funds will be available to permit purchase of needed winter feed. Farmers should take inventory of supply and consider purchase of needed feed as soon as possible so that locally available feed is not purchased by distance buyers thus resulting in higher transportation cost later in the season.

Further information and applications may be obtained from the FHA office at 130 West Main Street, Somerset.

Centennial Float Funds Sought In Keyser Area

KEYSER—Area residents, along with the Keyser-Mineral County Chamber of Commerce, are hopeful that the centennial float which was recently entered in parades at Charleston, Martinsburg, and Keyser can also be entered in the Forest Festival parade in Elkins next month.

However, officials of the Chamber of Commerce say that unless some financial backing is received from organizations and individuals throughout the county the continued entry of the centennial float in parades cannot become a reality.

Edgell L. Grayson, Chamber president, said within the next few days letters will be mailed throughout the county seeking the help needed. A previous letter indicated that the overall project for the float would cost approximately $1,700. Of this sum, the local Chamber paid $750.

Others who have contributed include the Farmers and Merchants Bank, $25; Jaycees, $5; Soroptimist Club, $15; Rotary, $25; Washington - Smith Post 152, American Legion and Auxiliary, $25; Knights of Pythias, $10; plus $75 from the Mineral County Centennial Committee for winning first prize in the Keyser parade.

This makes $180 received from other sources but still leaves a balance of $770 needed to complete the entries of the Mineral County float in the various parades.

Mr. Grayson said the float is expensive to construct, tow to the location, decorate, insure, tow during the parade, maintain operators and tow back home. An appeal is being made to all organizations, institutions, and interested parties to help with the project.

Carl R. Ludwick, executive secretary, said contributions of $1 or more should be delivered to the Chamber of Commerce office. Checks made out to the Chamber of Commerce can be mailed to P. O. Box 391, Keyser. Such donations should be received no later than Sept. 16.

The float is the official parade float for Miss Sue Fike, County Centennial Queen and the Little Miss Centennials.

Keyser-Mineral Library Is Displaying New Books

KEYSER — The Keyser-Mineral County Public Library has placed on display the remainder of the books which were purchased with the $1,500 award from the Book-of-the-Month Club. The policy of the librarian, in using this money, has been to buy valuable art books and other reference material which could not be obtained from the regular book-buying budget.

The final money from this award was used to purchase the Encyclopedia Brittanica's Great Books of the Western World which are now in the listening room.

Also on display is a memorial book, Munro's Golden Encyclopedia of Art, which was given in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Markwood by Dr. and Mrs. E. V. Romig.

Mrs. Viola M. Rexrode, Route 4, has placed an exhibit of her animal and landscape paintings in oil at the library, where they will be displayed through the week of September 16.

Mrs. Rexrode is a native of Antioch and is a self-taught artist. Her principal interest lies in animal painting, a medium for which she shows great aptitude.

The public is invited to visit this exhibit during the next two weeks.

VFW Auxiliary Meeting Sunday At Lonaconing

LONACONING — Mrs. Garnet Gamber of Baltimore, president of the Department of Maryland Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary Units, will make her official visitation during the District Three meeting which will be held here on Sunday at 2 p.m.

Members of auxiliary units from Hagerstown, Cumberland, McCoole, Mt. Savage and Lonaconing will convene at the home of Alvin C. Neat Post 5280, VFW, for the meeting.

Mrs. Gamber will be accompanied by other state officers, according to Mrs. Flora Jane Goodwin, president of the local unit, who said members of the auxiliary unit here are to bring a handkerchief for a gift.

During a meeting of the local auxiliary unit, it was decided to go to the Ice Capades in Pittsburgh on September 17. Mrs. Goodwin said the bus will leave at 2 p.m. from "Love's Corner."

Those interested in going are to call HO 3-5169 or HO 3-4972. All reservation money must be in by Saturday.

Teresa Merrbaugh and Naomi Gentry were accepted as new members of the auxiliary. Gertrude Cave gave a report on the kitchen and Jennie Smith reported on cards sent to shut-ins. A prize, brought by Nina Rowan, was won by Flora J. Goodwin.

Homemakers Plan Meeting Tonight

MIDLAND—The Midland Homemakers Club will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in the Red Men's Hall and will continue to hold meetings there during the winter months.

Demonstrations featured the recent meeting of the club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller, Vale Summit Road.

It was announced that a meeting of the executive board of the Allegany County Homemakers Clubs will be held tomorrow at the Court House.

Elizabeth Miller gave the treasurer's report and said that the club received $15 for their demonstration at the Cumberland Fair and $80 for serving a supper.

Pearl Blair won prizes at the fair for her angel food cake and raisin bread. Pansy Thrasher, Elizabeth Miller, Anna Wilson and Mary Manley demonstrated Italian bread, raisin bread and pineapple rolls at the fair.

Annual Pilgrimage Planned By WSCS

LONACONING—The annual pilgrimage of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church to the Ashbury Methodist Home will be held September 25 beginning at 11 a. m.

It was reported that $262.32 was netted in a recent bazar. The society forwarded $133.20 to the Baltimore Conference and $30 to the missions.

The society also decided to purchase and sell books entitled, "The Bible In Pictures," as a fund raising project. Mrs. Ada Gardener will have charge of the sale of Christmas cards for the society.

Mrs. Pearl Grove was welcomed as a new member. Routine reports were given and refreshments were served.

Blue Law Thrown Out By Court

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — The Supreme Court unanimously threw out Tuesday the 1963 West Virginia Sunday closing law because it was passed after the constitutional adjournment date of the legislature at midnight March 9.

The effect of the ruling was to leave on the books a somewhat less stringent Sunday closing law in effect for several years.

Ths court said the 1963 session of the legislature expired at midnight on its 60th day, last March 9.

From that date, the court ruled, it ceased to have legislative power. The opinions said the Blue Law was finally voted on in the house after the midnight deadline, and thus never actually became law.

The question reached the court on a petition by Heck's Discount Centers, Inc. and Pic-Way Shoes of West Virginia, Inc., after they were indicted in Cabell County June 10 for opening for business on Sunday.

The old Blue Law, among other things, has contained much smaller penalties for Sunday closing law violations. The fine under that statute has been $15.

The old law has been termed ambiguous and antiquated by some legislators, and dates back to 1849, when the state still was part of Virginia.

Coal Production Is Up In W.Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— Coal production in West Virginia during the first seven months of 1963 was up nearly 8 million tons over the total for the same period a year ago, the State Mines Department reported Tuesday.

The report showed that output from January through July totaled 70,253,183 tons compared with 62,415,649 during the same period in 1962.

Employment in the mining industry increased more than 1,000 from year-ago levels, averaging 33,302 this year and 31,769 last year.

However, the average time each miner worked was down slightly, from 122 to 119 days.

During July production totaled 7,526,383 tons, with employment 32,882 and work days 15. In July of 1962 the figures were 5,413, 201 tons, employment 29,265 and work days 14.

Emergency Loans Of FHA Cited

The office of the Farmers Home Administration serving Somerset County, Pa. has been authorized to process applications for emergency loans to eligible farmers whose crops have been effected by drought conditions this growing season.

The FHA supervisor said that loan funds will be available to permit purchase of needed winter feed. Farmers should take inventory of supply and consider purchase of needed feed as soon as possible so that locally available feed is not purchased by distance buyers thus resulting in higher transportation cost later in the season.

Further information and applications may be obtained from the FHA office at 130 West Main Street, Somerset.

Centennial Float Funds Sought In Keyser Area

KEYSER—Area residents, along with the Keyser-Mineral County Chamber of Commerce, are hopeful that the centennial float which was recently entered in parades at Charleston, Martinsburg, and Keyser can also be entered in the Forest Festival parade in Elkins next month.

However, officials of the Chamber of Commerce say that unless some financial backing is received from organizations and individuals throughout the county the continued entry of the centennial float in parades cannot become a reality.

Edgell L. Grayson, Chamber president, said within the next few days letters will be mailed throughout the county seeking the help needed. A previous letter indicated that the overall project for the float would cost approximately $1,700. Of this sum, the local Chamber paid $750.

Others who have contributed include the Farmers and Merchants Bank, $25; Jaycees, $5; Soroptimist Club, $15; Rotary, $25; Washington - Smith Post 152, American Legion and Auxiliary, $25; Knights of Pythias, $10; plus $75 from the Mineral County Centennial Committee for winning first prize in the Keyser parade.

This makes $180 received from other sources but still leaves a balance of $770 needed to complete the entries of the Mineral County float in the various parades.

Mr. Grayson said the float is expensive to construct, tow to the location, decorate, insure, tow during the parade, maintain operators and tow back home. An appeal is being made to all organizations, institutions, and interested parties to help with the project.

Carl R. Ludwick, executive secretary, said contributions of $1 or more should be delivered to the Chamber of Commerce office. Checks made out to the Chamber of Commerce can be mailed to P. O. Box 391, Keyser. Such donations should be received no later than Sept. 16.

The float is the official parade float for Miss Sue Fike, County Centennial Queen and the Little Miss Centennials.

Keyser-Mineral Library Is Displaying New Books

KEYSER — The Keyser-Mineral County Public Library has placed on display the remainder of the books which were purchased with the $1,500 award from the Book-of-the-Month Club. The policy of the librarian, in using this money, has been to buy valuable art books and other reference material which could not be obtained from the regular book-buying budget.

The final money from this award was used to purchase the Encyclopedia Brittanica's Great Books of the Western World which are now in the listening room.

Also on display is a memorial book, Munro's Golden Encyclopedia of Art, which was given in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Markwood by Dr. and Mrs. E. V. Romig.

Mrs. Viola M. Rexrode, Route 4, has placed an exhibit of her animal and landscape paintings in oil at the library, where they will be displayed through the week of September 16.

Mrs. Rexrode is a native of Antioch and is a self-taught artist. Her principal interest lies in animal painting, a medium for which she shows great aptitude.

The public is invited to visit this exhibit during the next two weeks.

Ann Landers . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband has been an executive with his company for many years. He has had the same secretary from the day he started. I know she is extremely valuable to him. He recently accepted a position with another firm and will be leaving November 15. He wants to take his secretary with him.

The secretary is married to a nice man and I can bet my life there is nothing between her and my husband except business. Never once in the many years they have worked together have I had cause to be suspicious. But I feel strongly that it would be improper to take the woman along because people do gossip and I don't think he should supply them with this juicy material. Do you agree—yes or no?—S-4.

DEAR S-4: Tongues have wagged from the beginning of time—both with and without valid reasons—so don't try to play a defensive game against gossip or you'll drive yourself out of your mind.

The only consideration should be this: Does your husband want the secretary to go with him? He does and therefore he should ask her.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please tell me if I am right or wrong. Is it good manners for a guest who is visiting in your home to answer the telephone in your absence?

I left the house for about an hour yesterday and my sister-in-law who lives in another city was visiting me. The telephone rang and she answered it. It was my daughter calling me long distance. We always call each other station-to-station which means we must pay for the call no matter who answers.

My daughter was very angry when she got her aunt on the phone, and I am steaming myself.

I say a guest has no right to answer a phone in someone else's home. I would no more think of answering the telephone in the home of a friend than I would think of opening her mail. Will you please express your opinion? —RING A DING

DEAR RING: The natural reaction to a ringing phone it to answer it. If you have strong feelings that no one but you should answer the phone in your home why didn't you instruct your guest to let it ring?

Your sister-in-law was not prying. A ringing phone is not like a letter addressed to someone else. She meant to do you a favor. And you are clearly out of order, Madame.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've read your column for many years and am surprised this problem has never shown up in print. I can only assume that our neighborhood has the only nut of this kind.

A certain young mother who lives a few doors away has three children under six years of age. She has allowed her children to run loose in the neighborhood with pink eye, measles, mumps and skin rashes of undetermined origin. Just last week my son caught whooping cough from the neighbor child.

Don't tell me to speak to her. I have. She says I'm a Fuss-Pot and that she believes in letting her children "wear out their little illnesses." In the meantime I hate to order my kids to stay away from her kids. Please tell me what to do.—FURIOUS MOTHER

DEAR FURIOUS: Check with your doctor and make certain your own children are inoculated against all infectious diseases.

It is against the law to allow children with communicable illnesses to run loose. The next time the neighbor woman breaks the law tell her to keep her child isolated or you will ask your doctor to report her. If she doesn't keep her child inside after that—go ahead and do it.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-adressed, stamped envelope.

Some Persons Over 65 Get Tax Benefit

The Allegany County Commissioners yesterday voted to extend the present real estate tax exemption for county residents over 65 years of age with limited incomes.

Yesterday's action extends the tax exemption for another year and complies with a statewide law passed in the 1963 General Assembly.

Under the original county law passed in the legislature in 1957 and amended in 1961, taxpayers over 65 years of age who have incomes of less than $1,200 a year are exempted from paying taxes.

Also, the taxes are exempted if the total income of all the persons living in one house who are related and over 65 years of age does not exceed $3,500.

However, the General Assembly this year passed a bill that repealed all existing county exemption laws of this type.

The new act authorizes the county commissioners or the mayors and councils of counties and municipalities, respectively, to grant exemptions based on the age or income of the taxpayer.

They may do it one of two ways—by tax credit, such as done in this county, or by a limited rate of taxation on the basis of age or income of a taxpayer, or value of property, or any of these factors.

However, the 1963 act stipulated that this was not to become effective until June 1964, and the various counties having these exemption laws were to extend them for one year by ordinance or resolution.

Gorman E. Getty, county attorney, who prepared the ordinance at the request of the county commissioners last Friday, said yesterday that in 1964 the county board will be in a position to continue or discontinue the exemption to the persons over 65 years.

In a discussion that followed the passing of the ordinance, it was indicated that the present board is not thinking of dropping it.

Getty suggested that some additional relief be given for those making over $1,200, as he observed the county board has nine months to deliberate on a future policy for these persons.

At present, 306 property owners meeting the qualifications are not paying taxes due to their limited incomes.

Some are getting just a dollar or a few dollars over the $1,200 limit, but still have to pay taxes. Getty observed that some consideration should be given persons in this category.

Chopping Trophy

This unique trophy, especially hand carved for the occasion, will be presented to the winner of the South Branch Valley wood chopping contest to be held tomorrow at the American Legion Home near Petersburg, W. Va. It was carved from white pine by B. F. Butler Jr., of Keyser. Contestants from Grant, Hardy, Pendleton, Jefferson and Berkeley counties will compete for the trophy.

Pine Pulpwood Meeting Tomorrow At Petersburg

One of the highlights of the South Branch Valley Pine Pulpwood Conference tomorrow at Petersburg, W. Va. will be the presentation of a unique hand carved trophy to the winner of the regional wood chopping contest.

Concluding the all-day public program at the American Legion Home near Petersburg will be a special exhibition by Victor Hewitt, West Virginia state wood chopping champion and a South Branch Valley wood chopping contest.

The trophy is being awarded by West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and especially hand carved for the occasion by B. F. Butler, of Keyser. The trophy was carved from white pine with the figure all one piece and the base one piece. It depicts a lumber jack with his axe, with a hand carved rustic base.

Hewitt's demonstration is scheduled to start at 4 p. m. and the chopping contest at 4:30 p. m.

The conference is a public meeting of interest to pulpwood producers, land owners, foresters and wood oriented industries designed to tell and show how to grow and harvest Virginia pine profitably. The Virginia pine, or "scrub pine" as it is known to many, now brings some $1 million to the South Branch Valley area. There is a ready market now for the tree and indications of a bright future for it.

Authorities in the field who will speak at the American Legion Home are Hans McCort, a member of the Governor's Committee on Wood Utilization; Theodore Fearnow, assistant regional forester of the U. S. Forest Service from Upper Darby, Pa.; Dr. Kenneth L. Carvell, associate professor of Silviculture at West Virginia University's Forestry school; H. E. Matics of Covington, Va., former head of West Virginia Pulp and Paper's extensive experimental forestry operations near Parkersburg; and Lester McClung, state forester for the Department of Natural Resources, Charleston, W. Va.

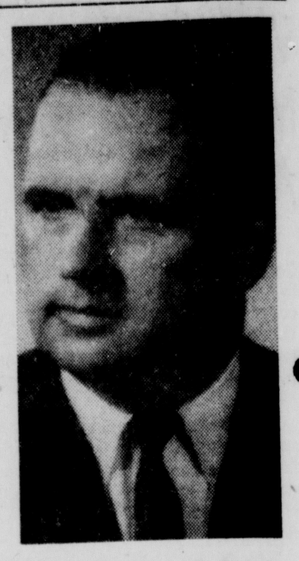
Cannon Power Blast Burns Three

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Director Philip K. Harness of the Mountain State Forest Festival at Elkins, W. Va., is expected to be released from a local hospital within a few days after suffering burns Monday night when powder exploded in a Civil War cannon used in a parade.

He was one of about 35 members of the Highlanders, a Scotch bagpipe marching group from Elkins, participating in a 12-hour American Legion parade which highlighted the organization's national convention.

Harness sustained superficial burns of the face, hands and forearms. Two other men also suffered burns. Harness was sergeant gunner in the Highlanders group and was standing closest to the powder box. The box was not completely closed at the time and was ignited by a sparkler carried by a passerby.



SPEAKER—Robert F. Sweeney, assistant attorney general of Maryland, will speak at the annual Old Defenders Day celebration here Saturday night. The event is being sponsored by Chief Justice Taney General Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, and will be held at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. The program will begin with a cocktail party at 6:30 p. m. followed by a dinner and dance with music by the "Aristocrats."

Ann Landers . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband has been an executive with his company for many years. He has had the same secretary from the day he started. I know she is extremely valuable to him. He recently accepted a position with another firm and will be leaving November 15. He wants to take his secretary with him.

The secretary is married to a nice man and I can bet my life there is nothing between her and my husband except business. Never once in the many years they have worked together have I had cause to be suspicious. But I feel strongly that it would be improper to take the woman along because people do gossip and I don't think he should supply them with this juicy material. Do you agree—yes or no?—S-4.

DEAR S-4: Tongues have wagged from the beginning of time—both with and without valid reasons—so don't try to play a defensive game against gossip or you'll drive yourself out of your mind.

The only consideration should be this: Does your husband want the secretary to go with him? He does and therefore he should ask her.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please tell me if I am right or wrong. Is it good manners for a guest who is visiting in your home to answer the telephone in your absence?

I left the house for about an hour yesterday and my sister-in-law who lives in another city was visiting me. The telephone rang and she answered it. It was my daughter calling me long distance. We always call each other station-to-station which means we must pay for the call no matter who answers.

My daughter was very angry when she got her aunt on the phone, and I am steaming myself.

I say a guest has no right to answer a phone in someone else's home. I would no more think of answering the telephone in the home of a friend than I would think of opening her mail. Will you please express your opinion? —RING A DING

DEAR RING: The natural reaction to a ringing phone it to answer it. If you have strong feelings that no one but you should answer the phone in your home why didn't you instruct your guest to let it ring?

Your sister-in-law was not prying. A ringing phone is not like a letter addressed to someone else. She meant to do you a favor. And you are clearly out of order, Madame.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've read your column for many years and am surprised this problem has never shown up in print. I can only assume that our neighborhood has the only nut of this kind.

A certain young mother who lives a few doors away has three children under six years of age. She has allowed her children to run loose in the neighborhood with pink eye, measles, mumps and skin rashes of undetermined origin. Just last week my son caught whooping cough from the neighbor child.

Don't tell me to speak to her. I have. She says I'm a Fuss-Pot and that she believes in letting her children "wear out their little illnesses." In the meantime I hate to order my kids to stay away from her kids. Please tell me what to do.—FURIOUS MOTHER

DEAR FURIOUS: Check with your doctor and make certain your own children are inoculated against all infectious diseases.

It is against the law to allow children with communicable illnesses to run loose. The next time the neighbor woman breaks the law tell her to keep her child isolated or you will ask your doctor to report her. If she doesn't keep her child inside after that—go ahead and do it.

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-adressed, stamped envelope.

Some Persons Over 65 Get Tax Benefit

The Allegany County Commissioners yesterday voted to extend the present real estate tax exemption for county residents over 65 years of age with limited incomes.

Yesterday's action extends the tax exemption for another year and complies with a statewide law passed in the 1963 General Assembly.

Under the original county law passed in the legislature in 1957 and amended in 1961, taxpayers over 65 years of age who have incomes of less than $1,200 a year are exempted from paying taxes.

Also, the taxes are exempted if the total income of all the persons living in one house who are related and over 65 years of age does not exceed $3,500.

However, the General Assembly this year passed a bill that repealed all existing county exemption laws of this type.

The new act authorizes the county commissioners or the mayors and councils of counties and municipalities, respectively, to grant exemptions based on the age or income of the taxpayer.

They may do it one of two ways—by tax credit, such as done in this county, or by a limited rate of taxation on the basis of age or income of a taxpayer, or value of property, or any of these factors.

However, the 1963 act stipulated that this was not to become effective until June 1964, and the various counties having these exemption laws were to extend them for one year by ordinance or resolution.

Gorman E. Getty, county attorney, who prepared the ordinance at the request of the county commissioners last Friday, said yesterday that in 1964 the county board will be in a position to continue or discontinue the exemption to the persons over 65 years.

In a discussion that followed the passing of the ordinance, it was indicated that the present board is not thinking of dropping it.

Getty suggested that some additional relief be given for those making over $1,200, as he observed the county board has nine months to deliberate on a future policy for these persons.

At present, 306 property owners meeting the qualifications are not paying taxes due to their limited incomes.

Some are getting just a dollar or a few dollars over the $1,200 limit, but still have to pay taxes. Getty observed that some consideration should be given persons in this category.

Chopping Trophy

This unique trophy, especially hand carved for the occasion, will be presented to the winner of the South Branch Valley wood chopping contest to be held tomorrow at the American Legion Home near Petersburg, W. Va. It was carved from white pine by B. F. Butler Jr., of Keyser. Contestants from Grant, Hardy, Pendleton, Jefferson and Berkeley counties will compete for the trophy.

Pine Pulpwood Meeting Tomorrow At Petersburg

One of the highlights of the South Branch Valley Pine Pulpwood Conference tomorrow at Petersburg, W. Va. will be the presentation of a unique hand carved trophy to the winner of the regional wood chopping contest.

Concluding the all-day public program at the American Legion Home near Petersburg will be a special exhibition by Victor Hewitt, West Virginia state wood chopping champion and a South Branch Valley wood chopping contest.

The trophy is being awarded by West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and especially hand carved for the occasion by B. F. Butler, of Keyser. The trophy was carved from white pine with the figure all one piece and the base one piece. It depicts a lumber jack with his axe, with a hand carved rustic base.

Hewitt's demonstration is scheduled to start at 4 p. m. and the chopping contest at 4:30 p. m.

The conference is a public meeting of interest to pulpwood producers, land owners, foresters and wood oriented industries designed to tell and show how to grow and harvest Virginia pine profitably. Any Overtures From Peking?

The 119th meeting in a curious series of Sino-American diplomatic exchanges is scheduled today in Warsaw. The periodic sessions bring together the U.S. Ambassador to Poland, John Moors Cabot, and his Chinese counterpart, Wang Ping-nan, for a discussion of "matters at issue" between the two powers. In the absence of normal diplomatic relations, the talks — begun in 1955—provide the only direct channel of communication between the United States and Red China.

Last month's meeting, the first since the breakdown of the Chinese-Soviet ideological talks, created a stir that now appears to have been unwarranted. The ambassadors met for three hours and 35 minutes, more than an hour longer than usual, and some correspondents of American newspapers thought that more than routine topics had been discussed. The ambassadors are bound by a pact of silence, so the reporters were on their own. The New York Times reported that the time devoted to the conversation "heightened speculation in Warsaw that the Chinese might be exploring the possibility of easing tensions between Peking and Washington."

America's China lobby can breathe easy. Sources now suggest that the parties simply hadn't sat down together for four months and had more than the usual number of recriminations to exchange. Red China's nastiest charge against Soviet Premier Khrushchev is that he insists on coexisting with the West; Mao Tse-tung may need a counter-move to his widening rift with Moscow, but there is no reason to believe he is prepared to come lie with "imperialists."

The differences between the United States and Communist China seem to be unmanageable and the best that can be hoped from the Warsaw talks for the time being is that they will give both sides a chance to blow off steam.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Vice Presidential Talk

The time has come to talk about Vice Presidential candidates. I say this because of the widespread feeling in Republican circles that "Goldwater's got it"—meaning, of course, the Presidential nomination. It is not so much that Republicans are certain that Barry is the man with the potential to beat a popular Kennedy. There are differences of opinion on that. But many possible local Republican candidates for state and Congressional offices are sure that, even with a losing Barry Goldwater at the head of the ticket, they themselves would have a better chance of pulling through. "Barry," says one pro, "would put steam behind local tickets."

With Barry "in" so far as first place on the Republican slate is concerned, as seems to be conceded even by New York Times Washington correspondents who would never vote for him, the question of balancing the ticket becomes uppermost. It goes without saying that a Vice President on a Goldwater ticket must be differentiated from Goldwater on both a regional and a philosophical basis. Plotting the choice mechanically, the Vice Presidential nomination should go to Governor Nelson Rockefeller or to Senator Jacob Javits, both of "liberal" and undeniably eastern New York State.

However, the cut-and-dried mechanics of the situation break down in this particular case. If women have been truly outraged by Rockefeller's divorce and remarriage to a divorced mother, they would object to him as a second place man no less than as head of the ticket. Moreover, Rockefeller has the Achilles temperament: if he can't be the leader, it is doubtful that he would be willing to take a position as second in command.

Javits, of course, is something else again. But Javits has been so blatantly at odds with everything that Goldwater stands for that a Goldwater-Javits slate might seem offensively cynical. The Democrats would be able to make an inordinate amount of election day yardage merely by playing up the ideological clash between Goldwater and Javits as is proved by their respective Senatorial voting records.

So write New York State off, then, as good quarrying ground for Republican Vice Presidential timber in 1964. That is, write it off if Senator Keating, who would provide a good geographical and philosophical balance, still insists on running again for the Senate, as he seems so wholeheartedly intent upon doing.

With New York out for such special reasons, the choice narrows down to any one of three or four populous industrial states in the northeastern quarter of the nation. Senator Case of New Jersey shares the shortcomings of Senator Javits: he is too blatantly "liberal" to seem like a sincere offering on a Goldwater ticket. Governor Scranton of Pennsylvania, a liberal with just enough protective coloration in fiscal matters to be palatable to conservatives, would make a fair choice for a Goldwater running mate.

Ohio's Governor Rhodes is another possibility, though his personality may seem at first glance to be too colorless and unobtrusive to generate election day sparks. Illinois' own "Ev" Dirksen, Senate Minority Leader, comes appropriately from a state that can be considered on the outermost edge of the industrial Northeast and hence would provide geographical balance to Arizona's Goldwater. But the philosophical balance here would manifestly be missing.

My own feeling is that the best running mate for Goldwater would be the man from Michigan, Governor George Romney. As a Presidential possibility he has been running way ahead of Governor Scranton in the public opinion polls. This popularity could rub off on him as Vice Presidential timber Although the United Automobile Workers did not endorse him for Governor of Michigan, Romney has pulling power in labor circles because of the generous profit-sharing contract with the UAW local which he helped write when he was head of the American Motors Company. He has been against industrial "bigness," which should endear him to the liberals who fear the power of the corporations. Incidentally, his old labor relations man in American Motors, Eddie Cushman, would make a wonderful Secretary of Labor.

With all his liberal coloration, Romney, a top-flight industrialist, could not be anathema to believers in free enterprise. And his Mormon religious affiliation is a guarantee that he would not be in favor of centralizing all the welfare services of the nation under a Washington bureaucracy. The Mormons believe in self-help, church-help, and town-and-state help before they believe in federal help.

A Goldwater-Romney ticket—what a dream ticket that would be.

'Love You?–I'm Wearing Your Ring–Ain't I?'

Burma's Alignment: Halfway To Peking?

By Joseph Alsop

RANGOON, Burma

In its present stage, this disordered but lovely small country can best be described as halfway to Peking.

Gen. Ne Win, boss of Burma by virtue of an army coup d'etat, started his career as a stout anti-Communist. In principle, he is still anti-Communist, but he is certainly a patriot who wants above all things to insure Burma's independence. Yet the road he has taken nonetheless must finally lead to semi-subordination to Peking unless he changes direction pretty abruptly at some later date.

To be specific, Ne Win's National Revolutionary Council of army officers has now begun negotiations for a peace settlement with the principal faction of the Burmese Communists, the so-called "White Flags" headed by Thakin Than Tun.

As far as Ne Win is concerned, the object of these negotiations is clearly to end the interminable civil war here. Thus he hopes to get cracking with his "Burmese way to socialism," which chiefly seems to mean national ownership of just about everything in sight, including the stalls of the street peddlers.

The motive of Thakin Than Tun, meanwhile, is obviously to obtain recognition and standing in Burma, comparable to the recognition and standing according to the Cuban Communist party in stage of the Castro revolution. As Than Tun, by general admission, is much the cleverest politician in Burma today, he no doubt hopes to improve his position rather rapidly, once he has been recognized and given an open political role.

No one can of course be sure that the present negotiations will produce a positive result; but most people here expect them to end in a peace agreement between Gen. Ne Win and the majority faction of the Burmese Communists. What makes this prospect so particularly interesting is the recent development of Communsim in Burma.

In brief, peace with the government has already been rejected by the minority Communist group, the "Red Flags," led by Thakin Soe. But this minority is unimportant, being composed of only a few hundred guerrilla fighters. Their political character may be judged by Thakin Soe's current line, that Mao Tse-tung is not nearly Stalinist enough.

Thakin Than Tun's group in contrast, is large and powerful; and until only 10 or 12 months ago he and his followers were supposed to be adherents of Moscow in the Peking-Moscow feud. They have now gone over, however, to the side of Peking.

An important episode in this decision in Peking's favor was clearly the return from China of a number of key party members and Communist ex-army officers who had spent years in training there. Members of this group led by Bo Zeya are included in the Communist delegation which is carrying on the current peace talks.

The new party line was clearly enunciated at a press conference by the delegation spokesman, Yebaw Htay. He denounced India for "attacking" China; he sharply attacked the nuclear test ban treaty; and in general he took the straight Peking line.

One of the more curious results of the Burmese Communists' choice of Peking has been the abrupt isolation of the Soviet embassy here. In consequence, no doubt under instructions from Moscow, the Soviet diplomats in Burma are now carrying on an almost embarrassingly warm courtship of the American embassy. But that is by the way.

The really significant result of the new pro-Peking Communist line will only appear if and when the Communists reach a peace agreement with Ne Win. In this event, the newly recognized and accepted Communist leaders will constitute a powerful pressure-group, always tending to push Ne Win and his government towards an alignment with Peking crudely similar to Castro's alignment with Moscow.

The somber, isolated Ne Win is certainly no Castro. He might be more popuilar than he is if he resembled Castro a bit more. He has also been putting out some anchors to windward, for instance by striking up a friendship with the strongly pro-Western Prime Minister of Thailand, Gen. Sarit Thanarat. He will certainly fight hard against giving the Communists in Burma anything like the predominant power they now have in Cuba.

But the direction Gen. Ne Win has taken is pretty clear nonetheless. His own increasing isolation may help to push him down this road if the Communists rally to his support after the peace agreement. Above all, he will find it very difficult not to go to the road's end if he is also pushed by events elsewhere in Asia—on the Indian frontier, for example. That ias why halfway to Peking reasonably sums up the present position here.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

ART TREASURE — If anyone in government today can afford to have a Mona Lisa hanging on his office wall, it's Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. Yet, Kennedy's Mona Lisa didn't cost him a cent.

Admittedly, it isn't the original, which is back in the Louvre after a huge success in its display in Washington and New York. In fact, one has to be told the picture is a copy of the Mona Lisa before it is recognized as such.

But that doesn't bother Bobby. The picture fits well into the decor of his office and is of a piece with the other "art" works decorating his hall-like office in the Department of Justice.

The artist who made the copy was inspired by his visit to a Washington Art Gallery when the original Mona Lisa was on display there. As a result, David Kennedy, who enters the third grade this fall, decided he'd do a copy of the famed work of art for his father.

The proud father promptly hung his son's inspired work on his office wall, along with similar efforts by numerous of his other children. And the attorney general values it more highly than the original.

BLACK DAY — J. Edward Day, who resigned as postmaster general, made some enemies in the process. Just 24 hours before he announced that he was returning to private life, Day with a straight face told reporters that rumors of his impending departure from Kennedy's Cabinet were incorrect.

Politicians make a career of misinformation and are rather callous about it, but unfortunately reporters instinctively react angrily to misinformation.

There was some question whether Day jumped or was pushed out of his Cabinet post. Some reporters have been busy trying to find out which.

If it should develop that Day left because he was asked to, you can be sure newsmen will make the most of it — to let future New Frontier members know that they are not immune to retaliation.

State Department Helps 'Big Oil' To Exclusion Of Independent Firms

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy may not know it, but his State Department has been going out of its way to boost the international operations of the companies owned by the administration's most effective critic—Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Time after time, the State Department has reached out a helping and vigorous hand to help Standard Oil of New Jersey, the No. 1 oil company; also Standard of California, another big Rockefeller moneymaker, and Socony. These three, together with Gulf, Texas, Shell and British Petroleum are known inside the industry as the "Seven Sisters."

When Big Oil can't get what it wants in foreign countries, the State Department tries to get it for them. While the State Department is supposed to protect American interests abroad, it is charged not to help one company, or a group of companies as against others. And independent oil companies have been getting the hairy end of the lollipop as compared with the Rockefeller interests and some of the other Seven Sisters.

The Rockefeller family contribute around $200,000 to the Republican Party every election, while Gov. Rockefeller has been Kennedy's most effective critic regarding Cuba and failure to "get the country moving again." The Mellon family, who control Gulf, contribute around $100,000 in election years to the Republicans.

Here is part of the State Department record, which only the diplomats know about, of aiding the Rockefeller interests:

Box Score Of Favoritism

Undersecretary of State George Ball, whose law firm has oil ties, fired off several confidential cables to the American embassy in Leopoldville, instructing them to help Standard of New Jersey get a license to build a refinery in the Congo.

The frantic cables were touched off by a decision of the Congolese Cabinet to grant the license to ENI, the Italian firm. But the full weight of the U. S. government was more pressure than the Congolese could bear. They canceled ENI.

In Korea, a foreign aid mission, instructed to survey the feasibility of a new refinery, was headed by William van Dusen, a retired Standard executive working for the State Department. He arrived with three Standard officials who actually helped him make the survey and naturally recommended that private industry should build the refinery.

Standard, having been in on the survey, was hoping to get the contract. But the Koreans are getting quite independent of the United States, and they decided to build their own oil refinery.

In Haiti, an independent operator wangled a permit to build a refinery. Alarmed, Standard of New Jersey sent its local manager to protest to the American ambassador that the proposed refinery, of all things, would create a monopoly.

Apparently Standard is righteously opposed to any oil monopoly that it doesn't dominate.

The ambassador passed on the complaint to Undersecretary Ball who directed him to oppose the independent's permit and try to get it canceled.

Punishing Ceylon

In the Far East, oilmen used their influence to get the U. S. government to punish tiny Ceylon for daring to nationalize some of the service stations owned by Texaco and Standard of New Jersey.

Actually, the nationalization was ordered out of pique, because the two oil giants had stalled for 12 years over construction of a refinery which Ceylon needed badly.

The companies sought to invoke the Dirksen amendment to the foreign aid bill, which shuts off all foreign aid to any country seizing U. S. property and failing to pay for it within six months.

Ceylon offered to pay the oil giants, but both firms delayed furnishing figures on the properties for six months. It had all the earmarks of a deliberate stall so the amendment could take effect. An oilman gleefully remarked: "This will teach the Ceylonese a lesson."

Instead, Ceylon stood her ground and turned to Russia for petroleum products. The Ceylonese also invited Russia to bid on the new refinery.

Thus, for the sake of teaching Ceylon a "lesson," Big Oil drove Ceylon into Soviet arms. The effect was to injure U. S.-Ceylonese relations perhaps for years to come.

In Thailand, the State Department through the AID program guaranteed the entire investment for a new refinery, a joint venture of British Shell and Standard of New Jersey.

This was discovered by Congressman Tom Steed, Oklahoma Democrat, who conducted a one-man investigation. He concluded that AID's policy "not only can guarantee an investment by the world's largest oil company but also insure the investment of its foreign partner."

Then Steed, in his unpublished report, added: "If this does not stifle competition and promote monopoly, then I do not know the meaning of the words!"

The Congressman from Oklahoma also charged that oil giants "have no real interest in the economy or security of the United States but, like the huge munitions manufacturers, are in fact internationalists, concerned only with making billions of dollars, however and wherever they can."

Two letters. . .

"Dear Jim: This afternoon, we got the results of the tests; my wife is pregnant. This bit of information, and the manner in which it is received, depends upon many factors. Were we praying for our first, it would mean one thing. Or for our second. Or our third. But this is number four.

"If the four were bunched together, it would be all right. But our oldest is a strapping 200-pounder. Our youngest is a pigtailed doll of 8. My wife and I are not kids. I'm 43: she'll be 40 in two months. I did a full 4 years in WWII as an infantryman. I was recalled for Korea and stayed for 7 years. So I'm now — at my age — about where the ordinary guy is 5 years after he starts out to set the world on fire.

"I have a responsible job. Three years ago, we bought a house. We eat too well, drive two cars, have two t.v. sets and all the comforts. So it's not a financial problem. It is the emotional impact upon my wife to discover at this late date that the Good Lord is about to bless us again—and after such a long drought.

"Me? Frankly, I have mixed emotions. I know that when this little one is in high school, I'll be an old man. I further realize that this is an additional responsibility; yet I feel I'm man enough to handle it. I realize that we're not as close to those days of sitting and dreaming without kids underfoot as we were a month ago. Our house is SRO when the two teenage boys bring in friends who are 50% appetite. This is going to mean a change in our way of living.

"On the other hand. . . Our youngest, I guess, will be grown and gone before we take our next breaths. The new one will be a world of pride and pleasure in the years ahead. The Lord matched us well; our children are the healthiest in the world—solid, wholesome kids. My wife and I both enjoy excellent health.

"I know that within your acquaintance there are many couples who have surmounted this situation. For my wife's sake, in the next few weeks, could you do a column on the subject? Something similar to your 'Lazy Sunday At Home' which invoked that happy, choked up feeling. . .

"So there's my first fan letter —at least, the first ever completed. I might even mail it. I needed someone to talk to. . .

Mr. R.
San Antonio, Texas."

"Dear Mr. Bishop:

"Your column of August 21st struck a responsive chord in me and I feel impelled to write to you. Truly you speak correctly 'Fire. . . Cannot Be Trusted.'

"I had never particularly feared fire. We were always prepared for it as best we could be. If we were at home we could do something about it. If we weren't home, it didn't matter. Our preparations were much as you say you have done — fire extinguishers all over the place; fire alarms which were to go off when heat became excessive; a rope for those upstairs to come down an outside window; adequate wiring.

"A little over a year ago, my husband Lawrence and I, and Carol, our oldest child, went to a PTA meeting in La Platta because it featured a Science Fair in which Carol had won a first place award. We left Jerry, 14, in charge of Johnny, 12, Douglas, 5, and Mark Randall, 9 months.

"We got home a little after ten. As we drove up, we noticed heavy smoke and wondered out loud what could be causing it. When we got into the driveway, Lawrence was out and running. I began yelling for the children to come out because there was no one in sight at all. I tried to go in the front door but even though I got clear down on the floor the smoke and heat were so bad I knew I didn't have much chance of getting to the baby.

"I went around the back and my husband said: "I don't know, Mommy' and that was the last I ever heard from him. He turned away from me and ran around to the front of the house. Jerry, our oldest boy, pointed to the flames and told me that daddy had gone through the front door. Had I seen him, I would have hung on for dear life. He would have had to drag me in too.

"Little Dougie was seen in the flames at the upstairs window, but he disappeared. I lost him that night. I lost Johnny, I lost Mark Randall. And I lost my husband. He was found close to the baby's crib.

"You wrote about fire. It brought back a night to remember.

"Sincerely,

Mrs. Eleanor S. Jones
La Plata, Maryland."

Mrs. Jones, you have answered the gentleman's question. Two letters. . .

Dandruff Conditions Require Specific Remedies

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

Dandruff is not a serious medical condition, but the victim is grateful when cure finally is achieved. This is true particularly when the scaling condition is caused by seborrheic dermatitis, psoriasis, or neuro-dermatitis. All of these disorders vary in severity, and best results are obtained when the specific remedy is obtained.

Ordinary dandruff is caused by normal scaling — a continuous flaking off of the outer layers of the scalp. This is not necessarily a sign of dryness or that the oil (sebanceous) glands are not functioning properly. The flakes fall like snow when the hair is combed or brushed or when the scalp is scratched. Nothing need be done except to brush the scales off the shoulders. But do something if the scalp is unsightly, too oily, or red and itchy.

Seborrheic dermatitis is related somewhat to acne. In most instances, there is excessive oiliness of the scalp as well as greasy scaling, crusting, and redness. Parting of the hair discloses yellowish-brown, greasy crusts with red margins.

Frequent, often daily, shampoos are suggested for the scalp that is oily without scaling. Use a good soap or non-sudsing detergent such as Acidolate or tincture of green soap. A medicated shampoo such as Fostex cream or Ioquin, or a regular shampoo plus Selsum, is suggested when light scaling and oiliness are present.

But stronger medication may be needed when there is excessive scaling and oiliness. An ointment containing tar, sulfur, and salicylic acid (Pragmatar) should be applied and left on the scalp all night. Tincture of green soap is used in the morning as a shampoo. This program is followed for several nights in a row and then twice a week for two weeks.

Psoriasis of the scalp is treated like psoriasis elsewhere. The thick, heavy scales are difficult to remove although they can be eased off through the use of a salt and phenol mixture (Baker's P&S liquid) or a synthetic corticosteroid. Neurodermatitis (lichen simplex) is considered when the back of the head always itches and scratching induces redness, crusts, and scales. The best plan is to apply the newer corticosteroid creams, but some physicians prefer to inject the hormone under the scaly patches.

BLINKER

Mrs. E. R. writes: I have a 5-year-old boy who blinks his lids quite a bit. Do you think his eyes are weak?

REPLY

He may need glasses or this may be a bad habit, similar to a tic.

INHERITED TRAITS

A. Q. writes: Many times we hear the expression, "Born and bred in them." Do you believe that character traits can be inherited the same as physical likenesses?

REPLY

Yes, and, in many instances, these traits are discernible during the first year of life. This is most noticeable when there is more than one child in the family.

TENSION AND GLAUCOMA

R. B. writes: Do nerves play an important part in glaucoma?

REPLY

Yes, in that emotional upsets may increase the pressure within the eyeball.

TINEA CAPITIS

K. H. writes: How is ringworm on a child's scalp treated?

REPLY

Griseofulvin, the antifungal tablet.

DRY MOUTH

M. S. writes: Will high blood pressure medicine make the mouth dry?

REPLY

Side effects occur with many of the antihyptertensive drugs but dry mouth is not a common reaction. The exception perhaps is dibenzyline.

MOSQUITO BAIT

Mrs. M. writes: Do mosquitoes stay away from people who eat very little sweets?

REPLY

No. I doubt if food has anything to do with attracting or discouraging mosquitoes. These insects must bite in order to taste the blood.

TOMORROW: Leukemias vary.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

Returning to her home in the mountains after a visit to the nation's capital, Mrs. Hatfield complained that the Washington monument was a fraud. "It doesn't look like him at all," she insisted.

A Canadian magazine tells of an amiable young housewife who entertained her neighbor's little boy every morning. He arrives promptly each day at ten. To surprise him one time, she got down on her hands and knees, and as the door opened, growled "Woof! Woof!" In walked the new minister of her church, come to solicit her help in a fund-raising drive!

Probably the two shortest poems extant: Ogden Nash's "The Bronx? No thanx," and the anonymous line concerning the antiquity of fleas: "Adam had 'em."

Any Overtures From Peking?

The 119th meeting in a curious series of Sino-American diplomatic exchanges is scheduled today in Warsaw. The periodic sessions bring together the U.S. Ambassador to Poland, John Moors Cabot, and his Chinese counterpart, Wang Ping-nan, for a discussion of "matters at issue" between the two powers. In the absence of normal diplomatic relations, the talks — begun in 1955—provide the only direct channel of communication between the United States and Red China.

Last month's meeting, the first since the breakdown of the Chinese-Soviet ideological talks, created a stir that now appears to have been unwarranted. The ambassadors met for three hours and 35 minutes, more than an hour longer than usual, and some correspondents of American newspapers thought that more than routine topics had been discussed. The ambassadors are bound by a pact of silence, so the reporters were on their own. The New York Times reported that the time devoted to the conversation "heightened speculation in Warsaw that the Chinese might be exploring the possibility of easing tensions between Peking and Washington."

America's China lobby can breathe easy. Sources now suggest that the parties simply hadn't sat down together for four months and had more than the usual number of recriminations to exchange. Red China's nastiest charge against Soviet Premier Khrushchev is that he insists on coexisting with the West; Mao Tse-tung may need a counter-move to his widening rift with Moscow, but there is no reason to believe he is prepared to come lie with "imperialists."

The differences between the United States and Communist China seem to be unmanageable and the best that can be hoped from the Warsaw talks for the time being is that they will give both sides a chance to blow off steam.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Vice Presidential Talk

The time has come to talk about Vice Presidential candidates. I say this because of the widespread feeling in Republican circles that "Goldwater's got it"—meaning, of course, the Presidential nomination. It is not so much that Republicans are certain that Barry is the man with the potential to beat a popular Kennedy. There are differences of opinion on that. But many possible local Republican candidates for state and Congressional offices are sure that, even with a losing Barry Goldwater at the head of the ticket, they themselves would have a better chance of pulling through. "Barry," says one pro, "would put steam behind local tickets."

With Barry "in" so far as first place on the Republican slate is concerned, as seems to be conceded even by New York Times Washington correspondents who would never vote for him, the question of balancing the ticket becomes uppermost. It goes without saying that a Vice President on a Goldwater ticket must be differentiated from Goldwater on both a regional and a philosophical basis. Plotting the choice mechanically, the Vice Presidential nomination should go to Governor Nelson Rockefeller or to Senator Jacob Javits, both of "liberal" and undeniably eastern New York State.

However, the cut-and-dried mechanics of the situation break down in this particular case. If women have been truly outraged by Rockefeller's divorce and remarriage to a divorced mother, they would object to him as a second place man no less than as head of the ticket. Moreover, Rockefeller has the Achilles temperament: if he can't be the leader, it is doubtful that he would be willing to take a position as second in command.

Javits, of course, is something else again. But Javits has been so blatantly at odds with everything that Goldwater stands for that a Goldwater-Javits slate might seem offensively cynical. The Democrats would be able to make an inordinate amount of election day yardage merely by playing up the ideological clash between Goldwater and Javits as is proved by their respective Senatorial voting records.

So write New York State off, then, as good quarrying ground for Republican Vice Presidential timber in 1964. That is, write it off if Senator Keating, who would provide a good geographical and philosophical balance, still insists on running again for the Senate, as he seems so wholeheartedly intent upon doing.

With New York out for such special reasons, the choice narrows down to any one of three or four populous industrial states in the northeastern quarter of the nation. Senator Case of New Jersey shares the shortcomings of Senator Javits: he is too blatantly "liberal" to seem like a sincere offering on a Goldwater ticket. Governor Scranton of Pennsylvania, a liberal with just enough protective coloration in fiscal matters to be palatable to conservatives, would make a fair choice for a Goldwater running mate.

Ohio's Governor Rhodes is another possibility, though his personality may seem at first glance to be too colorless and unobtrusive to generate election day sparks. Illinois' own "Ev" Dirksen, Senate Minority Leader, comes appropriately from a state that can be considered on the outermost edge of the industrial Northeast and hence would provide geographical balance to Arizona's Goldwater. But the philosophical balance here would manifestly be missing.

My own feeling is that the best running mate for Goldwater would be the man from Michigan, Governor George Romney. As a Presidential possibility he has been running way ahead of Governor Scranton in the public opinion polls. This popularity could rub off on him as Vice Presidential timber. Although the United Automobile Workers did not endorse him for Governor of Michigan, Romney has pulling power in labor circles because of the generous profit-sharing contract with the UAW local which he helped write when he was head of the American Motors Company. He has been against industrial "bigness," which should endear him to the liberals who fear the power of the corporations. Incidentally, his old labor relations man in American Motors, Eddie Cushman, would make a wonderful Secretary of Labor.

With all his liberal coloration, Romney, a top-flight industrialist, could not be anathema to believers in free enterprise. And his Mormon religious affiliation is a guarantee that he would not be in favor of centralizing all the welfare services of the nation under a Washington bureaucracy. The Mormons believe in self-help, church-help, and town-and-state help before they believe in federal help.

A Goldwater-Romney ticket—what a dream ticket that would be.

State Department Helps 'Big Oil' To Exclusion Of Independent Firms

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy may not know it, but his State Department has been going out of its way to boost the international operations of the companies owned by the administration's most effective critic—Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Time after time, the State Department has reached out a helping and vigorous hand to help Standard Oil of New Jersey, the No. 1 oil company; also Standard of California, another big Rockefeller moneymaker, and Socony. These three, together with Gulf, Texas, Shell and British Petroleum are known inside the industry as the "Seven Sisters."

When Big Oil can't get what it wants in foreign countries, the State Department tries to get it for them. While the State Department is supposed to protect American interests abroad, it is charged not to help one company, or a group of companies as against others. Burma's Alignment: Halfway To Peking?

By Joseph Alsop

RANGOON, Burma

In its present stage, this disordered but lovely small country can best be described as halfway to Peking.

Gen. Ne Win, boss of Burma by virtue of an army coup d'etat, started his career as a stout anti-Communist. In principle, he is still anti-Communist, but he is certainly a patriot who wants above all things to insure Burma's independence. Yet the road he has taken nonetheless must finally lead to semi-subordination to Peking unless he changes direction pretty abruptly at some later date.

To be specific, Ne Win's National Revolutionary Council of army officers has now begun negotiations for a peace settlement with the principal faction of the Burmese Communists, the so-called "White Flags" headed by Thakin Than Tun.

As far as Ne Win is concerned, the object of these negotiations is clearly to end the interminable civil war here. Thus he hopes to get cracking with his "Burmese way to socialism," which chiefly seems to mean national ownership of just about everything in sight, including the stalls of the street peddlers.

The motive of Thakin Than Tun, meanwhile, is obviously to obtain recognition and standing in Burma, comparable to the recognition and standing according to the Cuban Communist party in stage of the Castro revolution. As Than Tun, by general admission, is much the cleverest politician in Burma today, he no doubt hopes to improve his position rather rapidly, once he has been recognized and given an open political role.

No one can of course be sure that the present negotiations will produce a positive result; but most people here expect them to end in a peace agreement between Gen. Ne Win and the majority faction of the Burmese Communists. What makes this prospect so particularly interesting is the recent development of Communsim in Burma.

In brief, peace with the government has already been rejected by the minority Communist group, the "Red Flags," led by Thakin Soe. But this minority is unimportant, being composed of only a few hundred guerrilla fighters. Their political character may be judged by Thakin Soe's current line, that Mao Tse-tung is not nearly Stalinist enough.

Thakin Than Tun's group in contrast, is large and powerful; and until only 10 or 12 months ago he and his followers were supposed to be adherents of Moscow in the Peking-Moscow feud. They have now gone over, however, to the side of Peking.

An important episode in this decision in Peking's favor was clearly the return from China of a number of key party members and Communist ex-army officers who had spent years in training there. Members of this group led by Bo Zeya are included in the Communist delegation which is carrying on the current peace talks.

The new party line was clearly enunciated at a press conference by the delegation spokesman, Yebaw Htay. He denounced India for "attacking" China; he sharply attacked the nuclear test ban treaty; and in general he took the straight Peking line.

One of the more curious results of the Burmese Communists' choice of Peking has been the abrupt isolation of the Soviet embassy here. In consequence, no doubt under instructions from Moscow, the Soviet diplomats in Burma are now carrying on an almost embarrassingly warm courtship of the American embassy. But that is by the way.

The really significant result of the new pro-Peking Communist line will only appear if and when the Communists reach a peace agreement with Ne Win. In this event, the newly recognized and accepted Communist leaders will constitute a powerful pressure-group, always tending to push Ne Win and his government towards an alignment with Peking crudely similar to Castro's alignment with Moscow.

The somber, isolated Ne Win is certainly no Castro. He might be more popular than he is if he resembled Castro a bit more. He has also been putting out some anchors to windward, for instance by striking up a friendship with the strongly pro-Western Prime Minister of Thailand, Gen. Sarit Thanarat. He will certainly fight hard against giving the Communists in Burma anything like the predominant power they now have in Cuba.

But the direction Gen. Ne Win has taken is pretty clear nonetheless. His own increasing isolation may help to push him down this road if the Communists rally to his support after the peace agreement. Above all, he will find it very difficult not to go to the road's end if he is also pushed by events elsewhere in Asia—on the Indian frontier, for example. That ias why halfway to Peking reasonably sums up the present position here.

Inside Washington

ART TREASURE — If anyone in government today can afford to have a Mona Lisa hanging on his office wall, it's Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. Yet, Kennedy's Mona Lisa didn't cost him a cent.

Admittedly, it isn't the original, which is back in the Louvre after a huge success in its display in Washington and New York. In fact, one has to be told the picture is a copy of the Mona Lisa before it is recognized as such.

But that doesn't bother Bobby. The picture fits well into the decor of his office and is of a piece with the other "art" works decorating his hall-like office in the Department of Justice.

The artist who made the copy was inspired by his visit to a Washington Art Gallery when the original Mona Lisa was on display there. As a result, David Kennedy, who enters the third grade this fall, decided he'd do a copy of the famed work of art for his father.

The proud father promptly hung his son's inspired work on his office wall, along with similar efforts by numerous of his other children. And the attorney general values it more highly than the original.

BLACK DAY — J. Edward Day, who resigned as postmaster general, made some enemies in the process. Just 24 hours before he announced that he was returning to private life, Day with a straight face told reporters that rumors of his impending departure from Kennedy's Cabinet were incorrect.

Politicians make a career of misinformation and are rather callous about it, but unfortunately reporters instinctively react angrily to misinformation.

There was some question whether Day jumped or was pushed out of his Cabinet post. Some reporters have been busy trying to find out which.

If it should develop that Day left because he was asked to, you can be sure newsmen will make the most of it — to let future New Frontier members know that they are not immune to retaliation.

San Antonio, Texas."

"Dear Mr. Bishop:

"Your column of August 21st struck a responsive chord in me and I feel impelled to write to you. Truly you speak correctly 'Fire. . . Cannot Be Trusted.'

"I had never particularly feared fire. We were always prepared for it as best we could be. If we were at home we could do something about it. If we weren't home, it didn't matter. Our preparations were much as you say you have done — fire extinguishers all over the place; fire alarms which were to go off when heat became excessive; a rope for those upstairs to come down an outside window; adequate wiring.

"A little over a year ago, my husband Lawrence and I, and Carol, our oldest child, went to a PTA meeting in La Platta because it featured a Science Fair in which Carol had won a first place award. We left Jerry, 14, in charge of Johnny, 12, Douglas, 5, and Mark Randall, 9 months.

"We got home a little after ten. As we drove up, we noticed heavy smoke and wondered out loud what could be causing it. When we got into the driveway, Lawrence was out and running. I began yelling for the children to come out because there was no one in sight at all. I tried to go in the front door but even though I got clear down on the floor the smoke and heat were so bad I knew I didn't have much chance of getting to the baby.

"I went around the back and my husband said: "I don't know, Mommy' and that was the last I ever heard from him. He turned away from me and ran around to the front of the house. Jerry, our oldest boy, pointed to the flames and told me that daddy had gone through the front door. Had I seen him, I would have hung on for dear life. He would have had to drag me in too.

"Little Dougie was seen in the flames at the upstairs window, but he disappeared. I lost him that night. I lost Johnny. I lost Mark Randall. And I lost my husband. He was found close to the baby's crib.

"You wrote about fire. It brought back a night to remember.

"Sincerely,

Mrs. Eleanor S. Jones
La Plata, Maryland."

Mrs. Jones, you have answered the gentleman's question. Two letters. . .

Dandruff Conditions Require Specific Remedies

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

Dandruff is not a serious medical condition, but the victim is grateful when cure finally is achieved. This is true particularly when the scaling condition is caused by seborrheic dermatitis, psoriasis, or neuro-dermatitis. All of these disorders vary in severity, and best results are obtained when the specific remedy is obtained.

Ordinary dandruff is caused by normal scaling — a continuous flaking off of the outer layers of the scalp. This is not necessarily a sign of dryness or that the oil (sebanceous) glands are not functioning properly. The flakes fall like snow when the hair is combed or brushed or when the scalp is scratched. Nothing need be done except to brush the scales off the shoulders. But do something if the scalp is unsightly, too oily, or red and itchy.

Seborrheic dermatitis is related somewhat to acne. In most instances, there is excessive oiliness of the scalp as well as greasy scaling, crusting, and redness. Parting of the hair discloses yellowish-brown, greasy crusts with red margins.

Frequent, often daily, shampoos are suggested for the scalp that is oily without scaling. Use a good soap or non-sudsing detergent such as Acidolate or tincture of green soap. A medicated shampoo such as Fostex cream or Ioquin, or a regular shampoo plus Selsum, is suggested when light scaling and oiliness are present.

But stronger medication may be needed when there is excessive scaling and oiliness. An ointment containing tar, sulfur, and salicylic acid (Pragmatar) should be applied and left on the scalp all night. Tincture of green soap is used in the morning as a shampoo. This program is followed for several nights in a row and then twice a week for two weeks.

Psoriasis of the scalp is treated like psoriasis elsewhere. The thick, heavy scales are difficult to remove although they can be eased off through the use of a salt and phenol mixture (Baker's P&S liquid) or a synthetic corticosteroid. Neurodermatitis (lichen simplex) is considered when the back of the head always itches and scratching induces redness, crusts, and scales. The best plan is to apply the newer corticosteroid creams, but some physicians prefer to inject the hormone under the scaly patches.

BLINKER

Mrs. E. R. writes: I have a 5-year-old boy who blinks his lids quite a bit. Do you think his eyes are weak?
REPLY
He may need glasses or this may be a bad habit, similar to a tic.

INHERITED TRAITS

A. Q. writes: Many times we hear the expression, "Born and bred in them." Do you believe that character traits can be inherited the same as physical likenesses?
REPLY
Yes, and, in many instances, these traits are discernible during the first year of life. This is most noticeable when there is more than one child in the family.

TENSION AND GLAUCOMA

R. B. writes: Do nerves play an important part in glaucoma?
REPLY
Yes, in that emotional upsets may increase the pressure within the eyeball.

TINEA CAPITIS

K. H. writes: How is ringworm on a child's scalp treated?
REPLY
Griseofulvin, the antifungal tablet.

DRY MOUTH

M. S. writes: Will high blood pressure medicine make the mouth dry?
REPLY

MOSQUITO BAIT

Mrs. M. writes: Do mosquitoes stay away from people who eat very little sweets?
REPLY
No. I doubt if food has anything to do with attracting or discouraging mosquitoes. These insects must bite in order to taste the blood.

TOMORROW: Leukemias vary.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Returning to her home in the mountains after a visit to the nation's capital, Mrs. Hatfield complained that the Washington monument was a fraud. "It doesn't look like him at all," she insisted.

A Canadian magazine tells of an amiable young housewife who entertained her neighbor's little boy every morning. He arrives promptly each day at ten. To surprise him one time, she got down on her hands and knees, and as the door opened, growled "Woof! Woof!" In walked the new minister of her church, come to solicit her help in a fund-raising drive!

Probably the two shortest poems extant: Ogden Nash's "The Bronx? No thanx," and the anonymous line concerning the antiquity of fleas: "Adam had 'em."

A parking meter which disappeared from Glasgow, Scotland, has been found — cemented into the pavement in Newcastle-Upon-Tyne, some 160 miles away. That's funny — never heard of one of those gadgets playing hookey before!

A British eight-year-old has just caught a six-foot blue shark. That kid might as well retire as a fisherman — he'll never beat that!

Zadok Dumkopf wonders why they call those cross-over road systems "clover-leafs"—since nature never developed anything as complicated as that.

Fortunately there was no blast when a British fishing trawler snagged onto an unexploded World War mine off Aldeburgh. Now, that's what we call getting a "live one" on the line!

Koufax Breaks Own Strikeout Record As Dodgers Beat Pirates, 4-2

LA Southpaw Gets 23rd Win, Fans Nine Bucs

Wally Moon Raps Two-Run Homer In Seventh Inning

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Sandy Koufax set a National League strikeout record and became the winningest left-hander for one season in club history Tuesday night while pitching the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 4-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Koufax struck out nine to give him 276 for the season, wiping out the mark of 269 he set in 1961. The victory was Koufax' 23rd of the season, bettering by one the club record for left-handers established by Nat Rucker in 1911 and tied by Preacher Roe in 1953, when the team was still in Brooklyn.

His 23 wins also are tops in the majors thus far this year.

The Dodgers scored one run in the first inning on successive singles by Wally Moon, Tommy Davis and Ron Fairly. They picked up another in the sixth when Fairly walked and rode home as Bob Bailey threw Frank Howard's ground ball into right field on an attempted force out.

Moon's home run, his eighth, with Jim Gilliam abroad in the seventh got the Dodgers two more runs.

Pittsburgh tallied once in the seventh when Ted Savage singled, took third on Tommy Davis' error in left field and went home on Bailey's single. Roberto Clemente hit his 16th homer of the year in the eighth inning for the second run.

Don Cardwell (13-14) was charged with the loss.

New York Mets Trim Giants, 4-2

NEW YORK (UPI) — Carl Willey pitched the New York Mets to a 4-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants Tuesday night during an historic game in which three brothers played for the same team for the first time in major league history.

A crowd of 14,945 was treated to the unprecedented spectacle of three brothers performing for the same club at the same time when Jesus, Matty and Felipe Alou batted in consecutive order against Willey in the eighth inning.

Willey retired the three Alous in order and had a four-hit shutout until the ninth when Willie McCovey led off with his 38th homer and Orlando Cepeda connected for his 29th with two out in the same frame.

The victory was Willey's ninth against 12 losses. Billy O'Dell, who failed to get past the second inning, was charged with his eighth setback in 20 decisions.

Ragusa Is Favored In St. Leger Stakes

DONCASTER, England (UPI)—Ragusa, Scottish owned colt quoted Tuesday at odds of 2 to 5, will start as the hottest favorite for several years in a field of 10 crack 3-year-olds in the St. Leger Stakes Wednesday.

The St. Leger, the fifth and final of the season's classic horse races, will be run over one mile, six furlongs with the winner netting $89,600.

Just two colts in the field of 10 are given a chance to beat this odd-on favorite. They are Only For Life and Merchant Venturer.

Musial Paced Floor Waiting For His First Grandchild

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Stan (The Man) Musial, father of four, said Tuesday he "paced the floor" waiting for his first grandchild.

Musial, veteran St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, became a grandfather Tuesday morning.

The 42-year-old Musial, was home with his wife Lillian when the telephone call came from his Army lieutenant son, Richard, in Kansas.

The baby, named Jeffrey, was born at the Ft. Riley Hospital and weighed 7 pounds, 15 ounces.

Johnson-Machen Bout Postponed

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Heavyweight Eddie Machen's comeback bout against Alonzo Johnson of Pittsburgh, originally scheduled for Wednesday night, has been postponed until next Monday because of Johnson's illness, matchmaker Jack Taylor announced Tuesday.

Johnson's handlers early Tuesday informed Taylor that the Pittsburgh boxer was suffering from a bad cold and could not meet Machen. After verifying Johnson's illness, Taylor announced the fight would be held Monday.

Mrs. Young's Team Wins CCC Pro-Am

Mrs. George M. Young's threesome won the pro-am tournament held yesterday by the Women's Golf Association at the Cumberland Country Club with a low net of 67.

The winning combination was composed of Mrs. Young, pro, Mrs. Robert Wilkins and Mrs. Dave Sigel.

Mrs. G. L. Bowie, pro, Mrs. Lynn Lashley and Mrs. John G. Lucas, Jr., finished second with a net of 69.

Forty-two members participated in the tourney.

A mixed scotch foursome tournament is scheduled at the Cumberland Country Club Friday.

Officials Mum About Braves' Plans To Move To Atlanta

Milwaukee Says Three Cities Are After Franchise

CHICAGO (AP)—Major League officials were noncommittal Tuesday when questioned about reports that the Milwaukee Braves are considering the possibility of moving to Atlanta.

"I wouldn't know anything about it," said Commissioner Ford Frick after concluding a one-day meeting to iron out details of major league working agreements with triple A teams.

"Who says so?" asked National League President Warren Giles. When shown a story appearing in Chicago's American stating that Atlanta will become the next new city to field a major league club if and when the Braves move Giles hurried on and said, "I'm glad I'm leaving town."

Officials of the Braves, however, indicated there are solid reasons for the reports concerning a possible franchise shift.

Executive Vice President Thomas A. Reynolds Jr., a member of the syndicate which purchased the Braves last season from Lou Perini who originally moved the team from Boston to Milwaukee in 1953, said "No decision has been made."

"Atlanta, Seattle and San Diego all have been after us," said Reynolds, "but we're going to take a long, hard look before we do anything.

"No decision of any kind will be made until following our directors' meeting after the end of the season."

John McHale, president and general manager of the Braves, said, "Any time a team is having attendance problems there are always rumors of a franchise shift. Yes, we've been approached by Atlanta. That group is persuasive. But the Atlanta people also have approached the Cleveland and Kansas City teams. They are persistent and they have big plans."

Atlanta reportedly has abandoned hopes of getting either Cleveland or Kansas City. The Cleveland club reportedly has turned down the Atlanta offer and the American League probably would block a shift anywhere outside of the West Coast.

An American League team is needed on the West Coast to create a rivalry with the Los Angeles Angels and cut down travel expenses of other teams which now go to the Pacific shorelands for one series at a time.

Louisville To Give Away 133,000 Tickets, Stadium Seats 28,000

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The University of Louisville plays its home football games at Fairgrounds Stadium, seating capacity 28,000.

Yet, officials didn't even blink as they announced Tuesday they would give away 133,000 tickets to elementary and high school pupils in the Louisville area for the Cardinals' first two games.

The opponents are Southern Illinois on Oct. 5 and Dayton Oct. 12.

"We want to try to get young people coming to our games and feeling they are a part of the university," said publicist Les Wilson.

He said such promotions usually draw 10 to 20 per cent response.

Guldahl Will Join Hall Of Fame Dec. 3

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI) —Ralph Guldahl, the newest member of the Professional Golfers' Association (PGA) Hall of Fame, will be formally inducted at Palm Beach, Fla., Dec. 3, it was announced Tuesday.

The tall 52-year-old Texan was voted into the Hall of Fame by members of the PGA. He won by a wide margin over nine other nominees, according to Lou Strong, the PGA president.

Guldahl dominated golf for four years — from 1936 through 1939 —when he won 11 tournaments and was runnerup in eight others.

During that period he won the National Open twice, the Western Open three times and the Masters once.

Carry Back Heads 10 In UN Handicap

Carries 2nd Top Weight Saturday

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Mrs. Katherine Price's Carry Back, continuing his comeback after a stretch on the breeding farm, heads a field of 10 named Tuesday for the $125,000 United Nations Handicap at the Atlantic City race course Saturday.

The 5-year-old son of Saggy, who returned to racing Aug. 17, will carry second top weight of 127 pounds in this turf championship test of 1 3-16 miles.

Carry Back's opposition includes Greentree Stable's top-weighted The Axe 2nd, 128; Mrs. Alfred J. Giordano's Hot Dust, 114; Crimson King Farm's Crimson Satan, 125; Montpelier's Mongo, 124; Hill-N-Dale Farm's Bronze Babu, 120; Morton Johnson's Hard Rock Man, 120; Victor G. Graber's Cadiz, 119; Elmendorf's B. Major, 118, and Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend, 118.

Carry Back was withdrawn from the Washington Park Handicap two weeks ago because of an injury to the inside sesamoid of the front left leg. The injury has completely healed.

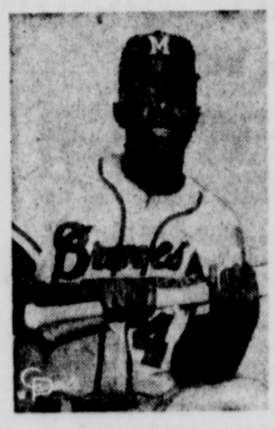
SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

OVERLOOKED in this baseball season of fine pitching, 20-game winners and a Yankee runaway has been the consistent fine performance of Henry Louis (Hank) Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves, who could grab more batting laurels than anyone in baseball this year.



Hank Aaron

The "Triple Crown" is within reach, for Hank now has a big bulge in runs-batted-in, leads in homers and is battling Dick Groat of the Cards and Tommy Davis of the Dodgers for the batting title.

Winning hitting titles is nothing new for Hank, for he was a wow in his two years in the minors, all it took to get him ready for the majors.

And, in his nine years in the majors the smooth-swinging native of Mobile, Ala., has a career mark of .320, second highest among active players, and has led the N.L. in total bases five times, runs batted-in, hits and doubles twice and home runs, slugging percentage and runs scored, once.

Breaking in with Eau Claire in the Northern league in mid-season of 1952, Hank soon attracted the attention of the Braves' big club officials for he hit .336 in 87 games, playing as a shortstop.

The next season he was the hottest item in the minors, as a second baseman for Jacksonville of the Sally League. Here he hit .362, leading the league in every department but homers and triples, in which he was runner-up in both.

• • •

ONE of several rookies in the Braves' training camp in 1954, Hank got his chance to break into the regular lineup when Bobby Thomson, the former Giants' hero, broke his ankle in spring training. Hank himself broke his ankle that next September as he was on a hot hitting streak, and then was out for the season. But in that freshman year with the Braves he hit a homer in each park in the league and batted .280.

He has been a regular since, and one of the most solid men in the Braves' lineup. He has missed only 13 games in nine years and has won all sorts of honors, including being selected on the All-Star team every year since 1955.

• • •

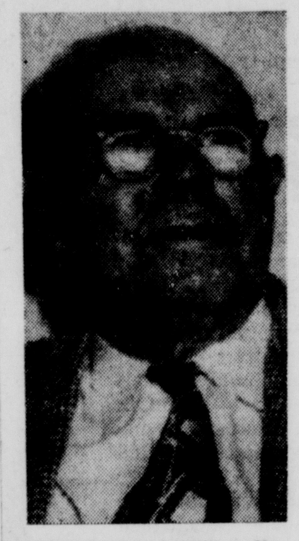
MOST UNUSUAL make-up of Aaron is his size and his amazing power. He was only 5'10" tall when he broke in and had difficulty making 170 pounds. He now has grown to six feet but still weighs under 180.

Like Ted Williams, this Brave star is a well-coordinated athlete and gains his power with wrist action.

He's a fine outfielder, too, and over the last several years he has never made more than seven miscues in a season.

Willie Heston, Michigan Grid Great, Dies At 85

Played With Yost's Great Teams; Made All-America Twice



DIES—William (Willie) Heston, University of Michigan football star of an early gridiron era, died yesterday in a Traverse City, Mich. Hospital. He was 85. Heston starred on Coach Fielding H. Yost's famed "point-a-minute" teams 60 years ago. (AP Photofax)

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) —The University of Michigan's great Willie Heston, who struck fear into the hearts of Wolverine football rivals of another era, is dead at 85.

Heston, plunging halfback of Coach Fielding H. (Hurry Up) Yost's "point-a-minute" teams 60 years ago and first player outisde the East's Ivy League to make All-America, died Monday night in Munson Hospital here. He was born near Galesburg, Ill., and attended high school at Grants Pass, Ore. Death came on his birthday.

Ill recently after his many decades of a vigorous life, Heston entered the hospital a few days ago from his Lake Manistee summer retirement home in northern Michigan.

The octogenarian, one of the athletic world's all-time greats, was ever the champion of an active life.

Had Fun Loafing

"I don't run the half mile any more and I've quit going to dances," he said not long ago. "But I smoke seven cigars a day and I'm having a lot of fun loafing and living."

Heston leaves his widow, the former Sarah E. Williams of Bay City; two sons, John and William M. Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Fred Ritter. Mrs. Heston was his second wife. His first wife died.

Six Michigan All-Americas will be Heston's pallbearers at funeral services Friday from the Querfeld Funeral Home in Dearborn. They are Ernie Vick, Jack Blott, Bennie Oosterbaan, Francis Wistert, Harry Newman and Otto Pommerening. All played for Michigan between 1921 and 1933. Burial will be in Michigan Memorial Park.

Lawyer By Profession

A lawyer by profession, Heston was a court judge in Detroit for a time. He served on the Recorder's (criminal) Court bench.

Halfback Heston and Yost's tremendous, high-scoring Michigan teams dominated college football of the West at the turn of the century.

Willie—who played four years 1900-1904 of varsity, prior to college football's no-freshman rule—is credited in the records with scoring 93 touchdowns and a total of 465 points.

The late Walter Camp, who originated the All-America team, chose Heston to his team twice, in 1903 and 1904.

Bowhunters Plan Wand Stump Shoot Saturday, Sunday

The Cumberland Bowhunters, Inc., will conduct their annual wand stump shoot at their range located on Pine Ridge Road Saturday and Sunday with casual registration from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

The targets are long vertical bands of various sizes, according to distances, which represent wands, on pictures of stumps. This was derived from the myth that Robinhood split a wand placed in front of a stump with one arrow.

This will be a 28-target field tournament, and four arrows will be shot from the field stakes at each target with one point earned for each hit—a possible perfect score of 112.

Beautiful walnut plaques will be awarded to winners. All archers are urged to participate in this special event. Non-club members are welcome, and refreshments will be available at the clubhouse.

Maplehurst's Fall Tourney Under Way

Three first round matches in the championship flight of the men's fall tournament at Maplehurst Country Club were completed yesterday. Maury Goodman defeated John Diamond one up, Charles Pinto won over Bob Porter, 3 and 1, and Tom Gracie decisioned Dr. Thomas Baucom, 2 and 1.

In first flight play, Miller Bowen defeated Mo Scott, 3 and 1, and Harold Conrad Jr. bested Jack Spates, one up on the 18th. Harold Conrad Sr. won by default over George Carney, and Tom Blair defeated Tony Matese, one up on the 19th, in third flight competition.

In a ladies' tournament staged yesterday at MCC, Mrs. Louis Bampton was the "A" division winner, Mrs. Margaret Wonn and Mrs. Emma Gingerich tied for "B" group honors, and Mrs. Ricky Hughes won the "C" division title.

Negroes Admitted, Football Dropped

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — The Tuskegee High School football team voted Tuesday to disband and play no more games this season because the school admitted 13 Negro students.

The players, most of whom reportedly have been boycotting the school, said they voted by an overwhelming majority not to represent the school.

Yankees Blanked By Athletics, 2-0

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A two-run double by Charley Lau in the eighth inning broke up a scoreless game and gave the Kansas City Athletics a 2-0 victory over the pennant-bound New York Yankees Tuesday night. It was the second straight for the A's over the Yankees.

Diego Segui, who held the Yankees to five hits through eight innings, got the victory. Ted Bowsfield and John Wyatt relieved in the ninth when the Yankees threatened.

Ralph Terry took the loss to run his record to 16-14.

Koufax Breaks Own Strikeout Record As Dodgers Beat Pirates, 4-2

LA Southpaw Gets 23rd Win, Fans Nine Bucs

Wally Moon Raps Two-Run Homer In Seventh Inning

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Sandy Koufax set a National League strikeout record and became the winningest left-hander for one season in club history Tuesday night while pitching the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 4-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Koufax struck out nine to give him 276 for the season, wiping out the mark of 269 he set in 1961. The victory was Koufax' 23rd of the season, bettering by one the club record for left-handers established by Nat Rucker in 1911 and tied by Preacher Roe in 1953, when the team was still in Brooklyn.

His 23 wins also are tops in the majors thus far this year.

The Dodgers scored one run in the first inning on successive singles by Wally Moon, Tommy Davis and Ron Fairly. They picked up another in the sixth when Fairly walked and rode home as Bob Bailey threw Frank Howard's ground ball into right field on an attempted force out.

Moon's home run, his eighth, with Jim Gilliam abroad in the seventh got the Dodgers two more runs.

Pittsburgh tallied once in the seventh when Ted Savage singled, took third on Tommy Davis' error in left field and went home on Bailey's single. Roberto Clemente hit his 16th homer of the year in the eighth inning for the second run.

Don Cardwell (13-14) was charged with the loss.

New York Mets Trim Giants, 4-2

NEW YORK (UPI) — Carl Willey pitched the New York Mets to a 4-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants Tuesday night during an historic game in which three brothers played for the same team for the first time in major league history.

A crowd of 14,945 was treated to the unprecedented spectacle of three brothers performing for the same club at the same time when Jesus, Matty and Felipe Alou batted in consecutive order against Willey in the eighth inning.

Willey retired the three Alous in order and had a four-hit shutout until the ninth when Willie McCovey led off with his 38th homer and Orlando Cepeda connected for his 29th with two out in the same frame.

The victory was Willey's ninth against 12 losses. Billy O'Dell, who failed to get past the second inning, was charged with his eighth setback in 20 decisions.

Ragusa Is Favored In St. Leger Stakes

DONCASTER, England (UPI)—Ragusa, Scottish owned colt quoted Tuesday at odds of 2 to 5, will start as the hottest favorite for several years in a field of 10 crack 3-year-olds in the St. Leger Stakes Wednesday.

The St. Leger, the fifth and final of the season's classic horse races, will be run over one mile, six furlongs with the winner netting $89,600.

Just two colts in the field of 10 are given a chance to beat this odd-on favorite. They are Only For Life and Merchant Venturer.

Musial Paced Floor Waiting For His First Grandchild

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Stan (The Man) Musial, father of four, said Tuesday he "paced the floor" waiting for his first grandchild.

Musial, veteran St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, became a grandfather Tuesday morning.

The 42-year-old Musial, was home with his wife Lillian when the telephone call came from his Army lieutenant son, Richard, in Kansas.

The baby, named Jeffrey, was born at the Ft. Riley Hospital and weighed 7 pounds, 15 ounces.

Johnson-Machen Bout Postponed

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) —Heavyweight Eddie Machen's comeback bout against Alonzo Johnson of Pittsburgh, originally scheduled for Wednesday night, has been postponed until next Monday because of Johnson's illness, matchmaker Jack Taylor announced Tuesday.

Johnson's handlers early Tuesday informed Taylor that the Pittsburgh boxer was suffering from a bad cold and could not meet Machen. After verifying Johnson's illness, Taylor announced the fight would be held Monday.

Mrs. George M. Young's threesome won the pro-am tournament held yesterday by the Women's Golf Association at the Cumberland Country Club with a low net of 67.

The winning combination was composed of Mrs. Young, pro, Mrs. Robert Wilkins and Mrs. Dave Sigel.

Mrs. G. L. Bowie, pro, Mrs. Lynn Lashley and Mrs. John G. Lucas, Jr., finished second with a net of 69.

Forty-two members participated in the tourney.

A mixed scotch foursome tournament is scheduled at the Cumberland Country Club Friday.

Officials Mum About Braves' Plans To Move To Atlanta

Milwaukee Says Three Cities Are After Franchise

CHICAGO (AP)—Major League officials were noncommittal Tuesday when questioned about reports that the Milwaukee Braves are considering the possibility of moving to Atlanta.

"I wouldn't know anything about it," said Commissioner Ford Frick after concluding a one-day meeting to iron out details of major league working agreements with triple A teams.

"Who says so?" asked National League President Warren Giles. When shown a story appearing in Chicago's American stating that Atlanta will become the next new city to field a major league club if and when the Braves move Giles hurried on and said, "I'm glad I'm leaving town."

Officials of the Braves, however, indicated there are solid reasons for the reports concerning a possible franchise shift.

Executive Vice President Thomas A. Reynolds Jr., a member of the syndicate which purchased the Braves last season from Lou Perini who originally moved the team from Boston to Milwaukee in 1953, said "No decision has been made."

"Atlanta, Seattle and San Diego all have been after us," said Reynolds, "but we're going to take a long, hard look before we do anything.

"No decision of any kind will be made until following our directors' meeting after the end of the season."

John McHale, president and general manager of the Braves, said, "Any time a team is having attendance problems there are always rumors of a franchise shift. Yes, we've been approached by Atlanta. That group is persuasive. But the Atlanta people also have approached the Cleveland and Kansas City teams. They are persistent and they have big plans."

Atlanta reportedly has abandoned hopes of getting either Cleveland or Kansas City. The Cleveland club reportedly has turned down the Atlanta offer and the American League probably would block a shift anywhere outside of the West Coast.

An American League team is needed on the West Coast to create a rivalry with the Los Angeles Angels and cut down travel expenses of other teams which now go to the Pacific shorelands for one series at a time.

Louisville To Give Away 133,000 Tickets, Stadium Seats 28,000

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The University of Louisville plays its home football games at Fairgrounds Stadium, seating capacity 28,000.

Yet, officials didn't even blink as they announced Tuesday they would give away 133,000 tickets to elementary and high school pupils in the Louisville area for the Cardinals' first two games.

The opponents are Southern Illinois on Oct. 5 and Dayton Oct. 12.

"We want to try to get young people coming to our games and feeling they are a part of the university," said publicist Les Wilson.

He said such promotions usually draw 10 to 20 per cent response.

Guldahl Will Join Hall Of Fame Dec. 3

DUNEDIN, Fla. (UPI) —Ralph Guldahl, the newest member of the Professional Golfers' Association (PGA) Hall of Fame, will be formally inducted at Palm Beach, Fla., Dec. 3, it was announced Tuesday.

The tall 52-year-old Texan was voted into the Hall of Fame by members of the PGA. He won by a wide margin over nine other nominees, according to Lou Strong, the PGA president.

Guldahl dominated golf for four years — from 1936 through 1939 —when he won 11 tournaments and was runnerup in eight others.

During that period he won the National Open twice, the Western Open three times and the Masters once.

Carry Back Heads 10 In UN Handicap

Carries 2nd Top Weight Saturday

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Mrs. Katherine Price's Carry Back, continuing his comeback after a stretch on the breeding farm, heads a field of 10 named Tuesday for the $125,000 United Nations Handicap at the Atlantic City race course Saturday.

The 5-year-old son of Saggy, who returned to racing Aug. 17, will carry second top weight of 127 pounds in this turf championship test of 1 3-16 miles.

Carry Back's opposition includes Greentree Stable's top-weighted The Axe 2nd, 128; Mrs. Alfred J. Giordano's Hot Dust, 114; Crimson King Farm's Crimson Satan, 125; Montpelier's Mongo, 124; Hill-N-Dale Farm's Bronze Babu, 120; Morton Johnson's Hard Rock Man, 120; Victor G. Graber's Cadiz, 119; Elmendorf's B. Major, 118, and Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend, 118.

Carry Back was withdrawn from the Washington Park Handicap two weeks ago because of an injury to the inside sesamoid of the front left leg. The injury has completely healed.

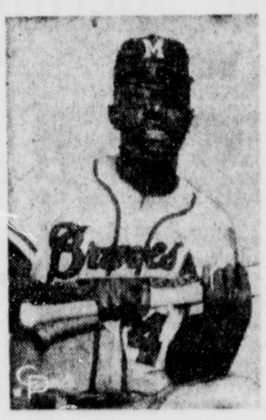
SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

OVERLOOKED in this baseball season of fine pitching, 20-game winners and a Yankee runaway has been the consistent fine performance of Henry Louis (Hank) Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves, who could grab more batting laurels than anyone in baseball this year.



Hank Aaron

The "Triple Crown" is within reach, for Hank now has a big bulge in runs-batted-in, leads in homers and is battling Dick Groat of the Cards and Tommy Davis of the Dodgers for the batting title.

Winning hitting titles is nothing new for Hank, for he was a wow in his two years in the minors, all it took to get him ready for the majors.

And, in his nine years in the majors the smooth-swinging native of Mobile, Ala., has a career mark of .320, second highest among active players, and has led the N.L. in total bases five times, runs batted-in, hits and doubles twice and home runs, slugging percentage and runs scored, once.

Breaking in with Eau Claire in the Northern league in mid-season of 1952, Hank soon attracted the attention of the Braves' big club officials for he hit .336 in 87 games, playing as a shortstop.

The next season he was the hottest item in the minors, as a second baseman for Jacksonville of the Sally League. Here he hit .362, leading the league in every department but homers and triples, in which he was runner-up in both.

* * *

ONE of several rookies in the Braves' training camp in 1954, Hank got his chance to break into the regular lineup when Bobby Thomson, the former Giants' hero, broke his ankle in spring training. Hank himself broke his ankle that next September as he was on a hot hitting streak, and then was out for the season. But in that freshman year with the Braves he hit a homer in each park in the league and batted .280.

He has been a regular since, and one of the most solid men in the Braves' lineup. He has missed only 13 games in nine years and has won all sorts of honors, including being selected on the All-Star team every year since 1955.

* * *

MOST UNUSUAL make-up of Aaron is his size and his amazing power. He was only 5'10" tall when he broke in and had difficulty making 170 pounds. He now has grown to six feet but still weighs under 180.

Like Ted Williams, this Brave star is a well-coordinated athlete and gains his power with wrist action.

He's a fine outfielder, too, and over the last several years he has never made more than seven miscues in a season.

Willie Heston, Michigan Grid Great, Dies At 85

Played With Yost's Great Teams; Made All-America Twice

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) —The University of Michigan's great Willie Heston, who struck fear into the hearts of Wolverine football rivals of another era, is dead at 85.

Heston, plunging halfback of Coach Fielding H. (Hurry Up) Yost's "point-a-minute" teams 60 years ago and first player outisde the East's Ivy League to make All-America, died Monday night in Munson Hospital here. He was born near Galesburg, Ill., and attended high school at Grants Pass, Ore. Death came on his birthday.

Ill recently after his many decades of a vigorous life, Heston entered the hospital a few days ago from his Lake Manistee summer retirement home in northern Michigan.

The octogenarian, one of the athletic world's all-time greats, was ever the champion of an active life.

Had Fun Loafing

"I don't run the half mile any more and I've quit going to dances," he said not long ago. "But I smoke seven cigars a day and I'm having a lot of fun loafing and living."

Heston leaves his widow, the former Sarah E. Williams of Bay City; two sons, John and William M. Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Fred Ritter. Mrs. Heston was his second wife. His first wife died.

Six Michigan All-Americas will be Heston's pallbearers at funeral services Friday from the Querfeld Funeral Home in Dearborn. They are Ernie Vick, Jack Blott, Bennie Oosterbaan, Francis Wistert, Harry Newman and Otto Pommerening. All played for Michigan between 1921 and 1933. Burial will be in Michigan Memorial Park.

Lawyer By Profession

A lawyer by profession, Heston was a court judge in Detroit for a time. He served on the Recorder's (criminal) Court bench.

Halfback Heston and Yost's tremendous, high-scoring Michigan teams dominated college football of the West at the turn of the century.

DIES—William (Willie) Heston, University of Michigan football star of an early gridiron era, died yesterday in a Traverse City, Mich. Hospital. He was 85. Heston starred on Coach Fielding H. Yost's famed "point-a-minute" teams 60 years ago. (AP Photofax)

Willie—who played four years 1900-1904 of varsity, prior to college football's no-freshman rule—is credited in the records with scoring 93 touchdowns and a total of 465 points.

The late Walter Camp, who originated the All-America team, chose Heston to his team twice, in 1903 and 1904.

Bowhunters Plan Wand Stump Shoot Saturday, Sunday

The Cumberland Bowhunters, Inc., will conduct their annual wand stump shoot at their range located on Pine Ridge Road Saturday and Sunday with casual registration from 11:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

The targets are long vertical bands of various sizes, according to distances, which represent wands, on pictures of stumps. This was derived from the myth that Robinhood split a wand placed in front of a stump with one arrow.

This will be a 28-target field tournament, and four arrows will be shot from the field stakes at each target with one point earned for each hit—a possible perfect score of 112.

Beautiful walnut plaques will be awarded to winners. All archers are urged to participate in this special event. Non-club members are welcome, and refreshments will be available at the clubhouse.

Maplehurst's Fall Tourney Under Way

Three first round matches in the championship flight of the men's fall tournament at Maplehurst Country Club were completed yesterday. Maury Goodman defeated John Diamond one up, Charles Pinto won over Bob Porter, 3 and 1, and Tom Gracie decisioned Dr. Thomas Baucom, 2 and 1.

In first flight play, Miller Bowen defeated Mo Scott, 3 and 1, and Harold Conrad Jr. bested Jack Spates, one up on the 18th. Harold Conrad Sr. won by default over George Carney, and Tom Blair defeated Tony Matese, one up on the 19th, in third flight competition.

In a ladies' tournament staged yesterday at MCC, Mrs. Louis Bampton was the "A" division winner, Mrs. Margaret Wonn and Mrs. Emma Gingerich tied for "B" group honors, and Mrs. Ricky Hughes won the "C" division title.

Yankees Blanked By Athletics, 2-0

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A two-run double by Charley Lau in the eighth inning broke up a scoreless game and gave the Kansas City Athletics a 2-0 victory over the pennant-bound New York Yankees Tuesday night. It was the second straight for the A's over the Yankees.

Diego Segui, who held the Yankees to five hits through eight innings, got the victory. Ted Bowsfield and John Wyatt relieved in the ninth when the Yankees threatened.

Ralph Terry took the loss to run his record to 16-14.

Hyndman Nips Loch Lynn, 1-0; Old Germans Score Tourney Win

Kennell's Mill Defeated, 6-2, By Rec Team

Stan Robertson Bests Warnick In Pitching Duel

Teams from the County League "batted .500" last night in the Western Maryland Softball Tournament at Penn Avenue Field. Hyndman edged Loch Lynn, 1-0, in the second game after Kennell's Mill dropped a 6-2 decision to the Old Germans in the opener of the second night program.

Today's schedule finds Barrelville's County League pennant winners meeting Casey A. A. at 6:15 p. m. and Rothe Heating, of the Rocking Chair League, opposing Grant Post American Legion, of Petersburg, at 7:30. The semi-finals wind up with another doubleheader tomorrow.

It was announced last night that the Inter-Church League All-Stars, last of the 16 teams to enter the tournament, will play under the banner of Sponaugle's Towing Service. Managed by Charlie Detrick, they'll play VFW tomorrow at 7:30, following a 6:15 p. m. game between the ABL Has-Beens and Corriganville.

Tight Pitching Duel

Hyndman's Stan Robertson and Odell Warnick, of Loch Lynn, hooked up in a brilliant pitching duel, allowing only three hits apiece.

Warnick struck out 12 batsmen, including three in the third inning, but the Pennsylvanians also put together two of their three hits in that frame for the game's lone run.

Don Logue singled to open the inning. Robertson struck out and Solly Emerick received the only base on balls given up by Warnick. Vohn Lehman then fanned, but Ells Lambert blasted a double to score Logue. Joe Sager struck out to end the inning.

The only hits collected by the Town and Country League team were singles by John Halsey, Leo Martin and Ken Shaffer. Hyndman's third safety was a two-bagger by Joe Sager.

Fielding stars were Loch Lynn leftfielder Jay Rice and Hyndman third baseman John Sager.

Southpaw Gets Tough

Kennell's Mill tallied twice in the top of the first inning, but found lefthander Denny Knippenberg invincible the rest of the way.

The Old Germans came back with three runs in the bottom of the first and coasted to victory. Bud Allison's hit followed by back-to-back home runs by manager Ron Carcella and Phil Barbe accounted for the Rec Leaguers' first inning runs.

Allison and Barbe had two hits apiece for the winners, while Shroyer doubled for one of Kennell's Mill's three hits.

Knippenberg struck out six. Ray Troutman, who was relieved by Gomer in the sixth, was charged with the loss.

Another large turnout witnessed last night's action, and for the second day in a row fans were treated to a 1-0 thriller. Sports Shoppe nipped the Moose, 1-0, on Monday.

The linescores:

FIRST GAME:
Kennell's Mill	200 000 0	2	3 1
Old Germans	300 012 x	6	9 3

Stan Robertson and Irvin Hosselrode. Odell Warnick and James Tasker.

Deremer, Wolford Headed Tri-State Hurling, Batting

Bobby Deremer was the team's leading pitcher with a 12-0 record and paced the batsmen with a lofty average of .592 as Cresaptown Tri-State swept 21 games in winning the pennant and playoffs this year in the Pen-Mar Little League.

Deremer struck out a total of 123 batsmen and collected 45 hits in 76 official trips to the plate for the undefeated tossers of manager James Walton.

Ricky Wolford turned in an 8-0 pitching record and batted .418 for the champions. He whiffed 83 batters. Jimmy Walton was 1-0 as a pitcher and his batting average was .343.

Twenty-four of Deremer's 45 hits went for extra bases, 10 doubles, 10 triples and four circuit belts. Dave Moreland, who also banged four homers, garnered 15 extra base blows and batted .373.

Tri-State scored a total of 192 runs and racked up 230 hits.

The batting averages:

	AB	H.	Pct.
Bobby Deremer	76	45	.592
Ricky Wolford	79	33	.418

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI) — A lasting record of 49 knockdowns occurred before Battling Nelson knocked out Christy Williams at Hot Springs in the 17th round in 1902. Williams was down 42 times; Nelson, seven.

COP 2ND STRAIGHT PEN-MAR PENNANT—The Mt. Savage Old Germans are the regular season champions of the Pen-Mar Baseball League for the second straight season with a 22-8 record. They finished three games in front of the Frostburg Merchants. In spite of the loss of Wayne Johnson (9-2,) their star southpaw since July 4, the Old Germans won 10 of their last 14 games. During that period Ralph Wilson was 5-1, Bobby Dawson 4-2 and Ralph Dickel 1-1. The squad, left to right: Mascots Dennis and Kenny Johnson (in front). FIRST ROW—Ted Femi, Ray Blank, Fay Often, Bob Green and Ralph Dickel. SECOND ROW—Bobby Dawson, Ken Johnson, manager, Ralph Wilson, Steve Faulkner, Rich Lybarger and Bobby Robertson. Curtis Johnson, Tom Hotchkiss, Harold Mongold and Wayne Johnson were absent when picture was taken.

Cumberland's Bob Rowley Is Released By Steelers

Perry Cut Loose By Colts; 49ers Obtain Etcheverry

By United Press International

Joe Perry, pro football's record-holding rusher, was released Tuesday, placekicker Jim Martin was traded to the Baltimore Colts and quarterback Sam Etcheverry was signed by the San Francisco Forty Niners in the last-day shuffling to reduce National Football League rosters to 37 players.

Ex-Fort Hill Star One Of Four Axed

Bob Rowley, former Fort Hill High School and University of Virginia football standout who went to the Pittsburgh Steelers' training camp as a "free agent," failed to survive the club's final roster trimming yesterday.

A rugged 215-pounder, Rowley played guard and did all the placekicking for the Virginia Cavaliers, but was tried as a linebacker by the Steelers. Pittsburgh has a topnotch kicking specialist in Lou Michaels.

Word from the Steelers' West Liberty (W. Va.) camp earlier was that Rowley was one of the hardest working and most determined players in training, but that he was too small as NFL linebackers go.

Rowley was bidding to become Cumberland's second active professional football player. Linebacker Rod Breedlove, 1956 Allegany graduate and ex-University of Maryland All-America, is in his fourth season with the Washington Redskins.

Also let go by the Steelers yesterday were defensive back Jackie Simpson, offensive halfback Joe Womack and guard Pete Perreault.

Perry, who gained a record total of 8,280 rushing yards in his 13 NFL seasons, was one of four players cut by the Colts.

Martin, whom the Detroit Lions had coaxed out of retirement this year for his 13th pro campaign, was traded to the Colts for a future high draft choice.

"Quarterback Insurance"

And Etcheverry, one-time hero of Canadian football but something of a disappointment with the St. Louis Cardinals during the past two seasons, caught on with the Forty Niners as "quarterback insurance."

Perry, 36, became expendable on te Colts when new head coach Don Shula decided that J W. Lockett could do the job at fullback, with rookies Jerry Hill of Wyoming and John Mackey of Syracuse as stand-ins. Perry played 11 seasons for the Forty Niners before being traded to Baltimore in 1961.

Perry was expected to shop around for a job with another club in the league. Although he has played 12 seasons in the NFL, pension rules say a player must play five years since 1959—when the plan started—to be eligible.

Three Others Cut

The three other players let go by the Colts were offensive tackle Dan Sullivan, placekicker Grady Wade and rookie defensive tackle Chuck Hinton.

The Forty Niners also asked for waivers on Hugh Campbell, rookie end from Washington State who was their No. 4 draft choice.

The champion Green Bay Packers got down to the 37-man limit by asking for waivers on two rookies — linebacker Ed Holler of South Carolina and defensive end Tony Liscio of Tulsa.

Other player cuts announced Tuesday:

Los Angeles Rams — Defensive back Carver Shannon and rookie end Gary Henson of Colorado.

Redskins Release Three

Washington Redskins — Fullback Ron Hatcher, quarterback Galen Hall, and rookie defensive back Ted Rzempoluch of Virginia.

Dallas Cowboys — Jerry Norton, defensive back; John Houser, offensive tackle; Mal Hammack, fullback, and Glynn Gregory, offensive end; defensive end George Andrie waived to injured list.

Philadelphia Eagles — Jim McCusker, offensive tackle, and rookie Tom Woodeshick, offensive halfback; linebacker Mike Woulfe waived to injured list.

Detroit Lions — Rookies Nick Ryder, Miami (Fla.) fullback; John Gamble, of Pacific guard, and Al Greer, Jackson (Miss.) State offensive end.

Pittsburgh Steelers — Acquired offensive tackle Art Anderson from the Chicago Bears and released Jack Simpson defensive back; Joe Womack, offensive halfback; Bob Rowley, linebacker, and Pete Perreault, guard.

Minnesota Vikings —Released leased Jackie Simpson, defensive offensive end Charlie Ferguson, quarterback and punter John McCormick and linebacker Jim O'Mahoney.

Emmanuel Wins Playoff Opener Over Pinto, 3-1

Malone's Double Breaks 1-1 Tie

Emmanuel Methodist scored a pair of tie-breaking runs in the bottom of the sixth inning yesterday to defeat Pinto Mennonite, 3-1, in the opening game of the Inter-Church Softball League championship finals at Stitcher Field.

The second game of the best-of-three set will be played today at Stitcher at 6 p. m. If a third contest is necessary, it will be staged tomorrow at the North End diamond.

Pinto's Phil Dayton hurled hitless ball for four and two-thirds innings before Jack Weltman touched him for a run-scoring double in the fifth. Weltman's drive scored Donnie Lewis, who had walked and moved to second on Jim Root's sacrifice.

The Mennonites tied the score in the top of the sixth when Arlie Dolly reached on a base on balls and rode home on Gary Umstot's two-bagger.

John Saville led off with a walk in Emmanuel's half of the sixth and moved to second on pitcher Babe Crabtree's single. Harold Malone's double sent Saville home with the tie-breaker and Lewis singled in Crabtree.

Pinto outhit Emmanuel, 5-4, Dale Blauch doubling in addition to Umstot. Crabtree struck out five and Dayton fanned two.

Ed Reynolds made several sparkling catches for Emmanuel in right field.

Musial And Gibson Drive In Six Runs

ST. LOUIS (UPI) Stan Musial and pitcher Bob Gibson each homered and drove in three runs to propel the sizzling St. Louis Cardinals to their second straight shutout victory over the Chicago Cubs 8-0 Tuesday night.

The Cards kept pace with Los Angeles, who won at Pittsburgh, and ran their winning streak to four games. St. Louis has won 13 of its last 14 games. Musial and Gibson led the 10 hit attack on five Cub hurlers.

Musial played only four innings but drove in two runs with a first inning homer and another with a single in the second.

Gibson hit his three-run blast on a line into the left field stands in the second. He also threw a masterful six-hitter in posting his 17th victory in 25 decisions. The fireballer had to work out of trouble in only two innings.

Dick Groat, returning to the Redbird lineup after missing five games, collected a first inning single and a second-inning double before leaving in the fourth inning.

Landon School Gridder Dies

BETHESDA, Md. (AP)—Samuel Bitting, 17-year-old football player, died Tuesday four days after surgery for a blood clot in the brain. He had become ill Friday during squad calisthenics but there was nothing to indicate a football injury.

Ed Barton, coach at the Landon School, private institution which the youth attended, said Bitting had not participated in contact drills this season.

He was the ninth football player to die this season. The eight previous fatalities were attributed to injuries suffered in practice or competition.

Punt, Pass And Kick For Boys 8 To 11

Set Here Oct. 12 Rotary Co-Sponsor

By C. V. BURNS

REGISTRATIONS for the second annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition for the area's grade school football fans is now under way in Cumberland, according to Joseph S. Gratton of Gratton Ford, Inc.

The big event for boys eight through eleven is scheduled for the Fort Hill Stadium, Saturday, October 12 and registrations will be accepted through October 11.

Registration centers are the Central YMCA, Sports Shoppe and Ford Sales and Service, 215 South George Street.

This year the Cumberland Rotary Club will act as co-sponsor and will provide the manpower. Robert M. Williams, general secretary of the Central YMCA, is the director of the program.

Last year marked the beginning of the Punt, Pass and Kick competition here and although there were close to 300 boys registered rainy weather cut the field to about 100.

Nationally, the program is in its third year under the joint sponsorship of the National Football League and the Ford Dealers of America.

"PP & K" pits the punting, passing and place-kicking skills of boys eight through eleven against all other participants of the same age.

In 1962, nearly 432,000 boys were registered in the program, more than doubling the 205,000 enrollments in 1961.

If bad weather knocks out the local program on October 12 it must be completed by October 20.

First prize will be a warm-up jacket while football helmets and autographed footballs will be the second and third prizes.

Total scores, based on the distance and accuracy of their punts, passes and place-kicks will determine the winners in all the PP & K competitions—local, regional and national.

After the local competitions, 204 special trophies will be awarded in each state and the District of Columbia to the boys who compiled the highest point totaling their age bracket statewide. In addition, 204 runner-up awards will be given for the first time in the program's history.

From among those competing in local contests, four boys—one each in the 8 through 11 age groups — will be named regional winners in each of the NFL team television's coverage areas. These 56 youths will display their PP & K prowess during the halftime of designated November NFL games of their home teams, and from among them will emerge the eight youths who qualify for the tour of champions and the showdown competition for national honors at the National Football League title game.

The 56 regional winners will receive junior NFL uniforms.

Top prize for the eight national finalists—one in each age group from both Eastern and Western Division team areas—will be an all-expenses paid "tour of champions" for the youths and their parents, December 26-29.

It will begin with a two-day visit to Washington, D.C., highlighted by a special tour of the White House and an official reception by President Kennedy or his representatives. From Washington, the group will be flown to Dearborn for a visit of the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village.

During the halftime of the NFL title game, set for December 29 in the Western Division's championship team's stadium, the two finalists in each group, one each from the Eastern and Western Divisions, will punt, pass and kick for national honors.

Immediately following this competition, NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle will present the four national winners with footballs autographed by the two teams and trophies symbolic of their national PP & K championships.

In addition to being honored at the NFL's championship game, the four national winners subsequently will receive bronze sculptured portaits of themselves and will be enrolled in the Youth Hall of Fame at Allentown, Pa. Michael Giacco, an Allentown sculptor and director of the Youth Hall of Fame, has been commissioned to do the sculptures.

The PP & K program has been cited by President Kennedy for its contribution to the "physical fitness of youth."

JOHNSTOWN (Pa.) High School marking its 67th year of football and starting with the current campaign the Trojans had a 400-145-48 record.

Johnstown was on Allegany County High's schedule (Greene Street) in 1925 when Jim Lazard was the local mentor and met Allegany High teams (Campobello) four straight years (1926-1929) when Walter L. Bowers was at the helm.

WHEN Hagerstown's racing meet opens Sept. 23 a "live" bugle will summon the horses to the track instead of a recording as used by most tracks nowadays.

Dick Harp will sound "assembly" and he will be attired in a red hunting coat.

DIDJA NOTICE that Thespian won the 9th race at Atlantic City Saturday and returned the nice prices of $45.20, 15.40 and 9.20 to win, place and show, respectively.

Thespian was the winner of the fifth race on the last day of the final meet at Fairgo in 1961 and returned $9.00.

We know of one local bettor who had one buck riding on Thespian's nose Saturday.

Sonny Liston In Exhibition Before 11,000

Champ Sees Walker Win On Technical KO

LONDON (AP) — Sonny Liston, world heavyweight boxing champion, gave an exhibition bout before a sell out crowd of 11,000 Tuesday night and then raced back to the ringside to watch Billy Walker gain a technical knockout in the last round over Johnny Prescott.

The Walker-Prescott affair, over 10 rounds, at Wembley Indoor Stadium, was an all-British clash — but one in which Liston had a personal interest.

Liston watched Walker training last week and afterward said that the 22-year-old Londoner could be challenging for his world crown in two years' time.

Walker, slightly behind on points, stormed into the attack in the 10th and final round.

Walker got in a right, a left and a right and put Prescott down for a count of eight. Walker continued to throw heavy rights, and after 1:36 British Referee Tommy Little stopped the fight.

Walker, who has traveled to America for training under Harry Wiley, the handler of Sugar Ray Robinson, now has won 10 fights with one loss and one draw. Prescott, 25, has a 22-3-2 record.

Prescott weighed 182 pounds to Walker's 195½.

Bookies Bet Cards Will Fold Before They Catch Dodgers

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The oddsmakers in Las Vegas are betting that the St. Louis Cardinals will fold before they catch the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The bookmakers have made the Los Angeles Dodgers a heavy 1-5 favorite to capture the National League pennant. It's 3-1 they don't.

Oddsmakers give the second-place Cardinals a 4-1 chance.

Hyndman Nips Loch Lynn, 1-0; Old Germans Score Tourney Win

Kennell's Mill Defeated, 6-2, By Rec Team

Stan Robertson Bests Warnick In Pitching Duel

Teams from the County League "batted .500" last night in the Western Maryland Softball Tournament at Penn Avenue Field. Hyndman edged Loch Lynn, 1-0, in the second game after Kennell's Mill dropped a 6-2 decision to the Old Germans in the opener of the second night program.

Today's schedule finds Barrelville's County League pennant winners meeting Casey A. A. at 6:15 p. m. and Rothe Heating, of the Rocking Chair League, opposing Grant Post American Legion, of Petersburg, at 7:30. The semi-finals wind up with another doubleheader tomorrow.

It was announced last night that the Inter-Church League All-Stars, last of the 16 teams to enter the tournament, will play under the banner of Sponaugle's Towing Service. Managed by Charlie Detrick, they'll play VFW tomorrow at 7:30, following a 6:15 p. m. game between the ABL Has-Beens and Corriganville.

Tight Pitching Duel

Hyndman's Stan Robertson and Odell Warnick, of Loch Lynn, hooked up in a brilliant pitching duel, allowing only three hits apiece.

Warnick struck out 12 batsmen, including three in the third inning, but the Pennsylvanians also put together two of their three hits in that frame for the game's lone run.

Don Logue singled to open the inning. Robertson struck out and Solly Emerick received the only base on balls given up by Warnick. Vohn Lehman then fanned, but Ells Lambert blasted a double to score Logue. Joe Sager struck out to end the inning.

The only hits collected by the Town and Country League team were singles by John Halsey, Leo Martin and Ken Shaffer. Hyndman's third safety was a two-bagger by Joe Sager.

Fielding stars were Loch Lynn leftfielder Jay Rice and Hyndman third baseman John Sager.

Southpaw Gets Tough

Kennell's Mill tallied twice in the top of the first inning, but found lefthander Denny Knippenberg invincible the rest of the way.

The Old Germans came back with three runs in the bottom of the first and coasted to victory. Bud Allison's hit followed by back-to-back home runs by manager Ron Carcella and Phil Barbe accounted for the Rec Leaguers' first inning runs.

Allison and Barbe had two hits apiece for the winners, while Shroyer doubled for one of Kennell's Mill's three hits.

Knippenberg struck out six. Ray Troutman, who was relieved by Gomer in the sixth, was charged with the loss.

Another large turnout witnessed last night's action, and for the second day in a row fans were treated to a 1-0 thriller. Sports Shoppe nipped the Moose, 1-0, on Monday.

The linescores:

FIRST GAME:
Kennell's Mill	200 000 0	2	1
Old Germans	300 012 x	6	3

Ray Troutman, Gomer (6) and Cook. Denny Knippenberg and Ron Carcella. LP—Troutman. HR—Carcella, Phil Barbe (Old Germans).

Stan Robertson and Irvin Hosselrode. Odell Warnick and James Tasker.

Deremer, Wolford Headed Tri-State Hurling, Batting

Bobby Deremer was the team's leading pitcher with a 12-0 record and paced the batsmen with a lofty average of .592 as Cresaptown Tri-State swept 21 games in winning the pennant and playoffs this year in the Pen-Mar Little League.

Deremer struck out a total of 123 batsmen and collected 45 hits in 76 official trips to the plate for the undefeated tossers of manager James Walton.

Ricky Wolford turned in an 8-0 pitching record and batted .418 for the champions. He whiffed 83 batters. Jimmy Walton was 1-0 as a pitcher and his batting average was .343.

Twenty-four of Deremer's 45 hits went for extra bases, 10 doubles, 10 triples and four circuit belts. Dave Moreland, who also banged four homers, garnered 15 extra base blows and batted .373.

Tri-State scored a total of 192 runs and racked up 230 hits.

The batting averages:

	AB	H.	Pct.
Bobby Deremer	76	45	.592
Ricky Wolford	79	33	.418
Dave Moreland	83	31	.373

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI) — A lasting record of 49 knockdowns occurred before Battling Nelson knocked out Christy Williams at Hot Springs in the 17th round in 1902. Williams was down 42 times; Nelson, seven.

COP 2ND STRAIGHT PEN-MAR PENNANT—The Mt. Savage Old Germans are the regular season champions of the Pen-Mar Baseball League for the second straight season with a 22-8 record. They finished three games in front of the Frostburg Merchants. In spite of the loss of Wayne Johnson (9-2,) their star southpaw since July 4, the Old Germans won 10 of their last 14 games. During that period Ralph Wilson was 5-1, Bobby Dawson 4-2 and Ralph Dickel 1-1. The squad, left to right: Mascots Dennis and Kenny Johnson (in front). FIRST ROW—Ted Femi, Ray Blank, Fay Often, Bob Green and Ralph Dickel. SECOND ROW—Bobby Dawson, Ken Johnson, manager, Ralph Wilson, Steve Faulkner, Rich Lybarger and Bobby Robertson. Curtis Johnson, Tom Hotchkiss, Harold Mongold and Wayne Johnson were absent when picture was taken.

Cumberland's Bob Rowley Is Released By Steelers

Perry Cut Loose By Colts; 49ers Obtain Etcheverry

By United Press International

Joe Perry, pro football's record-holding rusher, was released Tuesday, placekicker Jim Martin was traded to the Baltimore Colts and quarterback Sam Etcheverry was signed by the San Francisco Forty Niners in the last-day shuffling to reduce National Football League rosters to 37 players.

Ex-Fort Hill Star One Of Four Axed

Bob Rowley, former Fort Hill High School and University of Virginia football standout who went to the Pittsburgh Steelers' training camp as a "free agent," failed to survive the club's final roster trimming yesterday.

A rugged 215-pounder, Rowley played guard and did all the placekicking for the Virginia Cavaliers, but was tried as a linebacker by the Steelers. Pittsburgh has a topnotch kicking specialist in Lou Michaels.

Word from the Steelers' West Liberty (W. Va.) camp earlier was that Rowley was one of the hardest working and most determined players in training, but that he was too small as NFL linebackers go.

Rowley was bidding to become Cumberland's second active professional football player. Linebacker Rod Breedlove, 1956 Allegany graduate and ex-University of Maryland All-America, is in his fourth season with the Washington Redskins.

Also let go by the Steelers yesterday were defensive back Jackie Simpson, offensive halfback Joe Womack and guard Pete Perreault.

Perry, who gained a record total of 8,280 rushing yards in his 13 NFL seasons, was one of four players cut by the Colts.

Martin, whom the Detroit Lions had coaxed out of retirement this year for his 13th pro campaign, was traded to the Colts for a future high draft choice.

"Quarterback Insurance"

And Etcheverry, one-time hero of Canadian football but something of a disappointment with the St. Louis Cardinals during the past two seasons, caught on with the Forty Niners as "quarterback insurance."

Perry, 36, became expendable on te Colts when new head coach Don Shula decided that J W. Lockett could do the job at fullback, with rookies Jerry Hill of Wyoming and John Mackey of Syracuse as stand-ins. Perry played 11 seasons for the Forty Niners before being traded to Baltimore in 1961.

Perry was expected to shop around for a job with another club in the league. Although he has played 12 seasons in the NFL, pension rules say a player must play five years since 1959—when the plan started—to be eligible.

Three Others Cut

The three other players let go by the Colts were offensive tackle Dan Sullivan, placekicker Grady Wade and rookie defensive tackle Chuck Hinton.

The Forty Niners also asked for waivers on Hugh Campbell, rookie end from Washington State who was their No. 4 draft choice.

The champion Green Bay Packers got down to the 37-man limit by asking for waivers on two rookies — linebacker Ed Holler of South Carolina and defensive end Tony Liscio of Tulsa.

Other player cuts announced Tuesday:

Los Angeles Rams — Defensive back Carver Shannon and rookie end Gary Henson of Colorado.

Redskins Release Three

Washington Redskins — Fullback Ron Hatcher, quarterback Galen Hall, and rookie defensive back Ted Rzempoluch of Virginia.

Dallas Cowboys — Jerry Norton, defensive back; John Houser, offensive tackle; Mal Hammack, fullback, and Glynn Gregory, offensive end; defensive end George Andrie waived to injured list.

Philadelphia Eagles — Jim McCusker, offensive tackle, and rookie Tom Woodeshick, offensive halfback; linebacker Mike Woulfe waived to injured list.

Detroit Lions — Rookies Nick Ryder, Miami (Fla.) fullback; John Gamble, of Pacific guard, and Al Greer, Jackson (Miss.) State offensive end.

Pittsburgh Steelers — Acquired offensive tackle Art Anderson from the Chicago Bears and released Jack Simpson defensive back; Joe Womack, offensive halfback; Bob Rowley, linebacker, and Pete Perreault, guard.

Minnesota Vikings —Released leased Jackie Simpson, defensive offensive end Charlie Ferguson, quarterback and punter John McCormick and linebacker Jim O'Mahoney.

Musial And Gibson Drive In Six Runs

ST. LOUIS (UPI) Stan Musial and pitcher Bob Gibson each homered and drove in three runs to propel the sizzling St. Louis Cardinals to their second straight shutout victory over the Chicago Cubs 8-0 Tuesday night.

The Cards kept pace with Los Angeles, who won at Pittsburgh, and ran their winning streak to four games. St. Louis has won 13 of its last 14 games. Musial and Gibson led the 10 hit attack on five Cub hurlers.

Musial played only four innings but drove in two runs with a first inning homer and another with a single in the second.

Gibson hit his three-run blast on a line into the left field stands in the second. He also threw a masterful six-hitter in posting his 17th victory in 25 decisions. The fireballer had to work out of trouble in only two innings.

Dick Groat, returning to the Redbird lineup after missing five games, collected a first inning single and a second-inning double before leaving in the fourth inning.

Emmanuel Wins Playoff Opener Over Pinto, 3-1

Malone's Double Breaks 1-1 Tie

Emmanuel Methodist scored a pair of tie-breaking runs in the bottom of the sixth inning yesterday to defeat Pinto Mennonite, 3-1, in the opening game of the Inter-Church Softball League championship finals at Stitcher Field.

The second game of the best-of-three set will be played today at Stitcher at 6 p. m. If a third contest is necessary, it will be staged tomorrow at the North End diamond.

Pinto's Phil Dayton hurled hitless ball for four and two-thirds innings before Jack Weltman touched him for a run-scoring double in the fifth. Weltman's drive scored Donnie Lewis, who had walked and moved to second on Jim Root's sacrifice.

The Mennonites tied the score in the top of the sixth when Arlie Dolly reached on a base on balls and rode home on Gary Umstot's two-bagger.

John Saville led off with a walk in Emmanuel's half of the sixth and moved to second on pitcher Babe Crabtree's single. Harold Malone's double sent Saville home with the tie-breaker and Lewis singled in Crabtree.

Pinto outhit Emmanuel, 5-4, Dale Blauch doubling in addition to Umstot. Crabtree struck out five and Dayton fanned two.

Ed Reynolds made several sparkling catches for Emmanuel in right field.

Landon School Gridder Dies

BETHESDA, Md. (AP)—Samuel Bitting, 17-year-old football player, died Tuesday four days after surgery for a blood clot in the brain. He had become ill Friday during squad calisthenics but there was nothing to indicate a football injury.

Ed Barton, coach at the Landon School, private institution which the youth attended, said Bitting had not participated in contact drills this season.

He was the ninth football player to die this season. The eight previous fatalities were attributed to injuries suffered in practice or competition.

Punt, Pass And Kick Set Here Oct. 12

For Boys 8 To 11 Rotary Co-Sponsor

By C. V. BURNS

REGISTRATIONS for the second annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition for the area's grade school football fans is now under way in Cumberland, according to Joseph S. Gratton of Gratton Ford, Inc.

The big event for boys eight through eleven is scheduled for the Fort Hill Stadium, Saturday, October 12 and registrations will be accepted through October 11.

Registration centers are the Central YMCA, Sports Shoppe and Ford Sales and Service, 215 South George Street.

This year the Cumberland Rotary Club will act as co-sponsor and will provide the manpower. Robert M. Williams, general secretary of the Central YMCA, is the director of the program.

Last year marked the beginning of the Punt, Pass and Kick competition here and although there were close to 300 boys registered rainy weather cut the field to about 100.

Nationally, the program is in its third year under the joint sponsorship of the National Football League and the Ford Dealers of America.

"PP & K" pits the punting, passing and place-kicking skills of boys eight through eleven against all other participants of the same age.

In 1962, nearly 432,000 boys were registered in the program, more than doubling the 205,000 enrollments in 1961.

If bad weather knocks out the local program on October 12 it must be completed by October 20.

First prize will be a warm-up jacket while football helmets and autographed footballs will be the second and third prizes.

Total scores, based on the distance and accuracy of their punts, passes and place-kicks will determine the winners in all the PP & K competitions—local, regional and national.

After the local competitions, 204 special trophies will be awarded in each state and the District of Columbia to the boys who compiled the highest point totaling their age bracket statewide. In addition, 204 runner-up awards will be given for the first time in the program's history.

From among those competing in local contests, four boys—one each in the 8 through 11 age groups — will be named regional winners in each of the NFL team television's coverage areas. These 56 youths will display their PP & K prowess during the halftime of designated November NFL games of their home teams, and from among them will emerge the eight youths who qualify for the tour of champions and the showdown competition for national honors at the National Football League title game.

The 56 regional winners will receive junior NFL uniforms.

Top prize for the eight national finalists—one in each age group from both Eastern and Western Division team areas—will be an all-expenses paid "tour of champions" for the youths and their parents, December 26-29.

It will begin with a two-day visit to Washington, D.C., highlighted by a special tour of the White House and an official reception by President Kennedy or his representatives. From Washington, the group will be flown to Dearborn for a visit of the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village.

During the halftime of the NFL title game, set for December 29 in the Western Division's championship team's stadium, the two finalists in each group, one each from the Eastern and Western Divisions, will punt, pass and kick for national honors.

Immediately following this competition, NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle will present the four national winners with footballs autographed by the two teams and trophies symbolic of their national PP & K championships.

In addition to being honored at the NFL's championship game, the four national winners subsequently will receive bronze sculptured portaits of themselves and will be enrolled in the Youth Hall of Fame at Allentown, Pa. Michael Giacco, an Allentown sculptor and director of the Youth Hall of Fame, has been commissioned to do the sculptures.

The PP & K program has been cited by President Kennedy for its contribution to the "physical fitness of youth."

JOHNSTOWN (Pa.) High School marking its 67th year of football and starting with the current campaign the Trojans had a 400-145-48 record.

Johnstown was on Allegany County High's schedule (Greene Street) in 1925 when Jim Lazard was the local mentor and met Allegany High teams (Campobello) four straight years (1926-1929) when Walter L. Bowers was at the helm.

WHEN Hagerstown's racing meet opens Sept. 23 a "live" bugle will summon the horses to the track instead of a recording as used by most tracks nowadays.

Dick Harp will sound "assembly" and he will be attired in a red hunting coat.

DIDJA NOTICE that Thespian won the 9th race at Atlantic City Saturday and returned the nice prices of $45.20, 15.40 and 9.20 to win, place and show, respectively.

Thespian was the winner of the fifth race on the last day of the final meet at Fairgo in 1961 and returned $9.00.

We know of one local bettor who had one buck riding on Thespian's nose Saturday.

Sonny Liston In Exhibition Before 11,000

Champ Sees Walker Win On Technical KO

LONDON (AP) — Sonny Liston, world heavyweight boxing champion, gave an exhibition bout before a sell out crowd of 11,000 Tuesday night and then raced back to the ringside to watch Billy Walker gain a technical knockout in the last round over Johnny Prescott.

The Walker-Prescott affair, over 10 rounds, at Wembley Indoor Stadium, was an all-British clash — but one in which Liston had a personal interest.

Liston watched Walker training last week and afterward said that the 22-year-old Londoner could be challenging for his world crown in two years' time.

Walker, slightly behind on points, stormed into the attack in the 10th and final round.

Walker, who has traveled to America for training under Harry Wiley, the handler of Sugar Ray Robinson, now has won 10 fights with one loss and one draw. Prescott, 25, has a 22-3-2 record.

Prescott weighed 182 pounds to Walker's 195½.

Bookies Bet Cards Will Fold Before They Catch Dodgers

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The oddsmakers in Las Vegas are betting that the St. Louis Cardinals will fold before they catch the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The bookmakers have made the Los Angeles Dodgers a heavy 1-5 favorite to capture the National League pennant. It's 3-1 they don't.

Oddsmakers give the second-place Cardinals a 4-1 chance.

1960 Champion Defeats Polk At Des Moines

Harris, Coe Win; Gardner And Gray Are Upset Victims

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Defending champion Labron Harris Jr. and 1960 winner Deane Beman hammered their way into the third round of the U.S. Amateur Golf championship Tuesday while 1962 finalist Dowing Gray fell by the wayside.

Another early upset victim on this gloomy, rain-sprinkled day at the narrow, hilly Wakonda Club course was Bob Gardner, five-time metropolitan New York champion and erstwhile Walker Cupper.

Charley Coe Romps

Two-time champion Charley Coe of Oklahoma City romped ahead with a 6 and 5 win over Dan James of Millbrae, Calif., with a two over par effort and NCAA champion Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., ousted Sam Kocsis of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., 5 and 3.

Harris, the bespectacled mathematics wizard from Oklahoma State who breezed through his first - round match, 8 and 6, scored another walkaway victory as he bounced out 19-year - old John McKey, a Georgia student from Orlando, Fla., 6 and 5.

The 21-year - old defending champion, son of a golf pro, was two under par in his first win and one over the card Tuesday but didn't have to extend himself. Out in 36 against McKey's 40, Harris took a 4 up lead at the turn and built his winning margin with pars on the 11th and 12th before closing it out with a matching bogey on the 13th.

Beeman Victor, 4 and 3

Beman was only 1 up at the turn against Charles Polk of Clayton, Mo., with a 38 to his rival's 39. But then he fired two birdies against a lost ball bogey —one-putting all six holes it took him to close out the match on the back nine, 4 and 3.

Gray a 25-year-old Pensacola, Fla., insurance salesman who lost to Harris in last year's finals, didn't have the shots as he tumbled before George Archer, the six foot, four inch cowboy from Gilroy, Calif., 4 and 3. Gray was out in 40 which put him three down at the turn against a 37 for Archer, who ousted publinx champ Bob Lunn of San Francisco in the first round.

Archer lost the 10th hole with a bogey but then won two straight with pars, lost the 13th to Gray's birdie but himself birdied the 15th to go four up and close it out.

Other feature victories were turned in by Walker Cupper Charley Kocsis of Royal Oak, Mich., small college champion John Spray of Indianola, Iowa; Juan Estrada of Mexico's Americas cup team and veteran Dale Morey of Morganton, N.C., the runnerup.

Tigers Sign Hurler

EVERETT, Mass. (UPI) —Gerald Napoli, 18-year-old southpaw pitcher has been signed by the Detroit Tigers.

Napoli had a 15-5 record at Everett High School and a 15-0 Everett Legion junior team mark. He will report for spring training with the Jamestown, N.Y. team of the N.Y.-Penn League at Lakeland, Fla.

1960 Champion Defeats Polk At Des Moines

Harris, Coe Win; Gardner And Gray Are Upset Victims

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Defending champion Labron Harris Jr. and 1960 winner Deane Beman hammered their way into the third round of the U.S. Amateur Golf championship Tuesday while 1962 finalist Dowing Gray fell by the wayside.

Another early upset victim on this gloomy, rain-sprinkled day at the narrow, hilly Wakonda Club course was Bob Gardner, five-time metropolitan New York champion and erstwhile Walker Cupper.

Charley Coe Romps

Two-time champion Charley Coe of Oklahoma City romped ahead with a 6 and 5 win over Dan James of Millbrae, Calif., with a two over par effort and NCAA champion Dick Sikes of Springdale, Ark., ousted Sam Kocsis of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., 5 and 3.

Harris, the bespectacled mathematics wizard from Oklahoma State who breezed through his first - round match, 8 and 6, scored another walkaway victory as he bounced out 19-year - old John McKey, a Georgia student from Orlando, Fla., 6 and 5.

The 21-year - old defending champion, son of a golf pro, was two under par in his first win and one over the card Tuesday but didn't have to extend himself. Out in 36 against McKey's 40, Harris took a 4 up lead at the turn and built his winning margin with pars on the 11th and 12th before closing it out with a matching bogey on the 13th.

Beeman Victor, 4 and 3

Beman was only 1 up at the turn against Charles Polk of Clayton, Mo., with a 38 to his rival's 39. But then he fired two birdies against a lost ball bogey —one-putting all six holes it took him to close out the match on the back nine, 4 and 3.

Gray a 25-year-old Pensacola, Fla., insurance salesman who lost to Harris in last year's finals, didn't have the shots as he tumbled before George Archer, the six foot, four inch cowboy from Gilroy, Calif., 4 and 3. Gray was out in 40 which put him three down at the turn against a 37 for Archer, who ousted publinx champ Bob Lunn of San Francisco in the first round.

Archer lost the 10th hole with a bogey but then won two straight with pars, lost the 13th to Gray's birdie but himself birdied the 15th to go four up and close it out.

Other feature victories were turned in by Walker Cupper Charley Kocsis of Royal Oak, Mich., small college champion John Spray of Indianola, Iowa; Juan Estrada of Mexico's Americas cup team and veteran Dale Morey of Morganton, N.C., the runnerup.

Tigers Sign Hurler

EVERETT, Mass. (UPI) —Gerald Napoli, 18-year-old southpaw pitcher has been signed by the Detroit Tigers.

Napoli had a 15-5 record at Everett High School and a 15-0 Everett Legion junior team mark. He will report for spring training with the Jamestown, N.Y. team of the N.Y.-Penn League at Lakeland, Fla.

Ellerslie WSCS Holds Meeting

ELLERSLIE—New chairs have been purchased for the dining room by members of the Womens Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

During a recent meeting, Circle One turned in $43.50 and Circle Two submitted $96. Mrs. Lydia Porter, spiritual life secretary, was in charge of the devotions and Mrs. Hazel Griffey presided at the business meeting. Each secretary reported on her work.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Flo Griffy, Miss Lillian Cook and Miss Annabelle Clauson, hostesses.

Every person has some three thousand taste buds compared with some 50 thousand taste buds of the antelope.

The Board of Zoning Appeals of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, will meet in the City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland, Thursday, September 12, 1963, at 8:00 p. m., to hear the following appeal: Mr. Wilmer Nunamaker, 118 Columbia Street, Cumberland, Maryland, who has made application to construct a 32 x 42 foot dwelling at Lot No. 55 on the corner of Holland Street and Sunbury Street. Said building to front on Sunbury Street. Located in Residential B District. Said premises owned by applicant.

At the said time and place, any person may appear and testify as to the use of said premises or object to the issuance of said permits.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Most grain futures rallied sharply to post firm to strong gains Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed up ⅛ to 1¾, corn up ⅛ to 1⅛, oats up ¼ to ⅜, rye up 1¾ to 4, and soybeans up 1⅜ to 2¾.

Evening up activity prior to the release of the government crop estimate after the close pulled most grains up from a generally steady opening. Active export buying also helped to boost the market.

Persistent short covering before the government prediction advanced soybean prices more than 2 cents a bushel. Offerings were light.

Nearby wheat led distant deliveries upward as exporters bought the bread grain against recent sales of red wheat and word of business pending. It was reported that a total of 1,500,000 bushels of red wheat went for export since Monday.

September corn steadied in evening up activity but other contracts firmed. Few traders were looking for a change in the previous government estimate.

Rye soared as much as 4 cents with Winnipeg rye on potential export demand from Europe due to reports of crop damage. October rye at Winnipeg gained more than 6 cents. Oats ended steady to firm in quiet trade.

Ellerslie WSCS Holds Meeting

ELLERSLIE—New chairs have been purchased for the dining room by members of the Womens Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church.

During a recent meeting, Circle One turned in $43.50 and Circle Two submitted $96. Mrs. Lydia Porter, spiritual life secretary, was in charge of the devotions and Mrs. Hazel Griffey presided at the business meeting. Each secretary reported on her work.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Flo Griffy, Miss Lillian Cook and Miss Annabelle Clauson, hostesses.

Every person has some three thousand taste buds compared with some 50 thousand taste buds of the antelope.

The Board of Zoning Appeals of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, will meet in the City Hall, Cumberland, Maryland, Thursday, September 12, 1963, at 8:00 p. m., to hear the following appeal: Mr. Wilmer Nunamaker, 118 Columbia Street, Cumberland, Maryland, who has made application to construct a 32 x 42 foot dwelling at Lot No. 55 on the corner of Holland Street and Sunbury Street. Said building to front on Sunbury Street. Located in Residential B District. Said premises owned by applicant.

At the said time and place, any person may appear and testify as to the use of said premises or object to the issuance of said permits.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Most grain futures rallied sharply to post firm to strong gains Tuesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed up ⅛ to 1¾, corn up ⅛ to 1⅛, oats up ¼ to ⅝, rye up 1¾ to 4, and soybeans up 1⅝ to 2¼.

Evening up activity prior to the release of the government crop estimate after the close pulled most grains up from a generally steady opening. Active export buying also helped to boost the market.

Persistent short covering before the government prediction advanced soybean prices more than 2 cents a bushel. Offerings were light.

Nearby wheat led distant deliveries upward as exporters bought the bread grain against recent sales of red wheat and word of business pending. It was reported that a total of 1,500,000 bushels of red wheat went for export since Monday.

September corn steadied in evening up activity but other contracts firmed. Few traders were looking for a change in the previous government estimate.

Rye soared as much as 4 cents with Winnipeg rye on potential export demand from Europe due to reports of crop damage. October rye at Winniepg gained more than 6 cents. Oats ended steady to firm in quiet trade.

Public Building Program Listed By Planners

Need For Municipal Complex Predicted

Proposals for the construction of three new or additional municipal buildings or groups of buildings by 1980 are included in the Public Buildings section of the Land, Use and Community Facilities Plan.

The plan has been prepared by Stein and Marcou Associates for the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

The planners note that the need for replacement of obsolete and deteriorating facilities and anticipated growth in municipal services and space requirements will necessitate:

List Three Needs

A new garage and warehouse for servicing of municipal vehicles and the storage of equipment and supplies.

A new fire substation in the vicinity of Williams Street and Louisiana Avenue.

A central municipal complex which would include new municipal offices, central fire and police facilities and space or land for semi-public facilities.

The report notes that the present Street Department warehouse located off North Lee Street is obsolete and does not provide adequate space for servicing vehicles or storing equipment and supplies.

Storage facilities of the sewer department and the flood control crew are located in arches under the B & O Viaduct and that the space will be needed for the widening of Mechanic Street.

Site Is Adequate

All of the facilities, the planning report recommends, should be relocated to provide efficiency in terms of service and space.

The present site of the Street Department warehouse, which also serves for storage of recreation equipment, is large enough to accommodate adequate new facilities. An alternate site which could serve the city's needs would be in the proposed South Cumberland Urban Renewal Project area between Maryland Avenue and the B & O tracks.

Suggests Sites

On the subject of the fifth fire station, the planners noted that the National Board of Fire Underwriters has recommended that the station be located in the Williams Street-Louisiana Avenue area.

Since this is a significant growth area, the station will definitely be needed by 1980, the planners said.

They said the city should take steps to acquire property for the substation before it becomes impossible to find a proper vacant site.

The report noted that a few possible sites are still available on Louisiana Avenue and that an alternate site might be found on Williams Street in the vicinity of Winifred Road.

Complex Urged

The planners predict that by 1980, additional space for municipal facilities will be required, and that the demand for expanded municipal services and the replacement of obsolete facilities such as the central fire and police facilities are indicators of the need.

The report said it is desirable that the new central municipal complex be located in the vicinity of the present City Hall which can, if needed, be further utilized for both civic and cultural activities.

To provide adequate floor space for offices, fire station and police department, the report said, from 25,000 to 30,000 square feet of space will be needed.

The planners suggested that the land for these future municipal facilities be provided when the General Neighborhood Renewal Plan for the center of the city is prepared.

CUF Golden Gifts Drive Launched

Football players from the local high schools helped kick off the drive of the Golden Gifts Division of the seventh County United Fund last night at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Kneeling with the football is Pat Chorpenning, co-captain for Allegany High. Standing, left to right, are Terry Carolan, game captain for LaSalle High; J. Carson Dowell, executive vice president of Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, and Robert Hunter, procurement administrator at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, co-chairmen of the Golden Gifts Division, and Tom Hamilton, co-captain for Fort Hill. $33,475 of the division's $125,000 goal was pledged.

1963 Building In County Now Tops $3,000,000

56 New Permits Issued In August

Estimated cost of construction authorized in the unincorporated areas of Allegany County since the start of 1963 edged past the $3,000,000 mark in August when 56 building permits and zoning certificates were approved by C. Lee Renaud, county planning director, for construction estimated by the conservative builders at $341,380.

Both totals are above the levels of July when only 38 permits valued at $229,530 were approved. However, they are well below the levels of August 1962 when 83 permits were obtained and the estimated cost of construction reached $503,142.

347 Permits This Year

With the first two-thirds of 1963 gone, some 347 building permits have been issued for construction estimated to total $3,236,505. In the first eight months a year ago there were 452 permits and the total cost of construction was $3,716,589.

After eight months, there are 105 fewer building permits and the estimated cost of construction is $480,084 below the level of a year ago.

Last month was fourth among the 1963 months in the number of building permits issued but fifth in total estimated cost of construction. Last August's 83 permits was 1962's peak total but the estimated cost of construction lagged in fifth place.

The August building permits authorized work in 20 different election districts of the county. Leader was District 7, Cresaptown-Rawlings, with eight while District 29, LaVale, was just behind with seven permits.

Three districts last month had four building permits each. They were District 5, North End suburban; District 6, West Side suburban, and District 16, North Branch.

Many Districts Involved

Other districts with more than one August permit included Districts 1, Frostburg suburban, and 31, McCoole, three each; Districts 2, Oldtown; 3, Flintstone; 8, Westernport suburban; 9, Barton; 13, Mt. Savage; 18, Midland; 19, Borden Shaft; 21, Gross; 22, East Side suburban; and 30, Zihlman, two each.

Election districts with a single August building permit included Districts 23, East Side suburban; 24, Eckhart, and 26, Frostburg suburban.

Twenty-two of the August building permits issued by Mr. Renaud were for new dwellings. Others included 10 for dwelling additions and alterations, 10 for garages, three each for carports, barns and dwelling foundations, one hunting lodge, one building for farm machinery, one storage shed, one apartment building and one permit for conversion of an office to a dwelling.

Most costly of the projects authorized last month is the $60,000 apartment building to be built on Midlothian Road, Election District 26, by Jesse Fuller and Son.

Monthly totals for building permits for 1962:

January — 20 and $222,145; February — 28 and $625,700; March — 24 and $233,850; April — 63 and $593,325; May — 81 and $667,550; June 82 and $559,525; July — 71 and $311,352; and August — 83 and $503,142.

Monthly building permits totals for 1963:

January — 15 and $74,577; February — 18 and $171,500; March — 29 and $1,180,585; April — 70 and $384,845; May — 63 and $395,318; June — 58 and $458,770; July — 38 and $229,530; August — 56 and $341,380.

Gas Executive Will Speak At Dinner Event

New Teachers To Be Recognized

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the Third Annual Teacher Recognition Dinner next Wednesday, September 18, at 6:30 p. m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

All new teachers in the Allegany County school system have been invited, along with supervisory and administrative personnel.

Albert B. Lauderbaugh, assistant vice president of research and development for the Pittsburgh Group companies of the Columbia Gas System, will be the principal speaker.

By profession a chemical engineer, Mr. Lauderbaugh is a graduate of Bucknell University and holds graduate degrees from Cornell and Columbia universities, including a Ph.D. in chemistry from Cornell.

Is Lecturer

He has long been active in graduate seminar lecturing for a number of colleges and universities. His major topics have included petroleum and natural gas engineering, mathematics, economics, and engineering in business administration.

Mr. Lauderbaugh is a 35-year veteran of the natural gas industry. He joined the Columbia Gas System in 1928 and became associated with the Pittsburgh Group Companies, including Columbia Gas of Maryland, in 1929.

The dinner will climax the observance of Teacher Recognition Day which will be sponsored by the Chamber with the cooperation of 22 business and industrial firms of the area.

Plans are being made by the Chamber's education committee, whose chairman, William A. Howard, said its purpose is to welcome new teachers of the county school system "to let them know we are happy to have them with us, to stress the importance of the job the teachers are doing and let them know the community stands ready to be of assistance."

To Be Honored

It is expected that 56 new teachers will attend the meeting, together with other school personnel and business and industrial leaders.

Cooperating in the program will be the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, Columbia Gas of Maryland, the C & P Telephone Company, Celanese Fibers Company, Cumberland Brewing Company, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, First-Second National Bank and Trust Company, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, the Liberty Trust Company, Montgomery Ward, National Jet, Potomac Edison Company, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, Queen City Brewing Company, Rosenbaum's, Sear's Roebuck and Company, Sacred Heart Hospital, G. C. Murphy Company, Western Maryland Railway, Cumberland Lenders Association, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and Schmidt Baking Company.

Antique Car Group Plans Meeting Here

Downtown Parade Planned Saturday

Members of the Shenandoah Region of the Antique Automobile Club of America will display their vintage automobiles during a parade of Downtown Cumberland Saturday.

Sponsored by the Downtown Cumberland Merchants Association, the parade is being staged by the club in connection with its annual "fall out" meet which will be held here Saturday and Sunday under the sponsorship of the recently organized Queen City Chapter.

The fall meeting of the regional unit which includes members from Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia, has been held in Winchester, Va., in recent years.

More than 40 antique cars are registered for the outing and officials here expect the list to reach 60 by Saturday.

Open House Set

Activities will begin with an open house at the home of Mr. and Highway, LaVale, from 10 a. m. to noon for early arrivals.

The two-day meeting will open with registration at the Queen City Brewing Company at 11:30 a. m. Box lunches will be served there at 12:30 p. m.

Drivers, with their ladies, will leave the brewery at 1:30 p. m. for the parade, officially set for 2 p. m.

The vehicles will drive down Mechanic Street to Baltimore, up Baltimore to George, to Harrison, to South Centre, to Frederick and then out Frederick Street to Minke's Cottage Inn, where the "fall out" activities will take place.

Featured at the outing will be two contests the first a see-saw, a test of skill in which the driver tries to balance his vehicle on a ramp resting on a log, and the second a blindfolded drive, directed by a co-pilot, over a course in which turns are marked by balloon-bearing poles.

An awards banquet will be served at Minke's at 7 p.m. and will be followed by a dance at 9 p.m.

Sunday's activities will include a dutch-style breakfast at the LaVale Shopping Center from 9 to 10 a.m., followed by a visit to the old Cumberland Road toll gate house.

Officials of the Allegany County Historical Society will serve as hosts at the toll house visit.

Activities chairman in charge of the meet is J. Brooke Fradiska.

The following committees will assist him: greeting and registration, David T. Davis and Donald M. Barnoff; parking, Neil Furlow and Milnor Roberts; social, Kenneth M. Rinehart, Gareth D. Buchholtz, John P. Getz and Roy C. Lee.

Contests, W. M. Wilson, Robert C. Harden, Kenneth L. Wagoner, and Raymond Tighe; banquet, Benjamin R. Sansom and Neil Furlow.

Antique cars registered for the meet include a 1911 Hupmobile roadster, 1914 Ford touring, 1915 Ford, 1923 Overland roadster, 1922 Marmon touring, 1925 Chevrolet sports coupe, 1927 Dodge coupe, 1921 Ford touring, 1927 Studebaker and 1930 Model A station wagon.

Stanley T. Daniels, 130 Bedford Street, was elected president of the State Camp of Maryland, Patriotic Order Sons of America, during its 65th annual session held at the POS of A Hall at Ellerslie.

Other officers include G. Allen Cook, Ellerslie, vice president; Irving Naylor, Butler, master of forms; David Miller, Ellerslie, conductor; Ralph T. Krampf, Ellerslie, inspector; William A. DeVore, Ellerslie, guard; Isaac Kallinsky, Baltimore, secretary; John E. Effland, city, treasurer; Q. E. Weant, Baltimore, assistant secretary and Rev. J. L. Tenney, pastor of the EUB Church, Ellerslie, chaplain.

The officers were installed by Charles F. Wisler of Ellerslie, past state president.

Reports of committees, nomination of officers and appointment of committees were included in the morning session and memorial services for deceased members were held during the afternoon as well as the installation of officers and other business.

Resolutions were submitted on "Banning of recitation of prayer and the reading of the Bible in the public schools" by the Supreme Court.

The next annual session is scheduled next September in Butler, said the newly-elected state president.

Local Boy Hit By Car, Hospitalized

An eight-year-old local boy sustained a possible fractured skull yesterday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile at the intersection of North Centre and Valley streets.

Stephen Polk, son of Rev. and Mrs. John C. Polk, 324 North Centre Street, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital, where his condition last night was reported as "satisfactory."

City Police Officer Paul Malcolm said the accident at 3:59 p. m. was unavoidable. Driver of the car was Carol E. Reith of 339 Bedford Street.

He said the woman was traveling west on Valley Street when the boy darted into the path of the car at the intersection of North Centre Street.

Officer Frank Valentine assisted in the investigation of the accident.

Public School Enrollment Is Up 172 Pupils

First Report Lists 16, 732

First enrollment figures on Allegany County public schools for the 1963-64 school year total 16,732 pupils, an increase of 172 above the first report a year ago, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel.

The largest class county-wide on the basis of the first enrollment figures is the high school junior class with 1585. The smallest is the fourth grade with 1244.

Some 1309 seniors were counted in the first enrollment making this graduating class the largest in the history of the county public school system. Dropouts among high school seniors are considered relatively light. A year ago the present senior class, then juniors, had 1390, 81 more than the seniors of today.

The largest decrease in any one area was in the East End of Cumberland.

As the new school year starts there are 1404 first graders. A year ago the first grade had 1353.

Elementary schools of Allegany County have opened the new year with 7,795 pupils, with an additional 212 pupils receiving help in special programs. Junior high school enrollment totals 4,287. The total senior high school enrollment is 4,438.

September 1963 enrollment by grades:

First, 1404; second, 1292; third, 1275; fourth, 1244; fifth, 1257; sixth, 1323; seventh, 1381; eighth, 1363; ninth, 1543; tenth, 1544; eleventh, 1585, and twelfth, 1309.

Last September's enrollment was as follows:

First grade, 1353; second, 1301; third, 1280; fourth, 1288; fifth, 1345; sixth, 1331; seventh, 1340; eighth, 1490; ninth, 1581; tenth, 1669; eleventh, 1390, and twelfth, 1009.

Man Held For Jury In Larceny

Walter Babb Clevenger, formerly of Keyser, yesterday was ordered held for action of the October term of the Allegany County grand jury in the breaking and entering and larceny at a local tavern earlier this month.

Clevenger was given a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Harold E. Naughton who set bond at $500 for Clevenger's appearance in court. He was jailed in default of bond but indicated he would seek an immediate trial.

Clevenger was charged with breaking into a North Centre Street tavern and taking items valued at $185.

City Police Detective Captain James E. Van investigated the case and Deputy State's Attorney Donald W. Mason presented the state's case at the preliminary hearing.

Memorial Bond Issue Sold At 3 Per Cent

The City of Cumberland yesterday sold its $500,000 Memorial Hospital Improvement Bonds of 1963 at an interest rate of three per cent.

The rate for the hospital bond issue was one per cent less than paid for the last issue—the Cumberland Thruway Bonds of 1959.

The bonds were sold to a syndicate managed by Alex. Brown and son, Baltimore, which submitted an average bid of 2.9997 per cent on the issue which will be repaid in 15 years. Interest costs will total $150,135.

Also bidding, at costs ranging from 3.0578171 to 3.1991 by Robert Garrett and Sons, Baltimore, and, bidding as a group, Baker-Watts and Company and Stein Brothers and Boyce.

City officials expressed themselves as well-pleased with the successful bid. Estimates had ranged from 3⅛ per cent to 3¾ per cent.

A. B. Callmus, who is with the Frederick office of Alex. Brown and Sons, congratulated the Mayor and Council for its fine credit standing which, he added is "very high," he said.

Paul E. Rodecap, city comptroller, was advised by one of the unsuccessful bidders that the credit rating organization of Standard and Poors has given the City of Cumberland a "Double A" rating which is one of the reasons such an excellent rate was given on the issue. Previously, the city had an "A" rating.

While the successful bid was 2.9997 per cent, costs involved will make it average out to 3 per cent and a motion by Finance Commissioner Frederick J. Hill to establish the three per cent rate was passed unanimously by council.

'Y' Expands Activities For Boys

The physical education program for boys at Central YMCA has been expanded this fall, according to YMCA officials.

Both the gymnasium and swimming pool were refinished this month and the playground adjoining the YMCA has been landscaped and fenced in to provide more space for outdoor activities during periods of warm weather.

Programs which were added to the "Y" schedule this fall are the package swim program co-ed beginners swim, co-ed gymnastics, synchronized swimming and intramural sports.

There will be three designated groups for boys this season. These include the Cadet Division for boys eight and nine who have gym periods on Mondays and Saturdays. The Preps for boys 10 and 11 who have classes on Wednesdays and Saturdays and the Junior Hi for those older boys who have programs on Tuesdays and Saturdays.

Several swimming activities are planned which include basic instruction to advanced swimming and junior and senior life saving courses.

The rec program also will include the Midget Basketball League, Sunday School Basketball League and the Mason-Dixon Swimming League which will meet regularly during the winter months.

Special Saturday programs will be offered again on Saturdays. These will include regular gym and swim classes, movies, archery, air rifle and art sketching. This phase will begin September 21.

Boys interested in participating in any part of the YMCA's program should visit the "Y" or call PA 4-5445 or additional information.

Freight House Leased By Kelly For Storage

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has leased its freight house here to the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company for the storage of tires.

The agreement for the use of the facility includes a 15-day cancellation clause, a B & O spokesman said.

The B & O here needs only a limited amount of space in the freight house since interstate business of less than carload lots was discontinued several weeks ago by the carrier, with the exception of shipments of 2½ tons or more which do not require freight house handling.

Public Building Program Listed By Planners

Need For Municipal Complex Predicted

Proposals for the construction of three new or additional municipal buildings or groups of buildings by 1980 are included in the Public Buildings section of the Land, Use and Community Facilities Plan.

The plan has been prepared by Stein and Marcou Associates for the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

The planners note that the need for replacement of obsolete and deteriorating facilities and anticipated growth in municipal services and space requirements will necessitate:

List Three Needs

A new garage and warehouse for servicing of municipal vehicles and the storage of equipment and supplies.

A new fire substation in the vicinity of Williams Street and Louisiana Avenue.

A central municipal complex which would include new municipal offices, central fire and police facilities and space or land for semi-public facilities.

The report notes that the present Street Department warehouse located off North Lee Street is obsolete and does not provide adequate space for servicing vehicles or storing equipment and supplies.

Storage facilities of the sewer department and the flood control crew are located in arches under the B & O Viaduct and that the space will be needed for the widening of Mechanic Street.

Site Is Adequate

All of the facilities, the planning report recommends, should be relocated to provide efficiency in terms of service and space.

The present site of the Street Department warehouse, which also serves for storage of recreation equipment, is large enough to accommodate adequate new facilities. An alternate site which could serve the city's needs would be in the proposed South Cumberland Urban Renewal Project area between Maryland Avenue and the B & O tracks.

Suggests Sites

On the subject of the fifth fire station, the planners noted that the National Board of Fire Underwriters has recommended that the station be located in the Williams Street-Louisiana Avenue area.

Since this is a significant growth area, the station will definitely be needed by 1980, the planners said.

They said the city should take steps to acquire property for the substation before it becomes impossible to find a proper vacant site.

The report noted that a few possible sites are still available on Louisiana Avenue and that an alternate site might be found on Williams Street in the vicinity of Winifred Road.

Complex Urged

The planners predict that by 1980, additional space for municipal facilities will be required, and that the demand for expanded municipal services and the replacement of obsolete facilities such as the central fire and police facilities are indicators of the need.

The report said it is desirable that the new central municipal complex be located in the vicinity of the present City Hall which can, if needed, be further utilized for both civic and cultural activities.

To provide adequate floor space for offices, fire station and police department, the report said, from 25,000 to 30,000 square feet of space will be needed.

The planners suggested that the land for these future municipal facilities be provided when the General Neighborhood Renewal Plan for the center of the city is prepared.

CUF Golden Gifts Drive Launched

Carson Dowell, executive vice president of Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, and Robert Hunter, procurement administrator at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, co-chairmen of the Golden Gifts Division, and Tom Hamilton, co-captain for Fort Hill. $33,475 of the division's $125,000 goal was pledged.

1963 Building In County Now Tops $3,000,000

56 New Permits Issued In August

Estimated cost of construction authorized in the unincorporated areas of Allegany County since the start of 1963 edged past the $3,000,000 mark in August when 56 building permits and zoning certificates were approved by C. Lee Renaud, county planning director, for construction estimated by the conservative builders at $341,380.

Both totals are above the levels of July when only 38 permits valued at $229,530 were approved. However, they are well below the levels of August 1962 when 83 permits were obtained and the estimated cost of construction reached $503,142.

347 Permits This Year

With the first two-thirds of 1963 gone, some 347 building permits have been issued for construction estimated to total $3,236,505. In the first eight months a year ago there were 452 permits and the total cost of construction was $3,716,589.

After eight months, there are 105 fewer building permits and the estimated cost of construction is $480,084 below the level of a year ago.

Last month was fourth among the 1963 months in the number of building permits issued but fifth in total estimated cost of construction. Last August's 83 permits was 1962's peak total but the estimated cost of construction lagged in fifth place.

The August building permits authorized work in 20 different election districts of the county. Leader was District 7, Cresaptown-Rawlings, with eight while District 29, LaVale, was just behind with seven permits.

Three districts last month had four building permits each. They were District 5, North End suburban; District 6, West Side suburban, and District 16, North Branch.

Many Districts Involved

Other districts with more than one August permit included Districts 1, Frostburg suburban, and 31, McCoole, three each; Districts 2, Oldtown; 3, Flintstone; 8, Westernport suburban; 9, Barton; 13, Mt. Savage; 18, Midland; 19, Borden Shaft; 21, Gross; 22, East Side suburban; and 30, Zihlman, two each.

Election districts with a single August building permit included Districts 23, East Side suburban; 24, Eckhart, and 26, Frostburg suburban.

Twenty-two of the August building permits issued by Mr. Renaud were for new dwellings. Others included 10 for dwelling additions and alterations, 10 for garages, three each for carports, barns and dwelling foundations, one hunting lodge, one building for farm machinery, one storage shed, one apartment building and one permit for conversion of an office to a dwelling.

Most costly of the projects authorized last month is the $60,000 apartment building to be built on Midlothian Road, Election District 26, by Jesse Fuller and Son.

Monthly totals for building permits for 1962:

January — 20 and $222,145; February — 28 and $625,700; March — 24 and $233,850; April — 63 and $593,325; May — 81 and $667,550; June 82 and $559,525; July — 71 and $311,352; and August — 83 and $503,142.

Monthly building permits totals for 1963:

January — 15 and $74,577; February — 18 and $171,500; March — 29 and $1,180,585; April — 70 and $384,845; May — 63 and $395,318; June — 58 and $458,770; July — 38 and $229,530; August — 56 and $341,380.

A. B. LAUDERBAUGH

Gas Executive Will Speak At Dinner Event

New Teachers To Be Recognized

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the Third Annual Teacher Recognition Dinner next Wednesday, September 18, at 6:30 p. m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

All new teachers in the Allegany County school system have been invited, along with supervisory and administrative personnel.

Albert B. Lauderbaugh, assistant vice president of research and development for the Pittsburgh Group companies of the Columbia Gas System, will be the principal speaker.

By profession a chemical engineer, Mr. Lauderbaugh is a graduate of Bucknell University and holds graduate degrees from Cornell and Columbia universities, including a Ph.D. in chemistry from Cornell.

Is Lecturer

He has long been active in graduate seminar lecturing for a number of colleges and universities. His major topics have included petroleum and natural gas engineering, mathematics, economics, and engineering in business administration.

Mr. Lauderbaugh is a 35-year veteran of the natural gas industry. He joined the Columbia Gas System in 1928 and became associated with the Pittsburgh Group Companies, including Columbia Gas of Maryland, in 1929.

The dinner will climax the observance of Teacher Recognition Day which will be sponsored by the Chamber with the cooperation of 22 business and industrial firms of the area.

Plans are being made by the Chamber's education committee, whose chairman, William A. Howard, said its purpose is to welcome new teachers of the county school system "to let them know we are happy to have them with us, to stress the importance of the job the teachers are doing and let them know the community stands ready to be of assistance."

To Be Honored

It is expected that 56 new teachers will attend the meeting, together with other school personnel and business and industrial leaders.

Cooperating in the program will be the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, Columbia Gas of Maryland, the C & P Telephone Company, Celanese Fibers Company, Cumberland Brewing Company, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, First-Second National Bank and Trust Company, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, the Liberty Trust Company, Montgomery Ward, National Jet, Potomac Edison Company, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, Queen City Brewing Company, Rosenbaum's, Sear's Roebuck and Company, Sacred Heart Hospital, G. C. Murphy Company, Western Maryland Railway, Cumberland Lenders Association, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and Schmidt Baking Company.

Antique Car Group Plans Meeting Here

Downtown Parade Planned Saturday

Members of the Shenandoah Region of the Antique Automobile Club of America will display their vintage automobiles during a parade of Downtown Cumberland Saturday.

Sponsored by the Downtown Cumberland Merchants Association, the parade is being staged by the club in connection with its annual "fall out" meet which will be held here Saturday and Sunday under the sponsorship of the recently organized Queen City Chapter.

The fall meeting of the regional unit which includes members from Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia, has been held in Winchester, Va., in recent years.

More than 40 antique cars are registered for the outing and officials here expect the list to reach 60 by Saturday.

Open House Set

Activities will begin with an open house at the home of Mr. and Highway, LaVale, from 10 a. m. to noon for early arrivals.

The two-day meeting will open with registration at the Queen City Brewing Company at 11:30 a. m. Box lunches will be served there at 12:30 p. m.

Drivers, with their ladies, will leave the brewery at 1:30 p. m. for the parade, officially set for 2 p. m.

The vehicles will drive down Mechanic Street to Baltimore, up Baltimore to George, to Harrison, to South Centre, to Frederick and then out Frederick Street to Minke's Cottage Inn, where the "fall out" activities will take place.

Featured at the outing will be two contests the first a see-saw, a test of skill in which the driver tries to balance his vehicle on a ramp resting on a log, and the second a blindfolded drive, directed by a co-pilot, over a course in which turns are marked by balloon-bearing poles.

An awards banquet will be served at Minke's at 7 p.m. and will be followed by a dance at 9 p.m.

Sunday's activities will include a dutch-style breakfast at the LaVale Shopping Center from 9 to 10 a.m., followed by a visit to the old Cumberland Road toll gate house.

Officials of the Allegany County Historical Society will serve as hosts at the toll house visit.

Activities chairman in charge of the meet is J. Brooke Fradiska.

The following committees will assist him: greeting and registration, David T. Davis and Donald M. Barnoff; parking, Neil Furlow and Milnor Roberts; social, Kenneth M. Rinehart, Gareth D. Buchholtz, John P. Getz and Roy C. Lee.

Contests, W. M. Wilson, Robert C. Harden, Kenneth L. Wagoner, and Raymond Tighe; banquet, Benjamin R. Sansom and Neil Furlow.

Antique cars registered for the meet include a 1911 Hupmobile roadster, 1914 Ford touring, 1915 Ford, 1923 Overland roadster, 1922 Marmon touring, 1925 Chevrolet sports coupe, 1927 Dodge coupe, 1921 Ford touring, 1927 Studebaker and 1930 Model A station wagon.

POSA Session Held At Ellerslie Hall

Other officers include G. Allen Cook, Ellerslie, vice president; Irving Naylor, Butler, master of forms; David Miller, Ellerslie, conductor; Ralph T. Krampf, Ellerslie, inspector; William A. DeVore, Ellerslie, guard; Isaac Kallinsky, Baltimore, secretary; John E. Effland, city, treasurer; Q. E. Weant, Baltimore, assistant secretary and Rev. J. L. Tenney, pastor of the EUB Church, Ellerslie, chaplain.

The officers were installed by Charles F. Wisler of Ellerslie, past state president.

Reports of committees, nomination of officers and appointment of committees were included in the morning session and memorial services for deceased members were held during the afternoon as well as the installation of officers and other business.

Resolutions were submitted on "Banning of recitation of prayer and the reading of the Bible in the public schools" by the Supreme Court.

The next annual session is scheduled next September in Butler, said the newly-elected state president.

Local Boy Hit By Car, Hospitalized

An eight-year-old local boy sustained a possible fractured skull yesterday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile at the intersection of North Centre and Valley streets.

Stephen Polk, son of Rev. and Mrs. John C. Polk, 324 North Centre Street, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital, where his condition last night was reported as "satisfactory."

City Police Officer Paul Malcolm said the accident at 3:59 p. m. was unavoidable. Driver of the car was Carol E. Reith of 339 Bedford Street.

He said the woman was traveling west on Valley Street when the boy darted into the path of the car at the intersection of North Centre Street.

Officer Frank Valentine assisted in the investigation of the accident.

Public School Enrollment Is Up 172 Pupils

First Report Lists 16, 732

First enrollment figures on Allegany County public schools for the 1963-64 school year total 16,732 pupils, an increase of 172 above the first report a year ago, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel.

The largest class county-wide on the basis of the first enrollment figures is the high school junior class with 1585. The smallest is the fourth grade with 1244.

Some 1309 seniors were counted in the first enrollment making this graduating class the largest in the history of the county public school system. Dropouts among high school seniors are considered relatively light. A year ago the present senior class, then juniors, had 1390, 81 more than the seniors of today.

The largest decrease in any one area was in the East End of Cumberland.

As the new school year starts there are 1404 first graders. A year ago the first grade had 1353.

Elementary schools of Allegany County have opened the new year with 7,795 pupils, with an additional 212 pupils receiving help in special programs. Junior high school enrollment totals 4,287. The total senior high school enrollment is 4,438.

September 1963 enrollment by grades:

First, 1404; second, 1292; third, 1275; fourth, 1244; fifth, 1257; sixth, 1323; seventh, 1381; eighth, 1363; ninth, 1543; tenth, 1544; eleventh, 1585, and twelfth, 1309.

Last September's enrollment was as follows:

First grade, 1353; second, 1301; third, 1280; fourth, 1288; fifth, 1345; sixth, 1331; seventh, 1340; eighth, 1490; ninth, 1581; tenth, 1669; eleventh, 1390, and twelfth, 1009.

Man Held For Jury In Larceny

Walter Babb Clevenger, formerly of Keyser, yesterday was ordered held for action of the October term of the Allegany County grand jury in the breaking and entering and larceny at a local tavern earlier this month.

Clevenger was given a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Harold E. Naughton who set bond at $500 for Clevenger's appearance in court. He was jailed in default of bond but indicated he would seek an immediate trial.

Clevenger was charged with breaking into a North Centre Street tavern and taking items valued at $185.

City Police Detective Captain James E. Van investigated the case and Deputy State's Attorney Donald W. Mason presented the state's case at the preliminary hearing.

Memorial Bond Issue Sold At 3 Per Cent

The City of Cumberland yesterday sold its $500,000 Memorial Hospital Improvement Bonds of 1963 at an interest rate of three per cent.

The rate for the hospital bond issue was one per cent less than paid for the last issue—the Cumberland Thruway Bonds of 1959.

The bonds were sold to a syndicate managed by Alex. Brown and son, Baltimore, which submitted an average bid of 2.9997 per cent on the issue which will be repaid in 15 years. Interest costs will total $150,135.

Also bidding, at costs ranging from 3.0578171 to 3.1991 by Robert Garrett and Sons, Baltimore, and, bidding as a group, Baker-Watts and Company and Stein Brothers and Boyce.

City officials expressed themselves as well-pleased with the successful bid. Estimates had ranged from 3⅛ per cent to 3¾ per cent.

A. B. Callmus, who is with the Frederick office of Alex. Brown and Sons, congratulated the Mayor and Council for its fine credit standing which, he added is "very high," he said.

Paul E. Rodecap, city comptroller, was advised by one of the unsuccessful bidders that the credit rating organization of Standard and Poors has given the City of Cumberland a "Double A" rating which is one of the reasons such an excellent rate was given on the issue. Previously, the city had an "A" rating.

While the successful bid was 2.9997 per cent, costs involved will make it average out to 3 per cent and a motion by Finance Commissioner Frederick J. Hill to establish the three per cent rate was passed unanimously by council.

Permit Is Issued For New School

The City of Cumberland yesterday issued a building permit for the construction of the new North End Junior High School.

The permit for the $1,767,000 structure which will be erected at Holland and Franklin streets was secured by the George Construction Company.

The fee for the permit was waived by the Mayor and Council at the request of the Board of Education.

'Y' Expands Activities For Boys

The physical education program for boys at Central YMCA has been expanded this fall, according to YMCA officials.

Both the gymnasium and swimming pool were refinished this month and the playground adjoining the YMCA has been landscaped and fenced in to provide more space for outdoor activities during periods of warm weather.

Programs which were added to the "Y" schedule this fall are the package swim program co-ed beginners swim, co-ed gymnastics, synchronized swimming and intramural sports.

There will be three designated groups for boys this season. These include the Cadet Division for boys eight and nine who have gym periods on Mondays and Saturdays. The Preps for boys 10 and 11 who have classes on Wednesdays and Saturdays and the Junior Hi for those older boys who have programs on Tuesdays and Saturdays.

Several swimming activities are planned which include basic instruction to advanced swimming and junior and senior life saving courses.

The rec program also will include the Midget Basketball League, Sunday School Basketball League and the Mason-Dixon Swimming League which will meet regularly during the winter months.

Special Saturday programs will be offered again on Saturdays. These will include regular gym and swim classes, movies, archery, air rifle and art sketching. This phase will begin September 21.

Boys interested in participating in any part of the YMCA's program should visit the "Y" or call PA 4-5445 or additional information.

Galen Beeman's Pigeon Wins 175-Mile Flight

Shark from the Town View Loft of Galen Beeman won the third young bird race of the Allegany Racing Pigeon Club, a 175-mile flight from Athens, Ohio, by averaging 1212.56 yards per minute.

Some 26 pigeons out of 257 which were placed in competition were clocked from 13 lofts. The morning was foggy and calm.

A second bird from Mr. Beeman's loft, Butterfly, was second with an average speed of 1211.36 yards per minute.

Other pigeons in the top 10 were Oar Floor from Oak Manor Loft of J. A. Hercsuth, third, 1209.5 yards per minute; Red Oak, also from Hercsuth's loft, fourth, 1208 yards; Smitty from Wing Ridge Loft of R. L. Spiker, fifth, 1205.83 yards; Art from Woodland Loft of Irvin Buskirk, sixth, 1205.13 yards; John, also from Wing Ridge Loft, seventh, 1205.1 yards; Happy, also from Woodland Loft, eighth, 1204.3 yards; Bargain from Gollo Loft of C. O. Buskirk, ninth, 1204.26 yards, and Salacia from Excello Loft of M. M. Green, tenth, 1203.7 yards.

The next race will be flown from Athens again next Sunday.

Two Local Girls Enroll In College

Two local girls will be among the 247 new students who will enroll this fall at Western Maryland College, Westminster.

They are Jacquelynn M. Bland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bland, 210 Arch Street, and Judith Ann Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Price, Avenue S, Potomac Park.

Miss Bland is a 1963 graduate of Fort Hill High School, and Miss Price graduated in June from Allegany High School.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wakeman, Bedford, Pa., announce the birth of a daughter Sunday at the Bedford County Memorial Hospital. The mother is the former Jean Bird, daughter of Mrs. James Brode, 463 Baltimore Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Murray, Baltimore, announce the birth of a daughter there yesterday in St. Joseph's Hospital. The maternal grandfather is Vincent Weimer, Frostburg, and the paternal grandmother is Mrs. Ida Murray, Valley Road.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Pope, RD 1, Mt. Savage, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Clark Jr., 320 Fayette Street, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Lantzy, 214 South Smallwood Street, a son Monday.

Freight House Leased By Kelly For Storage

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has leased its freight house here to the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company for the storage of tires.

The agreement for the use of the facility includes a 15-day cancellation clause, a B & O spokesman said.

The B & O here needs only a limited amount of space in the freight house since interstate business of less than carload lots was discontinued several weeks ago by the carrier, with the exception of shipments of 2½ tons or more which do not require freight house handling.

'Y' To Sponsor Trip To Va.

Central YMCA will sponsor a bus trip to the Luray (Va.) Caverns Saturday, according to Benjamin F. Haines, program secretary.

Mr. Haines said the bus will leave the YMCA at 9 a. m. and 50 children and any interested parents may take the trip.

It will include a tour of the caverns, an exposition of old cars at Zoorma Park and a bus ride along Skyline Drive.

The cost of the trip will include transportation and the tour through the caverns. However, children are urged to take money for their lunch and supper. The bus is expected to return at 9 p. m.

Reservations may be made by contacting Mr. Haines at the "Y" or by calling PA 4-5445.

Club To Hear Singers

Janie Runion and Sandy Serf, students at Allegany High School, will sing several folk songs at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club tomorrow at noon at Central YMCA.

Bishop Walsh Reported Ill In Red China

Bishop James Walsh of Cumberland is reported ill in a Chinese Communist prison, according to a Reuters dispatch in the Baltimore Evening Sun yesterday.

The dispatch stated Raymond Scheyven, former Belgian Minister for Economic Affairs, said that while in Shanghai he was refused permission to visit Bishop Walsh because Chinese authorities said he was sick.

Bishop Walsh was arrested in 1958 and convicted of espionage and sabotage in 1960. He is presently serving a 20-year sentence.

Violations Charged

Paul T. Beckwith, city, has been summoned to appear in Police Court today at 2 p. m. in connection with two violations of the City Code.

City Police Detective Captain James E. Van, who arrested Beckwith, said the man conducted a pawnbroker's business without a license and didn't report to the chief of police in conducting the business. Detective Harry Iser assisted in the man's arrest.

Brush Fire Quenched

A pile of brush and stumps which was burning last night at 1007 Brown Avenue was extinguished by firemen of West Side Station who got a call at 8:25 p. m.

Hay Thief Fined $50

Albert W. Ryan, 24, of Midland, yesterday was fined $50 and given a suspended sentence in the theft of five tons of hay from a farm near Woodland in July.

Magistrate Leslie J. Clark gave Ryan a 60-day suspended jail sentence and ordered the Midland man to restore 244 bales of hay to the owners of the farm where the hay was stolen.

Ryan also was ordered by the court to make restitution of $100 to the man who purchased the stolen hay.

County Investigator William F. Baker presented the state's evidence at the hearing yesterday.

A "town meeting" will be held by the Cumberland branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People today at 7 p. m. at McKendree Methodist Church, Paca Street. A round table discussion on housing and jobs will be conducted.

Physical Fitness Group Planning Goals For Year

The Allegany County Physical Fitness Commission is in process of planning its goals for the 1963-64 season.

John J. Long is chairman of the commission which had its first meeting of the season Monday night at Central YMCA. A number of projects are being planned to promote physical fitness among the children and adults of Allegany County. Details on some of these projects are expected within a month.

Among those who attended Monday night's session were Mr. Long, George A. Caswell, Dr. Thomas F. Lewis, Robert E. Pence, Lynn M. Patchin, Robert M. Williams, Robert G. Garner, Kenneth Babcock, Mrs. Lenore K. Auker and Mrs. Henrietta N. Snyder.

SRC Paving Job To Begin Soon

The resurfacing of Braddock Road and U. S. Route 220 is expected to begin within the next 10 days, according to John D. Bushby, District 6 engineer.

The Cumberland Contracting Company has been notified by the State Roads Commission that its bid of $54,000 was low.

The contract will include the resurfacing of 2.5 miles of Braddock Road from the city line west and of 3.7 miles of Route 220, from the city limits to the state line.
